MOVE TO LIGHTEN TAX BILLS

RIOTS RAGE IN GERMANY OVER HUNGER DECREE

Police Battle Mobs in Five Cities.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 10.—Serious rioting, in which at least one person was killed, many injured and many more arrested, broke out in several parts of Germany tonight in protest against the government's emergency measures, decreed last Saturday, boosting taxes and cutting wages and doles to the unemployed.

A policeman was killed during a demonstration by jobless crowds at Kassel. Police reserves, called out to quell the demonstrators, who were shouting "Down with Bruening, the hunger dictator," were met by a volley of shots from the rioters, while fewer pots and beer mugs were hurled at the police from windows.

Street Barricades in Streets.

At Mannheim unemployed crowds erected barricades in the streets and exchanged shots with the police. About twenty persons were wounded. The demonstration was incited by communist speakers at a mass meeting. In many cities smashed street lights and torn up pavements. The demonstrations died when heavy reinforcements of police charged the barricades.

In Hamburg a mob of unemployed tried to storm the town hall, but was driven back by police. About 100 broke through the police cordon. They were permitted to address the town council and were then ejected.

At Frankfort-on-Main many persons were arrested when crowds marched through the streets shouting "Down with Bruening." Similar demonstrations were put down at Gelsenkirchen. Several arrests were made when the rioters began smashing shop windows.

Riot Jeers at Bruening.

Berlin today hundreds of Fascisti and communists, yelling "Down with the hunger dictator," tried to stage a demonstration against Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius when they arrived in Berlin from their confer[illegible] with Prime Minister MacDonald and other British leaders at Chequers, England. Police cleared the mob out of the station and the shouts of the radicals were drowned out by the cheers of thousands who welcomed the German statesmen home.

With the German government chiefs were Ambassador and Mrs. Frederic M. Sackett, just returned from America. Chancellor Bruening and Dr. Curtius conferred extensively with Ambassador Sackett, with whom they crossed from Southampton to Bremen on the Europa. They came to Berlin by special train.

Defend Emergency Decrees.

The two German cabinet ministers immediately went to the chancellery to confer with other cabinet ministers over the storm which has arisen in Germany over the emergency measures. The Socialists threaten to withdraw their passive support, which is the mainstay of the government, unless it alters the measures and shifts the new tax burdens from the working masses to the richer classes.

The government has promised to consider all suggestions to change the measures, provided the other parties help collect the sums needed to balance the budget. Following these promises the Socialists opposed the action of the Fascisti, communists and nationalists for a convocation of the reichstag at today's meeting of the council of elders.

Public Dumps Holdings.

The financial worries of the government have been increased by the nervousness of the public, which is selling its holdings because rumors have spread that the Reichsbank is compelled to make large shipments of gold to England, France, and Switzerland to help the German exchange rate.

The Reichsbank today announced that gold shipments are within normal limits, but the public was skeptical and German stocks slumped heavily.

Leaders of German industrialist and bankers blame part of the present financial crisis on the Bank for International Settlements at Basel, which was created by the Young plan. The industrialist paper, Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, today openly attacked the world bank for allowing itself to "degenerate into a mere branch office of the Bank of France," instead of accomplishing the constructive work intrusted to it by the Young plan of safeguarding German credit and activating international trade.

VOTE PROFIT SHARING INSTEAD OF SALARY FOR NEW PRESIDENT

Boston, June 10.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Gillette Safety Razor company voted today in favor of a profit sharing contract with the company's new president, Gerard P. Lambert, instead of paying him a salary.

Issuance of 60,000 additional common shares, of which 50,000 may eventually go to Lambert, was authorized. If the net profit in any year should reach or exceed $5 on the common stock, Lambert will receive 20,000 shares in payment. At the present market value of the common stock this would be worth $460,000. If in the same year or any other year the earnings reach $6 on the common, Lambert would receive 20,000 more shares.

The third block of 20,000 shares was voted held in reserve. Ten thousand shares may go to Lambert and the other 10,000 may be divided among the directors and other officers of the company as the stockholders subsequently determine.

TAKEN FOR RIDE, SHOT 3 TIMES, TOSSED IN DITCH

Dominick Latronico, 20 years old, 6934 South Wood street, was taken for a ride last night by two men who tossed him from their automobile into a ditch at 107th street a mile east of Archer avenue after shooting him three times. He was found unconscious a few minutes later by Willis Miller, 443 East 78th street, a passing motorist.

Miller called the county highway police at Willow Springs. Deputy Sheriffs Max Altman and Ted Sevinarski took the wounded man to the Little Company of Mary hospital in Evergreen Park. Latronico had been shot twice in the head and once in the body. He is expected to die.

In almost incoherent statements Latronico said he knew no reason for the attack. He said two men forced him to get into an automobile at 68th and Wood streets as he was on the way to his home. One of the men he identified as a neighborhood hoodlum, known to him only as Ed.

Records of the bureau of identification revealed Latronico had been placed on probation by Municipal Judge Francis Allegretti on Oct. 2, 1929, for the theft of an automobile.

Judge Hartigan Does His Bit for the Sanitary Life

The dull routine of a hearing in Judge Matthew D. Hartigan's Felony court was abruptly interrupted yesterday when the judge suddenly jumped from his chair, reached under his desk, seized a newspaper, wound up like Charley Root preparing to pitch a fast one, and brought the paper down on his desk with a resounding smack. As the court spectators gasped and looked upon this scene with wide eyed surprise, the judge explained: "Just a cockroach. Please go on with the case."

Sex Decides on Happiness of Marriages

Philadelphia, Pa., June 10.—[Special.]—An analysis of the married life of 1,000 cultured American women, which showed that 50 per cent have an unhappy family life, and this in most cases due to sex conditions, was presented to the American Medical association at its convention here today by Dr. Robert L. Dickinson of New York.

"These 1,000 women," Dr. Dickinson said, "were what may be called the cultural American type. They are urban, of good family background and education, married to professional men of moderate income, each with one or two children.

"They were considered socially normal in the ordinary relationship of work and life.

Typical Wives Reply.

"When the widows, the divorced and the recently wed were excluded, 770 remained as typical wives. Answers to questions about happiness were distributed about 50-50. Three hundred and sixty-five made no complaints, 30 were uncertain, while 375 said definitely they were dissatisfied."

As to the causes for unhappiness, Dr. Dickinson said, he found that complaints about relatives-in-law, money, work and management of children and the home were usually secondary. The primary cause appeared to be related to more intimate sex relations of married life, due to taboos and fears implanted by religious and educational training or lack of training in childhood and adolescence.

Dr. Dickinson added that he considered he had dependable evidence that every woman had the capacity for married happiness, but that it depended on her early life and environment whether this capacity would eventuate in serenity or in frustration.

15,000 Have Jake Paralysis.

About 15,000 persons in the United States are suffering from the new disease known as "jake paralysis," caused by drinking Jamaica ginger adulterated with a poison known as triorpho-cresyl phosphate, the section on mental and nervous diseases of the association was told by Drs. Benjamin T. Burley and Raymond H. Goodale of Worcester, Mass. A conservative estimate of the monetary damage, they said, was more than $500,000,000.

The disease was described as having a paralyzing effect on the legs and hands. In most cases a recovery was made in about six months, although there were cases on record where the paralysis lasted for eighteen months.

FALLING "METEOR" SIGHTED NEAR TWO NEW YORK CITIES

Utica, N. Y., June 10.—(AP)—Several Uticans tonight reported they had seen what appeared to be a meteor falling south of the city at about 8:40 o'clock. Most of them described it as a large red ball, falling from high in the heavens and leaving a long trail of white, resembling smoke, with sparks mingled.

Some of those who saw it said the ball itself appeared to be about a foot in diameter and its trail about four feet long. They said it appeared to be falling several miles from the city.

Sighted at Syracuse.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 10.—(AP)—Scores of persons in Syracuse and vicinity were started by a streak of brilliance in the sky tonight.

One woman declared the "fire ball" exploded like a skyrocket, and a few of the persons who called the office of the Syracuse Post-Standard to ask about the display expressed the belief they had seen an airplane falling in flames.

CHAS. E. GOODELL, EDUCATOR, DIES IN AUTO WRECK

Dr. Charles E. Goodell, 69 years old, 5612 Blackstone avenue, well known educator, the head of two teachers' agencies, was killed and three other persons were injured, two of them critically, last night, when the automobile in which they were returning to Chicago from Springfield was struck by another car and overturned on route 4, sixteen miles north of Bloomington.

The injured are Henry D. Hughes, 1401 Hudson avenue, director of the Clark & Brewer Teachers' agency, 64 East Jackson boulevard; Miss Jennie Eddy, manager of Aznoe's Central Registry for Nurses, 30 North Michigan avenue, and Miss Anne J. Guthrie, 4717 Kenmore avenue, of the Guthrie Nurses' registry. Hughes and Miss Eddy suffered skull fractures. Miss Guthrie escaped with minor bruises. All were taken to the Mennonite hospital in Bloomington.

Dr. Goodell and the three others had been in Springfield for legislative hearings on a bill to regulate employment agencies.

Dr. Goodell served as president of Franklin college, Indianapolis, from 1917 to 1926. Since then he had been president of the Fisk Teachers' agency at 28 East Jackson boulevard and the American College Bureau at 310 South Michigan avenue. He went to Franklin college in 1917 from Denison university at Granville, O.

OUTLYING BANKS SHOW STRENGTH; LOOP AIDS THEM

Six Are Closed, but Situation Eases.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Although bank closings continued in Chicago yesterday, they were less numerous than on Tuesday, and officials of the outlying banks in neighborhoods where uneasiness has been felt reported a slackening of depositors' withdrawals. In particular, an improved situation was reported among the south side banks which had been affected by the closing of the twelve Bain banks.

MELVIN A. TRAYLOR.

The great downtown banks, with their combined resources of more than two and a half billion dollars, again did yeoman service in helping the outlying banks which were encountering unusual withdrawals of deposits. Money wagons from the loop institutions and from the Chicago federal reserve banks carried millions of dollars in cash to different neighborhood banks. And they gave assurance that many more millions would be made available if necessary.

Traylor Gives Assurance.

As one example of the assistance being afforded by the big loop institutions, Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National-First Union Trust group, offered complete reassurance to the depositors of the Chicago City Bank and Trust company, 815 West 63d street, a $17,000,000 institution which encountered a "run."

"We have promised to loan the bank enough money to pay every one of its depositors tomorrow, if they insist," Mr. Traylor announced. "We know the assets are absolutely sound and worth far more than the deposits and we know the management is competent."

Reynolds Assures Support.

Arthur Reynolds, chairman of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company, also assured support for outlying institutions.

"We are supporting the outlying banks to the fullest extent consistent with sound banking and we will continue to do so," he said. "We have sent out millions of dollars in the last few days and stand ready to send out additional millions, should they be needed. It is a curious thing that some of the strongest neighborhood banks in Chicago have been subjected to heavy withdrawals. But conditions today appear to be improving and there are signs that uneasiness is lessening."

Six Closed During Day.

Six outlying banks were closed by State Auditor Oscar Nelson yesterday. They were the following:

Second Northwestern State bank, 2956 Milwaukee avenue.

Cragin State bank, Grand and Armitage avenues.

Lincoln State bank, 3105 South State street.

West Town State bank, 2400 Madison street.

The suspension of the Northwestern Trust was an aftermath of the absorption of the Foreman-State banks on Monday. This outlying bank had been affiliated with the Foreman-State bank and was "orphaned" when the downtown institution was taken over by the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company group.

Deposits of $20,000,000.

The six institutions that suspended were reported to have combined deposits of about $20,000,000. The Northwestern Trust reported deposits of $14,600,000 on March 25, the West Town State bank had around $4,600,000, and the Second Northwestern State, about $3,150,000.

These totals, however, have shrunk considerably since then. The Italian Trust yesterday was reported to have present deposits of about $800,000, the Cragin State of $700,000, and the Lincoln State of less than $300,000.

The Northwestern Trust has capital and surplus of $1,600,000; the West Town State, $900,000; the Second Northwestern State, $500,000; the Lincoln State, $500,000; the Cragin State, $240,000, and the Italian Trust, $225,000.

Both yesterday and on Tuesday it

Hunt for Rich Girl's Slayers Hits a Snag

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—Starr Faithfull, the titian haired Greenwich Village girl who followed the primrose and cocktail trail to death in the sandy shallows of Long Beach, L. I., was murdered by two men whose descriptions will be sent out to the police with an order for their arrest, District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards of Nassau county, announced tonight after a day of interviewing witnesses in Boston.

Mr. Edwards said his Massachusetts trip had not been as productive as he had hoped and intimated that the "prominent politician" who he had said earlier was the slayer is virtually eliminated from consideration. It was expected that the case would be presented to a grand jury Friday and that indictments would be returned.

Girl Vanishes Friday.

Miss Faithfull vanished from her home last Friday. Monday her battered body was washed up on the beach. Last night Mr. Edwards left hurriedly for Boston after an interview with Stanley E. Faithfull, stepfather of the slain girl.

Mr. Edwards was asked whether he had interviewed Andrew J. Peters, former mayor of Boston, who was revealed this afternoon as one of Miss Faithfull's relatives by marriage. The district attorney replied that he had had no interview and that he would not discuss Mr. Peters in connection with the case.

While in Boston Mr. Edwards did interview Francis Peabody Hamlin, son of a wealthy Boston broker and sportsman.

District Attorney Edwards announced tonight that a diary which had been kept by Miss Faithfull had been found.

It contained names and other evidence bearing out the murder theory, Mr. Edwards said, adding that its entries would be kept secret for the present.

That the diary was in Miss Faithfull's handwriting was established by her younger sister, Elizabeth, who was at Mr. Edwards' office with her parents. Elizabeth was questioned concerning her sister's friends. Several other witnesses whose names have been learned by investigators will be interviewed at Mineola tomorrow.

How Girl Was Killed.

Meanwhile the investigation here centered about Miss Faithfull's home and conditions surrounding her death. An autopsy definitely revealed that the 25 year old former college swimming star had been beaten and held beneath the water until drowned. Police believe the crime was committed near where the body was washed ashore.

It also was revealed by hospital records that last March Miss Faithfull was brutally beaten by a man with whom she was found in a Manhattan hotel and who described himself as her husband. On that occasion doctors decided Miss Faithfull was suffering from alcoholism. The identity of the man is believed to be known to the Faithfull family.

The name of former Mayor Peters came into the case during an interview at the Faithfull home in which the step-father, the mother, Mrs. Helen Wyman Faithfull and a sister of the dead girl altered earlier stories to the effect that Starr had never touched liquor and had few men friends.

Mr. Faithfull admitted having supplied the girl with liquor.

He admitted that she went out frequently and that he had presented

STATE LISTENS TO 3 CHICAGO RELIEF PLANS

Ask 20 Year Bonds for 1930 Levy.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—[Special.] Goaded into action by the pleas of Mayor Cermak and other Chicago leaders, the legislature finally indicated today that help for Chicago taxpayers may be forthcoming this session.

Three proposals, each sponsored by the Chicago Real Estate board as a means of lifting the load off the taxpayer's back, suddenly have acquired prospects of passage. The three proposals are:

1. Semi-annual payments of taxes.
2. Funding the 1930 taxes by a 20 year bond issue.
3. To defer the date when penalties for delinquent taxes begin.

These proposals are embraced in 11 of the board's bills which late today were reported out by the house committee. They carried a recommendation that they do pass, but with the expressed understanding by the committee that the action was solely to get the measures on the calendar to afford all sides an opportunity to work out compromises and, further, that it did not bind the committee members to support.

Near Agreement on Amendments.

Conferences started tonight between representatives of the real estate board, Douglas Sutherland of the civic federation and other specialists on revenue affairs. H. H. Haylett of the real estate board late tonight declared the prospects are that amendments will be agreed upon which will enable the passage of the bills by the house before adjournment this week. This would give next week for action by the senate, which is regarded favorable to the measures.

"Today's committee debate," said Mr. Haylett, "revealed a strong desire upon the part of the members to work out these measures of relief.

"All indications are that amendments can be worked out that will be satisfactory to the various revenue groups, and there is evidence that these relief measures will be passed this session."

Earlier in the day Cook county Democrats put into the senate a substitute for the licensing bill which was sent to a subcommittee—the usual chloroform procedure—yesterday after Mayor Cermak had urged its passage. The substitute was presented by Senator Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago], and it was advanced to second reading after an explosive controversy lasting more than an hour.

House Not So Friendly.

While the tax proposals of the real estate board gained support today both the Cermak and the Schnackenberg proposals concerning reorganization of the Cook county assessing machinery received another cold shower in the house revenue committee.

A motion to postpone action one week on house bill 1,179—the Cermak advisory committee's measure to abolish the boards of assessors and review in Cook and to substitute an appointive board of three members, one to be assessor—was lost. It got a tie vote, 15 to 15.

A second motion, however, to postpone consideration of the pending amendments to the bill until next Tuesday, was carried. This keeps the whole measure held up until then, and Chairman Le Roy M. Green [Rep., Rockford] says no meeting of the committee will be called next Tuesday unless a majority wants it.

The Schnackenberg bill No. 26 to abolish the board of assessors failed to get reported out, being turned down, 19 to 10.

Will Hold Special Hearing.

The Ward licensing bill, in the senate, which applies to cities of 25,000 and over, proposes to grant powers to tax and license a wide range of business and manufacturers.

A special hearing on it in the senate was set for tomorrow afternoon at which business men and manufacturers are expected to present their views.

"No more consideration was shown Chicago's mayor than the ordinary lobbyist yesterday," said Minority Leader Courtney in opening the senate fight. "It comes with poor grace in this dilemma to play politics."

"Mayor Cermak," rejoined Senator Martin R. Carlson [Rep., Moline], "left the committee in a state of mind

Question Constitutionality.

"Well," remarked Senator Roy Woods [Rep., Chicago], "I believe this licensing bill is unconstitutional. It seeks to regulate businesses which are already regulated."

"I'm for Mayor Cermak," said Senator Victor Michel [Rep., Peoria], "but this bill is an extravagant grant of powers."

"It allows the licensing of businesses," replied Senator Ward, "which get special police, fire, health protection, and other services, yet pay no more than others."

"Mayor Cermak was given a hearing in committee yesterday," said Senator Guy L. Smith [Rep., Pana]. "He talked for half an hour, then walked out taking his bunch with him and not even saying good-by."

After further heated palaver a public hearing on the bill was set for tomorrow afternoon.

In the hubbub Senator Simon E. Lantz [Rep., Congerville] made his way quietly to the front and laid on the clerk's desk another bill for a state income tax.

WOMAN CATCHES EX-OFFICIAL HERE ON FRAUD CHARGE

Mrs. Mary Moian of Cleveland caught up yesterday with John C. Popovici, former Rumanian vice consul in Chicago and Cleveland, and this time she had him arrested.

On another occasion she caught up with him, according to her story, and it cost her a tiny fortune. Mrs. Moian, it seemed, put up a $1,000 payment bond for the ex-Rumanian official when he was ordered to pay support money to his wife, Helen, and child, Betty, in Cleveland 18 months ago. He fled and the bond was forfeited.

Mrs. Moian followed Popovici to Chicago. According to one story, she found him and he persuaded her to finance him in an egg business. According to her complaint to Assistant State's Attorney Russell W. Root, Popovici "has cost her about $6,000." She made no specifications. Popovici was taken before Judge Francis Borrelli yesterday and later released on bond. He will be arraigned again today. A continuance will be asked to allow extradition proceedings to be submitted to the governor.

Open Anti-Aircraft Target Work at Sheridan Today

Anti-aircraft gun practice will begin today on the beach at Fort Sheridan and continue three or four times a week until Aug. 31. Firing will take place day and night at sleeves targets towed by airplanes. During night practice the targets are to be illuminated by searchlights. Warning to all types of shipping was sent out from the fort headquarters. The danger zone for shipping was fixed within an area of nine miles of the fort. All water craft were warned to keep clear of this area.

County Pays Blind, but Says Money Is Exhausted

Michael J. O'Connor, assistant deputy county controller, yesterday mailed checks amounting to $116,553 to the 1,317 blind people who receive a daily pension of $1 from the county. The checks are the last to be made until tax payments increase.

FISTS SWING IN HOUSE AS REMAP BILL ADVANCES

O'Grady Storm Center as Vote Is Taken.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—The house adopted the Republican amendments to the congressional reapportionment bill late tonight by a majority of one vote amid a welter of flying fists and sputtering official papers and an ear splitting din of boos, hisses, and fighting words. The Republicans had just been successful in getting to a vote the question of adopting their caucus amendments, and Speaker Shanahan had ordered the reading clerk to proceed with the roll call when the storm burst.

THOMAS J. O'GRADY.

Thomas J. O'Grady [Dem., Chicago] rushed to the desk and grabbed the roll call pad from Clerk George C. Blaeuer, while from the Democratic side came yells of "robbers" and "porch climbers."

He Fights Doorkeeper.

Doorkeeper F. J. Leonard rushed to the clerk's aid, but O'Grady fought him off and grabbed another block of roll call blanks.

The Republicans leaped to their feet, yelling, "Kick the alderman out"—O'Grady is a member of the Chicago city council. The uproar at length quieted down, only to break out again sporadically.

Amid charges of "gerrymander," the house just before midnight adopted the Republican amendments, by a vote of 71 to 76. Eight Republicans broke from the party ranks and voted against the amendments. They were Acker [Savanna], Allen [Lyndon], Babb [Shannon], Benson [Ottawa], Collins [De Kalb], McCaskrin [Rock Island], Soderstrom [Streator], Peters [Aurora].

After the Republican changes had been adopted, the bill was sent to third reading by a viva voce vote. The Democrats will insist that the amendments be printed before it is put to a final vote in the house, which may delay a vote until Friday. The house then adjourned.

The Democrats declared the defection of the eight Republicans means the bill will not survive on third reading, while the Republicans avow the votes will be forthcoming to pass the reapportionment.

After the vote James T. Burns [Dem., Kankakee] arose and bawled out O'Grady for his actions.

"It's a fine thing for one Democrat to criticize another Democrat," answered O'Grady. "From now on I'm for the amendment and the Republicans."

The battling, which started early this morning, was over the carving of Illinois into twenty-seven new districts—a task the legislature has dodged for twenty years. It was almost strict party lines.

The Democrats last week voted in caucus against redistricting this year, on the theory that a Democratic landslide next year might give them control of the legislature and enable the passage of a Democratic remap in 1933.

The Republicans, stirred by this, lined up almost solidly to remap the state now, while they control the assembly. Their aim is to pass the bill this week and shoot it over to the senate in time for action next week.

The membership of the house stands 91 Republicans, 72 Democrats, and 77 votes are required to pass the measure.

Emmerson Backs Bill.

The announcement of Gov. Emmerson that he will do all he can to help reapportionment stiffened the Republicans, who have been handicapped all session by a lack of leadership, and on nearly all the earlier roll calls, of which there were many, there was almost strict party solidarity on both sides.

The Republicans charged the Democrats with being against the bill because Henry T. Rainey [Dem., Carrollton] wanted his district gerrymandered Democratically. The Democrats charged the Republican caucus in its amendments adopted tonight were squeezing out Democratic congressmen and making the districts safe for Republicans so far as possible.

Amid the tumult Minority Leader Igoe shouted "If you Republicans pass this gerrymander you will live to hang your heads in shame. It is the biggest piece of highway robbery ever perpetrated in Illinois. Its wipes out two Democratic districts. You may have the votes to put it over, but you will live to regret it."

Roderick Replies.

"This talk of gerrymander," retorted Sol. Roderick [Rep., Chicago] "all depends on whose foot the shoe is on. It is a fair bill, based on the doctrine of equality and population."

Once during the afternoon O'Grady punctuated the debate by hurling a copy of the rules across the chamber at Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago].

"If you Republicans steam roller this bill through," remarked John P. Devine [Dem., Dixon] "you will have a filibuster on your hands that may last until the end of the session."

Win on First Test.

On the first test roll call today a motion to suspend the rules and take up the bill was carried, 78 to 63, by an almost strict party vote. Roderick then submitted the amendments to the original bill which were agreed upon yesterday at the Republican caucus. Another test vote on a motion from Minority Leader Igoe to postpone action until tomorrow, when the amendments would be printed, was carried by the Republicans, 73 to 71.

A motion from O'Grady to strike out the enacting clause was beaten, 68 to 72. Igoe offered the first Democratic amendment to the Republican caucus amendment, and this was tabled, 76 to 67.

The amended remap submitted by the Republican caucus puts Cook, Lake, Will, and Du Page counties into a metropolitan area with fourteen districts. It contains 57 per cent of the state's population. The metropolitan districts are, with minor changes, as previously published in THE TRIBUNE.

The proposed downstate districts are as follows:

FIFTEENTH—Jo Daviess, Stephenson, Winnebago, Carroll, Ogle, De Kalb.

SEVENTEENTH—Henry, Knox, Fulton, Schuyler, Brown, Whiteside.

NINETEENTH—Boone, McHenry, Kane, Kendall, La Salle.

TWENTIETH—Grundy, Livingston and McLean, Kankakee, Iroquois, Ford.

TWENTY-FIRST—Macon, Dewitt, Piatt, Moultrie, Shelby, Fayette, Effingham, Champaign.

TWENTY-THIRD—Tazewell, Logan, Christian, Macoupin, Montgomery, Bond.

TWENTY-FOURTH—Madison, St. Clair.

TWENTY-SEVENTH—Alexander, Pulaski, Union, Williams, Jackson, Franklin, Perry, Randolph, Monroe, Washington, Clinton.

The addition of Logan and Bond counties to the Sangamon district would increase the Republican trend of the district, which is now half and half.

Democrats say it would throw out Congressman J. Earl Major [Dem., Hillsboro], while Republicans point out it would open the way for Richard Yates, Republican congressman at large, to run next time in the district

BILL PASSES TO SET 35 FEET AS LIMIT ON AUTO TRUCK LENGTH

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—New legislation for trucks was enacted by the house today in the passage of the bill presented by the committee on motor vehicles. Briefly, the bill provides for a 35 foot limit on single truck units and 40 feet for multiple units.

The most notable and immediate effect of this provision, if passed in the senate and approved by Gov. Emmerson, would be to remove the immense freight vans and auto carriers from Illinois highways.

Hard tires are also eliminated, which has been the special plea of Representative Joseph Rategan [Dem., Chicago] through this and previous sessions.

The Illinois Taxpayers Hard Roads association, headed by Senator Clinton L. Ewing [Rep., Douglas], proposed the principal planks in the program by bills introduced by Representative W. C. Chynoweth [Rep., Decatur]. The bills were fought over in subcommittee, amended endlessly and eventually emerged in the present form of a unified committee bill.

A bill pending in the senate also has the approval of the hard roads association. This would place complete control of trucks and buses with the Illinois commerce commission.

GOVERNOR GETS BILL TO PROTECT REALTY BONDS

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—A measure designed to protect owners of real estate and building bonds and to reduce the receiverships of large apartment buildings and hotels was passed today by the senate. It is house bill No. 931, and it now goes to the governor for approval or veto. The purposes of the bill are set forth by its author, William G. Thon [Rep., Chicago].

"At present," says Mr. Thon, "thousands of people have their money invested in real estate bonds on large apartment houses and hotels. Due to the economic depression and the inability of tenants to pay rent, owners of some large properties have found themselves unable to pay their interest on the bonds.

"The purpose of this bill is to make it possible for bond holders' committees to bid in the property, avoiding a receivership, and use the property as collateral for a loan sufficient to pay off the pro-rata share due the nondepositing bond holders.

"If open sales were made in the present market, the properties would have to be sacrificed and the bond holders would have little return on their bonds. To avoid this loss of millions to the bond holders the committee can purchase the building and thus protect the interests of the people who have invested their money in the bonds.

"To have so many large apartment hotels and buildings operated by receiverships is an unhealthy condition and gives real estate a bad eye. One purpose of the bill is to end these receiverships."

BARE 60% RISE IN 6 YEARS IN SCHOOL COSTS

Trustees Will Discuss Audit Today.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The board of education will today discuss the report of the Cleveland audit company, which reveals an "alarming condition" in the financial affairs of the city schools. The Cleveland concern was selected by the state study committee on education to investigate school finances.

The auditors, in their report, assert that the average school attendance has increased 10 per cent between 1913 and 1931.

But in that same period the report shows that the cost of administration has increased 60 per cent, the cost of instruction has advanced 30 per cent, the expense of the coördinated activities has hopped up 85 per cent, the auxiliary functions have jumped 11 per cent, the expense of operating the school plants has shot skyward for 106 per cent, and the maintenance of plants has gone beyond the clouds for an ascent of 206 per cent.

Contrast with Pupil Increase.

This, in brief, shows the contrast between the added pupils to be taught and the much greater increase in the expenditures.

But that is not all. To get a true picture the auditors show that the cost expense between 1925 and 1931 has been five times as great, taking the operation of the system as a whole, as the average increase in pupil attendance.

On top of this added cost of operation the auditors place an increase in the debt service cost of 977 per cent. In 1913 this cost was $921,848, while this year it is placed at $9,932,305.

Cermak Criticizes Report.

Mayor Cermak severely criticized the report yesterday because it did not recommend a cut of more than $2,485,315 outright and another $653,-611 provisionally. He characterized it as "a whitewash, which has only scratched the surface." The auditing company in its report says that in the three and a half weeks permitted for the work "it was obviously impossible to examine with thoroughness an institution spending more than $90,000,000 annually, with 400 plants and about 25,000 employés."

But the auditing company arrived at some definite conclusions, of which one is as follows:

"At no time in the history of this school district have the problems of financing public education been more perplexing than they are right now. The board of education is confronted with the necessity of making drastic cuts to insure the operation of its day schools."

Should Pay as They Go.

Regarding the board's proposal to issue $50,000,000 in bonds with which to erect new school buildings—which the trustees discussed yesterday—the Cleveland auditors say:

"Nothing should ever swerve the board from its policy of financing building costs out of current revenue."

Later in the report the auditors say there is "no more sense in borrowing money to construct school buildings than there is in going into debt to pay teachers' salaries."

As a striking illustration of the hit and miss system of spending millions, the auditors point out that the board has purchased twenty-three sites for school buildings at a cost of $1,830,150, on which no buildings have been ordered erected. These sites cover 128.8 acres, according to the auditors.

High Cost of Operation.

The plant operations cost $4,051,000 in 1931, it is pointed out in illustrating why the tax bill for the schools is so high. This expense in 1926 was $4,406,000, but in 1928 it hopped to $7,224,000, and in 1931 it has jumped to $8,132,000.

To indicate the waste of public funds in such an expenditure, the auditors recite the per cent of the total current expense alloted to operation in the school system of eleven large cities. In Chicago that percentage is 14.51. In Detroit it is 11.66, in Pittsburgh 11.51, in Cleveland 10.45, in Baltimore 10, in St. Louis 9.86, in Los Angeles 8.92, in San Francisco 8.69, in Philadelphia 7.62, and in New York 6.71.

The average of the dozen cities is 8.89 as compared with 14.51 per cent in Chicago. On that basis, more than half, or $4,042,000, being spent this year on the operation of the school buildings is waste.

To drive the extravagance home to the Chicago school trustees, the auditors shower the cost per pupil of operating school plants in the various cities. Chicago heads the list with an average cost of $17.49. Pittsburgh is second with $14.05, Cleveland third with $12.88, and then follows Detroit at $12.06, Los Angeles at $11.85, St. Louis at $11.66, San Francisco at $11.26, Baltimore at $9.05, New York at $8.82, and Philadelphia at $8.22.

Cost Far Above Average.

The average cost of all of these cities, including Chicago, is $11.37, and on that basis Chicago is spending $4,879,000 more for operating its public schools this year than is sufficient in the average large city.

Regarding the amount of work required of Chicago school teachers the auditors take the figures of Superintendent of Schools Bogan. He is quoted as saying that the average number of pupils per class in the schools of 429 cities is 33 for elementary grades, 28 for junior high schools and 25 for senior high schools, while in Chicago the average in elementary grades is 45.7, in junior high schools 34.8, and in senior high schools 29.1.

About Teachers' Salaries.

On teachers' salaries the auditors quoted the National Educational association on the median salary for 88 cities over 100,000 population in comparison with Chicago. The comparison for various kinds of teachers is presented by the auditors as follows:

Teachers—	In 88 cities.	In Chicago.
Kindergarten	$2,077	$2,500
Elementary	2,188	2,500
Junior high schools	2,348	2,700
Senior high schools	2,731	3,400

These figures will probably play a prominent part in the discussion of the trustees today, because the auditors suggested that $607,000 be saved by the elimination of automatic increases in teachers' salaries. They assert that in Chicago any teacher can obtain the highest salary, while in certain other cities only teachers of exceptional merit reach the top.

The auditors then proceed to supply evidence to prove their charges against Chicago. In the school year of 1925-'26 the investigators report that 4,932 of the 12,282 in the system that year received $2,500 a year or less. That is 40.2 per cent. In the present school year the number of this class had dropped to 4,010, which is 30.3 per cent of the 13,267 teachers in service now. In 1925-'26 there were 5,228 teachers getting $2,500 to $2,999 while now the number is 6,060. Also in 1925-'26 there were 2,122 teachers getting more than $3,000, while now the number is 3,197. Summarizing the auditors say that 59.8 per cent of the teachers in 1925-'26 were getting $2,500 a year or more, while now 69.7 per cent are in this higher bracket.

NO COMFORT FOR TEACHERS

Some of the unpaid school teachers listening to the two hours' wrangle of the board of education over a $50,000,000 bond issue for new buildings. No vote was taken and there was nothing done by the board to give the teachers any information as to when and how they are to be paid. The teachers' faces reflect their feelings. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

BLAMES COUNTY FOR DELAY IN HEARINGS ON PERSONALTY TAX

The charge that the county board, by delaying for two months the award of the contract for printing 1930 personal property assessments, has prevented the board of review from holding hearings on the assessments was made yesterday by Andrew W. Gatenbey, chief clerk for the board of review.

"By its dilatory action the county board is holding up the filing of complaints and the holding of public hearings at a time when everything should be done to expedite the levying of assessments and the collection of taxes," he said.

The delay in awarding the contract is the same trouble between union and nonunion printing shops which caused delays in the publication of 1929 and 1928 assessment lists. At its last meeting the board sent the bids back to its public service committee on grounds of technical discrepancies in the figures.

The Magil-Weinsheimer company, a nonunion concern, has made the low bid, offering to print the lists by the plantograph methods for $5,800.

Heat Fails to Bother Woman; Locked in Icebox

Mrs. Matilda Kuntz didn't notice the rising temperature yesterday. She spent half an hour locked in the icebox of the National Tea company store at 3258 South Paulina street, which she manages. She had been placed there by a bandit, who robbed the store of $28.

SCHOOLS TO VOTE TODAY ON HUGE BOND ISSUE PLAN

Argue For and Against $50,000,000 Project.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The board of education gave vigorous consideration for nearly two hours yesterday to the plan of Trustee Joseph P. Savage to issue $50,000,000 in bonds for the erection of public school buildings. The board will resume the discussion at 9:30 a. m. today, with the intention of taking a vote on the Savage resolution by noon.

JOSEPH P. SAVAGE.

"It would be wonderful in providing work for the unemployed," commented Mayor Cermak, "but it means a boost in taxes and the poor people cannot pay the burden placed upon them now."

The two newly appointed trustees, Mrs. Hefferan and Robert F. Carr, opposed the $50,000,000 bond idea, as did Trustee James A. Hemingway.

"We cannot pay the salaries of the teachers at present," said Hemingway. "More schools mean more teachers, which in turn means more expense. Some one please tell me how we are going to man the new schools?"

Trustee Savage made a long speech in reply, but he did not tell where the money will come from to operate the $50,000,000 worth of new schools.

"Where will the bonds be sold under present conditions," asked Mrs. Hefferan.

She apparently was referring to the county government's default of $1,868,400 on bonds and interest June 1, and also to the fact that the board of education owes its more than 17,000 employés $5,145,000 in overdue salaries. The county board is also in default in the payment of $50,000 in salaries to hospital nurses.

City Fails to Pay.

The city government stepped into the same boat yesterday by failure to pay 13 past due payrolls totaling $399,000. An estimated 2,283 city employés, including 50 aldermen, 1,300 street sweepers, 111 health department nurses, 312 bridge tenders, the entire staffs of the contagious disease and isolation hospitals and the bridewell were the victims of the payless payday.

To date there are approximately 21,-835 county, school, and city employés who have failed to get their last salaries.

Discuss "Script" Salaries.

In an attempt to satisfy the unpaid teachers and other employés, the school board proposes to issue participation certificates in a trust which will hold tax anticipation warrants, which cannot be sold. This scheme was put up to school contractors yesterday. They promised to say whether they will take this "script" later this week. So the board did not discuss the matter yesterday but will probably get to it today.

The plan involves getting a large bank to act as trustee, so that the bank as such would issue the participation certificates in the trust. The trustee has not yet been designated and it is rumored that several banks have declined to act.

The school board plan of issuing $50,000,000 in bonds with which to erect new schools is looked upon by members of the mayor's cabinet as an effort to embarrass the city administration, because they believe there is no hope of getting the project started.

The Savage resolution was discussed at length yesterday as a plan the board itself can put into effect. Oscar Rosenthal, president of the Builders' association, told the trustees that the buildings the board can obtain for $50,000,000 at present would cost $70,000,000 in normal times.

Urges Work for Jobless.

Patrick H. Sullivan, president of the Building Trades council, urged the adoption of the resolution as a means of getting employment for the 90,000 building trades mechanics.

Trustee Savage, a lawyer, father of the plan, urged the adoption of it as a means of relieving the business depression with its thousands of unemployed. Trustee John English talked along the same line.

The fact is that the board of education does not have the power to issue bonds, according to the city lawyers. The Savage resolution only provides that the attorney of the board shall draft a bill, granting that authority, which will be presented to the legislature.

Mayor Cermak has been attempting for three weeks to get the state legislature to pass certain bills which he thinks will aid the local governments; and his hope of success is decreasing. It is the plan of the school board trustees favoring the Savage idea to prepare their bill, have it discussed and passed by both houses of the general assembly before it adjourns on the tentative date of June 20.

Cermak Wants Investigation.

Mayor Cermak proposed yesterday that his advisory commission conduct an inquiry into school affairs. This was presented to the board in a resolution presented by Mrs. Hefferan. The resolution was referred to the committee of the whole.

To the pressure of "the invisible government," Mayor Cermak ascribed the lack of progress in the city's relief measures before the state legislature.

"The invisible government smothered the license bill in the senate," said the mayor. "The legislators did not appear to realize the position in which the local governments have been placed. "They have gotten the house bill 1,179 [the bill to abolish the elective boards of assessors and review] where its chances of getting through have been decreased.

"All we can do is to wait and see what the legislature will do for Chicago. I do not know what will happen if we do not get this legislation."

ROME, June 10.—The next word in the quarrel between Italy and the holy see remained today with Pope Pius XI., following yesterday's delivery of the Italian note replying to the Vatican's charges that two articles of the concordat had been violated and its demand for an apology for alleged Fascist violence. Government circles were without any indication today as to whether some time may elapse before the pontiff replies.

Manwhile, an important step toward peace was regarded as having been taken today with the reported resignation of Msgr. Giuseppe Pizzardo, secretary of the sacred congregation for extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs under the Vatican state department, from his connection with the Catholic Action society, of which he was the spiritual director.

Resigns Under Technicality.

This resignation, it is understood, was effected through a facile technicality. It was maintained that Catholic Action was an Italian organization and that it should, therefore, have an Italian as its head, whereas Msgr. Pizzardo is a citizen of the Vatican, and hence a foreigner.

Msgr. Pizzardo was the personality against whom objections had been raised by the Fascists. In a recent document printed by the Fascist organ, Lavora Fascista, Msgr. Pizzardo was quoted as speaking against the dictatorship and saying that the Catholic organization must be prepared to replace fascism.

With this gesture, which, however, has not yet been confirmed by the Vatican, it is expected that subsequent negotiations will be made easier. These negotiations, it was repeated in Italian government circles again today, do not look to any textual modification of the concordat, but will consist merely of diplomatic clarifications of article 43.

Meanwhile, from the provinces come reports of complications over the closing of Catholic clubs dependent on Catholic Action and over the Vatican's retaliatory action in suppressing all religious precessions. Advices say that the reaction to both measures has had serious repercussion in small towns, where some of the incidents are described as grave.

In some places in southern Italy, particularly at Campo Basso and Catanzaro, the population is reported to have held religious processions in honor of the festival of Corpus Christi last Thursday, despite the Vatican's interdiction and prohibition by their local clergy. In these two towns the bishops closed the churches and prohibited the ringing of bells. Police intervened to keep order.

The Italian government tonight issued a communique pointing out that three persons had been arrested and five others had been denounced for damaging and pilfering the chancellory of the church at Privero, near Rome.

Clergy Gets Instructions.

Osservatore Romano, Vatican organ, tonight printed instructions which have been sent out by the bishops of all the Italian dioceses, calling the attention of the clergy to the fact that the orders of the prefect of police to close Catholic clubs apply only to young Catholics' organizations, and that they do not affect others, such as adult associations, parochial circles, brotherhoods and laymen orders. The clergy was instructed to keep these open. Where young Catholic associations met in church property that has been closed, and the keys taken by the police, the clergy must demand their restoration.

Couldn't Smoke or Play with Dog; Asks Divorce

Ernest H. Sharp of Northbrook, a clerk, filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court yesterday, charging that his wife, Verna, refused to allow him to smoke in the house. Sharp also complains that his wife barred him from using the radio or playing with his pet dog. The couple were married Aug. 13, 1921, were divorced in June, 1928, remarried in December, 1929, and separated again a week ago.

Frances Jaames Appointed Movie Censor by Cermak

Miss Frances Jaames, former Chicago stage star who was featured in "Big Boy" with Al Jolson, has been named to the board of motion picture censors by Mayor Cermak. During the war she appeared on theatrical programs at army camps and in the recent mayoralty campaign took part in radio broadcasts in the interest of the Cermak candidacy. She lives at the Congress hotel and is a voter in Chicago.

Former Servant Held Under Bond for Theft

Mrs. Ann Crummit, 22 years old, who formerly served as a domestic in the home of Milton C. Randall, 939 Edgecomb place, a real estate dealer, was held to the grand jury in $3,000 bonds yesterday afternoon. She was arraigned in Judge Matthew D. Hartigan's felony court on a charge of larceny. Mr. Randall, the complainant, said that clothing and trinkets valued at $100 were taken from his home and later found in the young woman's possession.

WM. H. SEXTON IS APPOINTED AS CITY LAW HEAD

Council Bars "Drag" Stars on All Autos.

Mayor Cermak's appointment of William H. Sexton to be corporation counsel was presented to the city council and approved by it yesterday.

ALD. J. M. ARVEY.

Attorney Sexton, who held the same post in the last Harrison administration, will take office today, but Francis X. Busch, whom Mr. Sexton succeeds, has agreed to handle the telephone franchise and several other matters pending in the city law department. Mr. Busch specified when he took office that it was to be for two months only. He expects to sail for a European vacation on July 31.

Bars "I Gotta Drag" Stars.

The council passed by a unanimous vote the ordinance of Ald. Barnet Hoden [7th] outlawing "I gotta drag" stars from vehicles on the streets of Chicago. The ordinance prohibits the display of any star purporting to represent the authority of a local government or state or federal department, or of any other emblem shaped like a star, under penalty of a fine of from $5 to $50. Official police automobiles are the only ones excepted.

The ordinance of Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th] providing that all motorists who purchase city vehicle tags be provided with a sticker to be affixed to their windshields was passed. These stickers will be mailed free of charge to all persons who obtained their metal tags from the city clerk. The absence of such a sticker will indicate to police that the driver, if his car bears a metal tag, obtained it illegally.

Mayor and Nelson Clash.

Its passage resulted in a clash between Ald. Arvey and Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th], who wanted the measure sent to committee.

"The city is running $250,000 short in license collections," Mayor Cermak said when the alderman made the suggestion. "Every day there are long lines of people in the city collector's office, buying duplicate tags, either because their tags have been stolen or they have given them to friends, so that two cars are being operated on a single license. If there is any delay in this ordinance, street repair work will have to stop for lack of vehicle tax funds."

Mayor Cermak presented a resolution, which was adopted, making it illegal for persons receiving a pension paid them wholly or in part from funds raised by taxation of Chicago citizens to hold any city job without waiving their pensions during their terms of office. For pensioners to hold such jobs is unfair to the unemployed, he declared.

Assessing Bill Is Presented.

Ald. John A. Massen's [48th] ordinance, requiring contractors on public works to use a uniform accounting system and to submit copies of their accounts to the city controller was sent to the committee on efficiency, reorganization and consolidation.

"Competition has failed as a preventative of excessive costs of public improvements," Ald. Massen said in introducing the measure. "Where there should have been competition we have contractors' rings and suppression of bids. There appears to be no effective alternative except compulsory publicity.

"No one can estimate accurately the waste of public funds through excessive prices paid under public contracts, but it is unquestionably tremendous. District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson recently disclosed that there was an indicated profit of $2,-264,000 on public works for which the public paid $6,613,425."

Other Appointments Confirmed.

Other appointments by Mayor Cermak, which were confirmed, were those of Edward H. McMullen to be assistant harbormaster, Martin C. McMahon, Harry M. Zimmer, and Theron Donnelly to the aero commission, and of Benjamin Marshall and Orville J. Taylor to the Chicago plan commission.

The resolution of Ald. John Coughlin [6th] to extend Wacker drive east to join Field boulevard, which in turn will be extended east by the south park board to form a riverside boulevard to the south approach of the new outer drive bridge, was referred to the committee on special assessments.

Wacker Drive Issue Up.

Ald. Coughlin's resolution calling for an investigation of open air garages, or parking lots, to determine if they should be licensed, was sent to the committee on rules for assignment to the proper committee.

The last echo of the Cuneo tower controversy, which resulted in the city forbidding the erection of the skyscraper tower at Randolph street and Michigan avenue, was heard when Ald. Hodes presented the claim of John F. Cuneo for $1,553, which he paid for building permits which he was later forbidden to use.

Ald. Arvey introduced Frank Annunzio, mayor of the American Boys' Commonwealth, west side welfare organization for boys, to Mayor Cermak during the meeting.

Proposes Zoning Change.

Mayor Cermak submitted an amendment to the zoning ordinance yesterday which would abolish the zoning board of appeals as now constituted. In place of the chairman and four members at salaries totaling $27,000 a year, as now provided, the amendment would give the mayor the power to appoint members of his cabinet on the board at no advance in their regular salaries. The amendment was referred to the committee on buildings and zoning.

A committee of aldermen to investigate the unemployment situation and suggest remedies was appointed by the mayor.

Commissioner of Public Works Sprague was directed to make a survey of street signs as a preliminary in obtaining new signs for Chicago streets.

STUDENTS LEAVE CLASS, RETURN TO IT DRUNK

Los Angeles, Cal., June 10 [Special.]—How a class in manual arts high school was broken up in the middle of last Friday's school session by drunkenness was revealed today at the trial of Frank Marino before Municipal Judge W. M. Northrup.

Three unnamed students left the class room for a short recess and returned to it intoxicated, Deputy City Prosecutor Bert McDonald brought out. Following a report by teachers, police found that Marino had stocked his home with quantities of wine and gin as a students' drinking rendezvous.

Marino pleaded guilty today to charges of possessing liquor. He was fined $400 and given a 40 day jail sentence. An additional complaint charging him with contributing to delinquency of minors was made.

ROBBERY SUSPECT IS SHOT.

David Isaac, colored, 3560 Rhodes avenue, was wounded and his companion, Monroe Dailey, colored, 4215 South St. Lawrence avenue, captured when surprised by Sergt. Ray Crane and his squad in what the police assert was an attempted robbery of a cab driver.

M. V. L. DENOUNCES HOUSE PASSAGE OF 60 WARD MEASURE

Passage of the Noonan sixty ward bill for Chicago by the lower house of the general assembly brought emphatic protest yesterday from Herbert J. Friedman, president of the Municipal Voters' league.

The bill still is to be considered in the state senate. Its passage in the house was obtained on grounds that it was the first and only bill ever introduced by Representative George Garry Noonan, the author, a cigarmaker, in his seven terms in the assembly. "Give Garry a vote because he always voted for your bills," was the sole argument advanced in its favor.

"The Municipal Voters' league," said President Friedman, "is absolutely opposed to this bill.

"The point that it would unnecessarily increase the burden of the taxpayers of an already overburdened city is sound, but our chief objection to it is that increasing the size of the city council from fifty to sixty would lower its standards which already have been criticised as none too high.

"Instead of enlarging the membership of the council we are strongly in favor of reducing it. We would like to see the council reduced to twenty-five. Even some of the present aldermen admit to us in private that they are opposed to the bill."

20 Year Old Wife Seeks Divorce from Lawyer, 47

Michael Costabile, 47 years old, Chicago Heights attorney, a recent candidate for town commissioner, was sued for divorce by his wife, Emily, 20 years old, yesterday in the Circuit court. Mrs. Costabile alleges cruelty, charging that her husband, whom she married three years ago, has frequently "struck, kicked and pinched" her. On one occasion she alleges that Costabile struck her with the butt of a gun, knocking her unconscious. Costabile has six children by a former marriage, according to the bill, one of them being a few years older than his present wife.

GUN TOTING BILL PASSED BY STATE SENATE, 40 TO 1

Affects Those Carrying Weapons in Auto.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—The gun toting bill sponsored by the Chicago crime commission to aid in the fight against gangland was passed by the senate today, 40 to 1. It now goes to the governor.

SENATOR BARBOUR
[Moffett Photo.]

It is aimed at a condition under which bad men who have been caught with deadly firearms on the cushions of their automobiles or stuck in the pockets escape the concealed weapons law because the guns were not actually found on their persons. It is so restricted that the rights of respectable citizens and peace officials are protected.

Point Need of Protection.

"Every senator from a big city should vote for this bill," said Senator James J. Barbour [Rep., Chicago].

"All others as well," added Senator Andrew S. Cuthbertson [Rep., Bunker Hill]. "The small towns need protection from the crooks from the cities."

The bill, which was introduced in the house by Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago] as No. 533, makes it unlawful for any person "to carry in a motor vehicle any firearm with the intent to use the same in the commission of a crime," or for any person, "who habitually associates with thieves or frequents houses of ill fame or gambling places, to carry any firearms in a motor vehicle."

Must Keep Markings.

It makes it unlawful to change, alter, or obliterate the name of the maker, model, number, or other identification mark on firearms. Possession of such firearm shall be prima facie evidence that the possessor has changed the markings.

The bill also makes it unlawful for any person to carry a firearm in a motor vehicle within ten years after conviction of murder, robbery, burglary, or other violent crime or violation of the gun toting act.

OPENS WAY FOR PHONE COMPANY TO BUY WARRANTS

Attorneys for the Illinois Bell Telephone company were notified yesterday by Corporation Counsel Busch that it would be legal for the company to purchase 1931 city tax anticipation warrants, and later turn them back to the city as part of the $4,276,000 back compensation owed the city.

After F. O. Hale, president of the company, refused the demand of the city for the payment of the back compensation before the company is granted a new franchise, the plan was advanced that the company purchase tax anticipation warrants. Through the purchase, it was pointed out, the city would get funds for pay rolls.

Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th], chairman of the council, gas, oil, and electricity committee, has postponed the meeting of his committee on the new franchise until next Monday.

EIGHT ARRESTED IN STATE RAIDS ON CHICAGO HTS.

A raiding squad of twelve police under Lieut. William V. Blaul visited thirty places in Chicago Heights late Saturday afternoon, making eight arrests and seizing four slot machines. The raid was ordered by Chief Investigator Pat Roche of the state's attorney's office after he received reports on vice and gambling in the suburb.

In the Monroe hotel, 103 East 17th street, said to be owned by Betty King, the raiders found four women and Herman Scaccia, 19 years old. Scaccia was held as keeper of a disorderly house and the women as inmates. Tollie Zerante, owner of a cigar store at 322 East 14th street, was arrested when raiders found two slot machines in his place. Bartenders Sam Faso at 147 East 17th street and Joe Pola at 86 East 16th street were taken in custody when a slot machine was found in each of their soft drink parlors.

The raiders found nothing in the remaining places visited. Lieut. Blaul said word had been sent through the town of the activity of the raiders, and irregularities concealed. Roche declared that though he is not "the policeman of the county," he will see that similar resorts close and stay closed if other authorities failed.

THE INFLUENCE OF A STORE

All men are pretty much alike; but it is their unlikeness that is important.

When John and James and Henry do the same thing, it is not the same thing at all.

As a natural outgrowth of a fine old tradition there undoubtedly has been developed in this store an especial way of doing things. Marshall Field, who set the standard, was a great merchant.

"Probably the most imitated institution in the world is that resplendent store of Marshall Field & Company in Chicago," says an English magazine. "Its influence is felt throughout all civilization. It is a pacemaker. But no other craft has ever been flown in quite the Field manner."

To maintain leadership throughout the years is perhaps a more difficult task than to acquire it.

The firm conviction that especially courteous service to the customer humanizes business and makes it more efficient, has long been an important factor in Field equipment. The skillful gathering and unique displaying of craftsmanship's newest and best from all parts of the world, have developed with the emergencies of the times, and have played no small part in extending our influence as merchants.

But to keep quality high and price low is here a fundamental and tenacious policy that has brought the world to our doors.

HUNT FOR RICH GIRL'S SLAYERS STRIKES A SNAG

her with a silver flask upon her return from a trip to Europe. Mr. Faithfull, who is a chemist, said he supplied the contents of the flask, making the liquor himself in order that "Starr would not have to drink bootleg stuff."

Mr. Faithfull was asked whether it was true, as reported from Boston, that Mr. Peters was a friend of Miss Faithfull. Members of the family refused to discuss Mr. Peters in any way other than to say he was married to a relative of Mrs. Faithfull's. The former mayor, reached by Boston correspondents, declared only:

"I do not understand how my name could be connected with this case. I have not seen Miss Faithfull in five years and have not been in New York recently."

Mr. Hamlin was questioned because he is cruise director of the Cunard lines and was believed to have been with the girl on the Cunard piers last week when she was escorted from the Mauretania in an intoxicated condition. Mr. Hamlin said he was not there.

He admitted that he knew Miss Faithfull and believed her to be in love with him, although he was not in love with her. He insisted, however, according to Mr. Edwards, that he had not seen her for some time. Mr. Hamlin was not held, but expressed a willingness to come to New York if needed.

Mr. Edwards let it be known that he had cabled to London for more details of the Franconia incident of May 29, when Miss Faithfull was taken off the liner, in what was described as an intoxication, by a tug after the Cunarder had left port.

Wants Details of Party.

He said he wanted a statement from ship's officers about a party that Miss Faithfull had attended on the liner that day.

The party, he said, was supposed to have been given by Dr. G. Jameson Carr, the Franconia's medical officer. The district attorney desired to know with whom the girl left the party.

The girl's stepfather said today that she visited the Franconia on May 29 to bid Dr. Carr bon voyage. He described him as an old friend of the family.

Frank Flynn, a pier employé, told of seeing Miss Faithfull walking toward the pier entrance after she had been put aboard a tug in midstream and taken back to the pier from the liner.

She was hysterical, he said, and turning to him cried: "Is there another boat that I can catch the Franconia with?"

She Departs Sobbing.

Flynn said he soothed her and called a cab. When he asked her where she would go, she sobbed: "I don't care where I go. Take me anywhere. Life doesn't mean anything to me any more."

Faithfull became angry and his wife, a thin blond woman in a brown dress, spoke heatedly to reporters when they asked if the girl was a patient at Bellevue hospital psychopathic ward last spring.

"I will sue any paper that says I went to Bellevue to look for Starr," shouted Faithfull.

The Bellevue episode, however, was substantiated late today when Dr. Menas S. Gregory, head of the psychopathic department, said:

"Yes, she was in the hospital overnight on March 30 and 31, 1930. She was found in Hotel St. Paul, 40 West 60th street, with a man who identified himself to the ambulance driver as her husband. She was admitted to the hospital about 10:30 p. m. and was registered as Marie Collins, which was corrected later to Starr Faithfull."

The admittance card read:

"Brought to hospital by Flower ambulance — noisy—unsteady — given medicants—went to sleep—next day awakened noisy, crying; people came; discharged."

"Her parents, the Faithfulls, came and took her home," said Dr. Gregory. "Her case was diagnosed as alcoholism and she was suffering from contusions of the face, jaw, and lip. She said she had been drinking gin and supposed some one had 'knocked me around a bit.'"

The admittance note stated that "Marie Collins was found on the floor of an apartment without any clothes on" and was placed in bed, where she was unconscious when the physician arrived.

Another development of the case was the disclosure that there is some uncertainly about the exact whereabouts of Faithfull, the stepfather, on last Friday, the day of Starr's disappearance. Faithfull, in talking with reporters, tied himself up in a number of discrepancies which remained unexplained. At first he said he went to Boston on a business trip Thursday night and spent Friday in that city. Later he declared he went to Boston Wednesday night on a steamer and returned home Friday morning.

Tucker Faithfull, the sister, who also is known as Elizabeth, told reporters before her father was questioned that she went to Boston last Thursday night and remained over the week-end, returning on Monday morning. When this information was conveyed to Faithfull and his wife they appeared disturbed and contradicted the girl, declaring that she was not in Boston, but in a city upstate with a girl friend over the week-end. Elizabeth made no comment.

Frank Wyman of Boston, former husband of Mrs. Faithfull, a Harvard graduate and wealthy business man, came to New York last night to attend the funeral of his daughter.

BOMB DAMAGES WEST SIDE AUTO ACCESSORY SHOP

A powerful bomb was exploded shortly before midnight at the entrance of the supply house in the rear of the Warshawsky automobile accessories company at 5655 West Madison street. Houses in the vicinity were jarred and a dozen windows were shattered. The blast ripped out the door and front of the supply house.

An investigation by Sergt. Richard Johnson of the detective bureau revealed that the Madison street premises were leased two months ago by the auto concern from Richard McNichols of 647 South Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park, a contractor. The auto parts company altered the [illegible] and erected the rear house which was bombed.

Several days ago the company put up a large electric sign. The possibility that difficulties over the erection of the sign or the building of the rear house were responsible for the bombing was being investigated.

8 TRAPPED MEN REPORTED SAVED FROM SUBMARINE

Four 10 Others Drowned in Undersea Wreck.

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, China, June 10.—(AP)—An unconfirmed report received here tonight said that the eight men trapped in the steel hulk of the British submarine Poseidon had been rescued. The British gunboat Bruce here was without information of the reported rescue.

[A British admiralty official expressed doubt that the report was true, according to a London dispatch.]

[Tribune Tribune Press Service.]

WEIHAIWEI, China, June 10.—Hope was still held tonight that eight men trapped in the hulk of the British submarine Poseidon, which sank after being rammed by the Chinese steamer Yuta 11 miles off the coast here yesterday, might be brought up alive.

British ships at the scene of the disaster and a Japanese salvage tug today carried out desperate efforts to bring the boat to the surface, and it is thought this may be possible in 24 hours' time, although meanwhile the eight below might perish because of their diminishing supply of oxygen.

Communicate with Trapped Men.

The Medway, the Poseidon's parent ship, succeeded in communicating this morning with the eight men, trapped in a rear compartment when the submarine sank in twenty fathoms of water. They reported that none was injured, but that their air supply was getting lower and that rescue work must proceed swiftly.

Ten others who went down with the submarine are believed to have been drowned in forward compartments, which collapsed when the Chinese steamer rammed a hole just forward of the Poseidon's conning tower.

All methods of lifting sunken ships were being tried today by the cruisers Berwick and Cumberland, the aircraft carrier Hermes, the Medway and the Japanese tug. It is understood that the United States navy submarine rescue vessel Pigeon, connected with the Asiatic fleet, is on its way here to join the rescue efforts.

Free Escape with "Lung."

Shortly after the vessel sank six men released themselves and attempted to escape by means of the Davis lung, a new submarine safety device. They reached the surface and were picked up by naval scows. Two died today and another is in a grave condition. Thirty-one other officers and men were able to escape through the conning tower in the few minutes between the time the Poseidon was rammed and the time it went down. Two men cut at that time died of injuries.

The Davis lung consists of a rubber bag worn on the chest with a corrugated rubber tube leading to the mouth. The bag is inflated with oxygen sufficient to supply air for 35 or 40 minutes. On the surface the bag may be used as a life belt.

It was learned today that the Poseidon had just risen to the surface and was proceeding toward the northern tip of the Shantung peninsula when the Yuta rammed her. There was a dense fog and the Yuta's pilot is said to have lost his bearings. The Poseidon was operating at full buoyancy on the surface, but her forward compartments filled rapidly and sank shortly after she was hit.

Ohio 'Quake' Laid to Meteor, but Meteor Can't Be Found

Toledo, O., June 10.—(AP)—A powerful shock which jarred northwestern Ohio like a slight earthquake early today and which did heavy damage within a small area was generally believed tonight to have been caused by the crash of an exceptionally large meteor.

Possibility that the shock was caused by an explosion of nitroglycerine was admitted by experts on explosives, but they did not consider it likely.

The center of the shock was near Malinta, O., where it tore a large hole in the ground at the edge of a high way, broke telephone poles and wires and knocked down trees within a radius of about 300 feet. A field of oats nearby was flattened as if struck by a violent wind.

Many Scared; None Hurt.

No evidence was found that any person was injured. The farm home of Charles Babcock, only 600 feet from the hole, escaped with broken windows, but an equal amount of destruction was done to other homes several miles distant, and the shock itself was felt as far as Indiana points 50 miles away.

The disturbance occurred about 2 a. m. and awoke thousands of persons. At Findlay, 30 miles away, many householders thought a nitroglycerin magazine located near there had exploded. Small objects were knocked off desks in the police station by the vibration.

Several persons said they saw a brilliant flash of light at the location of the hole when the shock occurred, but had noticed no meteor falling.

Where Is the Meteor?

Farmers dug deep in the hole without finding any material from a meteor, nor any evidence of fire or heat. Scientists said, however, that meteors have been known to fall which were only warm and in some cases cold; also that a meteor might have changed its course after entering the ground and then buried itself several feet away from the hole.

The theory that the jar might have come from a nitroglycerin explosion was discounted by experts, who said a quantity of nitroglycerin sufficient to have caused so great a shock would have torn a larger hole in the ground. They said there were no reports of any large quantity of this explosive being near Malinta.

The hole in the ground was about 10 feet wide and 5 feet deep. Around it the ground was loosened by the powerful concussion, but the bottom of the hole was packed hard.

CHILD TETANUS VICTIM.

Norberi Surnia, 3 years old, 1627 Elston avenue, died yesterday in the Children's Memorial hospital of tetanus poisoning which followed infection of a small cut on the hand received several weeks ago.

HARBOR FIRE DAMAGE IS $200,000.

NEW BERN, N. C., June 10.—(AP)—Two barges, a tugboat and a warehouse used by the Carolina Lines, Inc., were destroyed here early today by fire. The damage was estimated at $200,000.

Slayers of Policemen in Robbery Reported Indicted

Nick Floridis, 1933 Taylor street, and Mike Trotta, 924 South Ashland boulevard, who confessed the killing of Policeman Edward M. O'Donnell during a robbery on Monday, were reported indicted on charges of murder yesterday by the grand jury. Earlier in the day a coroner's jury held the pair to the grand jury and commended for bravery Frank Rogers, ex-soldier and aviator, and Policemen Patrick Dorgan and Ernest Shefer, for their pursuit and capture of the bandits.

RIOTS BREAK OUT IN GERMANY OVER "HUNGER" DECREE

Policeman Slain; Streets Barricaded by Mobs.

France was happy that Secretary of State Stimson and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon were coming to Europe to get first hand impressions of present conditions in Europe.

The problems which Europe is seeking to settle, an official spokesman said, are really international problems, to the solution of which the United States can contribute appreciably.

The assertion was made, however, that it would be a great mistake for the American people to link closely the questions of reduction of reparations and war debts with the question of disarmament. Frenchmen, it was said, see no connection between these two questions because French armaments are based on the necessities for national defense, for which Frenchmen would always be ready to make financial sacrifice.

Fight New Naval Building.

It was regarded as significant, however, that the French Socialists will begin a fight tomorrow to postpone new naval construction until the result of the disarmament conference of 1932 is determined. The general belief was, however, that France could be induced to make any heavy reductions in armaments at this time only by the negotiation of "watertight" treaties of mutual assistance which would guarantee France against aggression.

There is a growing French belief that an amended Young plan is not justified and that if it were negotiated it would probably be followed by other German demands, including the right to build a larger navy and to increase the Germany army, and eventually by a demand for the elimination of the Polish corridor.

Any increase in the Germany navy, it was said tonight, would undoubtedly force an increase in the French navy, which, it was believed here, would in turn start an agitation in Great Britain for a larger British navy.

Denies Plan for Debt Parley.

LONDON, June 10.—(AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald, speaking in the house of commons today, put an end to rumors arising from the visit of Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius of Germany that the British government contemplated an international war debt conference in the immediate future.

No useful purpose would be served by such a conference, he told a Conservative questioner who had asked whether he was considering an international meeting "with a view to mutual cancellation of obligations."

"Our attitude in regard to war debts is well known," Mr. MacDonald said, "and action along the lines suggested would not in the present circumstances serve any useful purpose."

The conversations with the German statesmen at Chequers were merely a "general exchange of views," he said, and no definite conclusions or decisions had been reached.

MAN SLAIN; HOLD SUSPECT.

Havana, Ill., June 10.—(AP)—Robert Clarke of Peoria was held in the Havana jail today for questioning in connection with the murder last night of Fred Ashman, 50, a painter.

ROBBERS GET $800 IN REALTY OFFICE; ESCAPE UNDER FIRE

Five bandits who took $800 yesterday in a robbery of a real estate concern and a savings and loan association at 9248 Cottage Grove avenue escaped under revolver fire from one of the men they had robbed. They got $500 from the John Finn Real Estate company and $300 from the Chesterfield Savings and Loan association, but missed $4,000 in rental collections which had been taken to a bank ten minutes before. A. C. DeHaen, a partner in the real estate concern, emptied a revolver at the robbers' automobile as they drove away.

SHOOTS GIRL AND SELF BECAUSE OF HER URGE TO GO

Ending a petty quarrel, Louis Bennett, 24 years old, of 4144 Sheridan road, shot his sweetheart, Miss Lorraine Marquette, 23, in the right shoulder last night, and then shot himself below the heart. He is an elevator operator. She is a waitress.

The shooting occurred in Miss Marquette's apartment at 901 Lawrence avenue. According to Town Hall police, the couple quarreled because Miss Marquette wanted to go out for the evening. Bennett insisted that they remain in the apartment. Both were taken to the Lake View hospital, where it was said they would recover.

BELCASTRO, SEVEN OTHERS FREED.

James Belcastro, known as "king of the bombers," Rocco Fanelli, his brother-in-law, and six other men picked up with them Tuesday night at Polk and Morgan streets were dismissed yesterday by Judge Frances Borrelli.

HOOVER TRIP TO MIDWEST TO BE POLITICAL TEST

Will Speak in 3 Crucial and Doubtful States.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—President Hoover will leave Washington Saturday or Sunday to visit three Mississippi valley states—Illinois, Indiana and Ohio—in each of which he will make an address that is being looked forward to as a notable utterance of the executive bearing upon the public questions of the hour.

He will address the convention of the Indiana Editorial association at Indianapolis on Monday. On Tuesday he will dedicate the million dollar mausoleum of the late President and Mrs. Warren Gamaliel Harding at Marion, O. On Wednesday he will dedicate the new tomb of Abraham Lincoln at Springfield, Ill.

Of Great Political Interest.

Unusual political interest will attach to the progress of the President through these states at this paricular time, and the politicians will be scrutinizing the reception he is given and all attendant circumstances in the hope of perceiving which way the political wind is blowing from that quarter on the eve of the presidential election of 1932.

A number of circumstances account for the element of political interest. In the first place, Mr. Hoover will be making his appearance in the Mississippi valley for the first time since it has become definitely established that he is a candidate to succeed himself.

In the second place, he will be visiting three normally Republican states which he must carry if he is to be assured of reëlection, but which, because of backsliding disclosed in the 1930 elections, the Democrats are encouraged to believe they can capture next year.

Thirdly, he will be going there at a time when the worst period of hard times since 1873 has profoundly influenced the political viewpoint of the voters.

And fourthly, he will be going into a region in which his popularity has suffered a marked decline, according to the political scouts and in which the party in power suffered such notable reverses in the election of senators and congressmen last fall.

Populace Not Cordial.

At Republican headquarters, the Hoover journey beyond the Alleghanies will be essayed to determine whether the people still appear disposed to blame the administration for their economic ills. In the judgment of observers whose experience extends back over eight or ten administrations, Mr. Hoover, with the exception of his visit to Porto Rico, has been more coldly received than any other President on tours of the country. All are agreed that no President ever was so enthusiastically received by the populace as was Mr. Hoover in Porto Rico. At home, however, it has been different.

The Republican organization is putting forth a mighty effort to make the forthcoming test of the President's popularity a favorable one. The word has gone forth to the Republican leaders in Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio to get out the faithful and give Mr. Hoover a reception that will be an earnest of the enthusiasm with which the party will support his candidacy for reëlection.

Appeal to Drys for Support.

Particularly interesting is the fact that the chief responsibility for getting out the faithful along the Hoover route was assigned to the prohibition department of the Republican national committee, which commands the shock troops of the Anti-Saloon league, W. C. T. U., and other dry organizations. Consequently it is expected the drys will be out in force to insure plenty of enthusiasm in the greeting of the President.

From the standpoint of pure drama there will be nothing to compare in interest on this journey with the dedication by Mr. Hoover of the Harding tomb. This imposing marble burial place was erected by popular subscription. The cornerstone was laid by Vice President Dawes on Decoration day in 1926, and the dedication was to have taken place on July 4, 1927. For nearly four years it has gone undedicated because of the reluctance of two presidents, Coolidge and Hoover, to be associated with such a tribute to their former chief, whose reputation suffered post-mortem eclipse.

Up to the time the scandals of the Harding administration were revealed in 1924, there was the utmost enthusiasm for this honoring of the apostle of normalcy. The subscriptions, eventually nearly $1,000,000, flowed in from rich donors and from school children. President Coolidge was president of the Harding Memorial association and still is its honorary president. Mr. Hoover was and still is one of the trustees.

There is no telling how large a memorial fund would have been collected had it not been for the revelation of the oil land lease and other scandals attaching to the Harding administration and Nan Britton's publication of "The President's Daughter." Thereupon a pall descended upon the enterprise.

Efforts to have the tomb dedicated by President Coolidge were unavailing, despite the fact that he was Mr. Harding's running mate in 1920 and official heir in 1923. Nor could Mr. Coolidge be induced to perform the service after leaving the presidency.

Evades Request of Chairman.

Under date of Sept. 9, 1929, Hoke Donithen of Marion, chairman of the executive committee of the association, wrote Mr. Coolidge, imploring him as honorary president, to say what should be done about the dedication. To which Mr. Coolidge replied:

"I was very much pleased to get a letter from you which indicates you are in your usual good health. I should be glad to talk with you the next time I see you concerning the interesting suggestion you have made. I was much pleased to know the memorial has been so successfully finished."

Mr. Donithen's efforts to induce President Hoover to dedicate the memorial were no less discouraging for a time. In response to overtures by the executive committee, George Akerson, secretary to the President, wrote a letter, the contents of which have been carefully guarded, suggesting, it is said, that if the committee were to proceed to dedicate the mausoleum without the presence of the President, Mr. Hoover would not feel offended.

Daugherty's Move Sidetracked.

Finally, Harry Daugherty, who made Warren Harding politically and was attorney general in the Harding cabinet, sought direct action to force President Hoover's hand. He carried the question into the Republican state convention in Ohio last year in a resolution proposing to formally invite the President to dedicate the tomb. The friends of the President succeeded in getting the resolution pigeonholed, to save Mr. Hoover from embarrassment.

A little later word was carried to Mr. Donithen that the President might, after all, be persuaded to officiate at the dedication and Mr. Donithen replied that he didn't care three whoops what Mr. Hoover did.

At this pass the Republican leaders were beginning to be worried. They were beset with fears that if Mr. Hoover should fail to dedicate that memorial, he might lose the Ohio delegates to the Republican national convention, if not the state in the election.

Not long thereafter there came the announcement out of a clear sky at the White House that Mr. Hoover would dedicate the memorial.

MELLON SAILS TO SEE SON TAKE DEGREE; NOT TO DISCUSS FINANCES

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, sailed today on the Cunarder Mauretania to see his son Paul take his post graduate degree at Clare college, Cambridge university, England.

He looked thin and very tired, and said that he was not going to discuss any financial or official matters while he was abroad. The secretary was accompanied by his valet and did not take a secretary because he did not need one, he said.

When informed by reporters there had been rumors circulated that he was going to discuss the question of reparations in England Mr. Mellon smiled faintly and replied:

"I am sorry if people should think so, but I am not."

CONTINUE SWINDLING CASE.

The case of Clarence A. Finn, a bond salesman from Plymouth, Ind., charged with bilking Henry Fioletti, 1444 North Kolin avenue, out of $2,000, was continued yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in Felony court until June 18.

OUTLYING BANKS SHOW STRENGTH; LOOP AIDS THEM

Six Are Closed, but Rush for Deposits Slackens.

appeared that several banks closed their doors in order to halt the hysteria among depositors, rather than because they were in unsound condition. Officials of the Northwestern Trust and Savings bank announced, almost with the suspension of payments, that plans had begun for a reopening of the bank.

F. E. Lackowski, president, asserted the affairs of the bank are in good shape and that it should be able to arrange for reopening at a comparatively early date. Officials of the Washington Park National bank, another institution affiliated with the Foreman-State banks, also announced progress in plans for reorganizing that institution.

There were other bright spots in the situation. The First National and First Union Trust and Savings banks, which absorbed the Foreman-State institutions, again reported a gain in deposits and a visit to their quarters revealed several times as many customers before the receiving tellers' windows as appeared at the paying tellers' cages.

Work Back to Normal.

Business was again about normal at the other big downtown banks. However, both the loop banks and those on the fringe of the loop reported increases in numbers of accounts, part of which probably resulted from transfers from other banks.

The National Bank of the Republic, which is joining with the Central Trust company of Illinois to form the $350,000,000 Central Republic Bank and Trust company, reported that its earnings for the first five months of this year were "very satisfactory and considerably in excess of dividend requirements." The directors declared the regular quarterly dividend.

The directors of the Drovers National and Drovers Trust and Savings banks also declared the regular quarterly dividends.

First National Stock Advances.

In the Chicago bank stock market, First National shares advanced 15 points further yesterday, being quoted at $455 to $465 a share. Central Trust shares were up a point or two at $167 to $172 a share, but National Bank of the Republic shares, which a $20 par value, eased 3 points to $26 to $27 a share. No dealings in Foreman-State National shares were reported.

During the day between 300 and 400 new accounts were opened in the postal savings department of the Chicago postoffice. Seven clerks were added to the department's force to handle the increase in business.

MR. TESSIO PUTS HIS TRUST IN THE TROUSERS VAULT

Charles Tessio of 1009 West Grand avenue, went into the Italian Trust and Savings bank at 495 Milwaukee avenue yesterday. There was no unusual activity there, but Tessio presented a withdrawal slip for his entire deposits, $1,000. The teller handed over a crisp $1,000 bill. Tessio started homeward. A few minutes later the bank was closed by the state auditor.

At this point, however, Tessio's luck deserted him. As he walked in front of 940 West Grand avenue, two hoodlums overpowered him. While one held him, the other extracted the crisp $1,000 bill from his pocket. Then both men fled.

BANDIT ESCAPES IN LOOP.

A hue and cry shortly after noon in the loop yesterday failed to halt a bandit who fled from the Fannie May candy shop at 323 South Dearborn street after taking $26 from Miss Cecelia Kuisa, the clerk, at the point of a gun.

STATEMENT BY DIRECTORS OF W. TOWN BANK

Directors of the West Town State bank, 2400 Madison street, at a meeting last night issued the following statement:

"After conference with the state auditor of public accounts and careful consideration of the best interests of the depositors, the directors of the West Town State bank have determined with great regret and reluctance to close its doors. We shall proceed at once in our efforts to reorganize and reopen the bank, and we are hopeful that these efforts may accomplish an early reopening.

"In the last six months a large volume of the bank's deposits have been withdrawn. In the unrest of the last few days the bank has been called upon to pay out to depositors additional large sums. The effect of these withdrawals was necessarily to reduce the percentage of the bank's assets represented by cash and more liquid investments.

"Assuming that depositors will continue to make large withdrawals, the directors are forced to contemplate the possibility that the liquid assets of the bank might be exhausted for the benefit of those who lacked confidence in the bank, and realization on long time loans would provide the only means of paying out those whose confidence remained unshaken. For equal protection of all depositors, until and unless reorganization is brought about, an orderly liquidation under the direction of the state auditor appears expedient.

"No loans of the bank's funds have been made to officers or directors of the bank, and the reduction in the percentage of its liquid assets is attributable to the rapid reduction in deposits. While there has been a loss to the bank's stockholders and a shrinkage in value of some of the bank's loans, our assets indicate that we are justified in the hope that upon liquidation or reorganization the bank's depositors may be paid in full."

YOUTHS ADMIT THREE ROBBERIES.

Roy Williamson, 24 years old, 4424 North Damen avenue, and Max Leies, 24 years old, 4615 Wrightwood avenue, confessed committing three robberies when Town Hall police arrested them while riding in a stolen car yesterday.

CHICAGO POSTOFFICE CONTRACT TO BE LET IN JULY, LEWIS TOLD

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—The contract for construction of the new Chicago postoffice is to be let early in July, treasury officials today advised Senator James Hamilton Lewis [Dem., Ill.], who called as an emissary of Mayor Cermak.

"I was told," Senator Lewis stated tonight, "that the title for the building site would be cleared up before the end of this week, thus removing the last of the obstructions to beginning early construction work. Treasury officials said the designs submitted by Graham, Anderson, Probst & White of Chicago had been approved. The specifications for construction of the buildings are to go forward to contractors within a few days, according to the officials with whom I talked."

BOY SLAYER, 15, IS INDICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Varney Corry, 15 years old, who has confessed to killing Policeman Edward Smith when the latter endeavored to eject Corry and his companions from the swimming pool of the John Marshall High school on May 30, was reported named in a true bill charging murder voted by the grand jury yesterday.

The grand jury, however, did not take action against Corry's companions, Schuyler Pierson, 16 years old, and Corry's 12 year old brother, Earl, according to reports at the Criminal Courts building. Pierson has turned state's evidence. At the prosecutor's office it was indicated that Pierson and the younger Corry boy will be turned over to the authorities of the Juvenile court for action.

Varney, however, must stand trial for murder, despite his youth. Assistant State's Attorney Elmer Holmgren took several witnesses before the jury. After a brief deliberation the true bill was reported voted.

20 Million Motorists can't be wrong!

WHAT is the best tire made? After all, conversation aside, that's what you really want to know, isn't it?

It's natural, of course, that every tire manufacturer should try to convince you his tire is best.

But if you want to cut through a welter of words to get the real low-down, listen to the 20 million car owners of the country.

They give the palm to Goodyear.

For 16 consecutive years it has been true that "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

Moreover through an impartial institution, in no way connected with the rubber industry, 205,000 car owners were asked this point-blank question:

QUESTION: "Regardless of price, convenience, etc., what make of tire do you consider the BEST tire made?"

HOW CAR OWNERS VOTED ON THE QUESTION
"WHAT TIRE IS BEST?"

SAYS LEGAL BEER CAN ADD BILLION TO U. S. REVENUE

Also Aid Jobless, Stop Sale of Poison, Hoover Told.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—To restore the manufacture and sale of beer would add a billion dollars a year to the income of the United States, President Hoover was told today by Representative L. C. Dyer [Rep., Mo.].

Of the billion additional income, Mr. Dyer told the President, one-fourth might be expected to go to the federal treasury. To restore beer, he asserted, would help relieve the unemployment situation.

Would Supplant Poison.

"I told the President," Mr. Dyer said, following the conference, "that not only would the restoration of beer do all this, but that a beer properly brewed would take the place of home brew now being made in millions of homes which is undermining the health and the morals of people. I said legally made beer would greatly minimize the drinking of strong alcoholic stuff, including poisonous beverages.

"Prohibition was passed," Mr. Dyer continued, "evidently to protect the drunkards and weaklings. It has failed in this respect because it is easy to get all kinds of concoctions that are worse for those who drink them than were the so-called intoxicating liquors obtainable before prohibition.

Means Revenue, Too.

"Before the Volstead law there was revenue for the government, the states and municipalities from beer, but now this money goes to the bootlegger. In 1914 there were manufactured some 66,000,000 barrels of beer."

At present, he said, more than this amount is consumed in the United States. In that year there was invested in the brewing industry about 800 million dollars, besides $47,000,000 in the malting. These industries employed 77,364 men, and paid them more than $83,000,000 annually.

"By beer industry, if restored," Mr. Dyer went on, "A splendid market would be made for the farmers' grain, automobiles, cooperage, building materials and for real estate. I believe that the moment beer is authorized the effect will be felt upon the employment situation."

PROSECUTOR SEEKS TO REINDICT KIRKLAND ON TWO OLD CHARGES

Valparaiso, Ind., June 10.—[Special.]—Virgil Kirkland was back in the state reformatory at Pendleton, Ind., last night beginning his affirmed sentence of from one to ten years for the murder of Arlene Draves at a Gary gin party last November. As the youth was being returned to the reformatory, under machine gun guard, State's Attorney Robert G. Estill announced he will seek support of citizens of Lake county in a move for a third trial.

Prosecutor Estill said he may seek to reindict Kirkland on the two counts dropped in his indictment in the second trial. The counts are murder by a blow from the fist and murder of striking with a blunt instrument. Kirkland was found guilty at his first trial on the former of these counts and sentenced to life imprisonment. The verdict was set aside and a new trial granted by Judge Grant Crumpacker in Porter county, who ruled evidence was insufficient. At the second trial Kirkland was found guilty and sentenced to one to ten years.

Prosecutor Estill disclosed the two trials cost Lake county $10,000. The county must reimburse Porter county, to which the case was assigned on Kirkland's appeal for a change of venue, for this amount.

YOUTHS HELD AS BURGLARS.

Frank Caruso, 2941 West Adams street, and Marshall Casaro, 632 South Claremont avenue, a boxer known in the ring as Joe Russo, both 22 years old, were held to the grand jury on charges of burglary yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in the Felony court.

DAVID DECLARES POLITICS BALKS CRIME CONTROL

Judge Blames Prohibition for Lawlessness.

Political control over prosecutors and the judiciary was listed yesterday as one of the major causes for poor crime control by Judge Joseph B. David, speaking before the interclub meeting of the Lincoln Park and Lake View Kiwanis clubs.

JUDGE DAVID.

Primal causes for crime itself were given as archaic legislation, prohibition, and poverty.

"The prosecution and judging of crime is a process to be handled by experts free of political control," Judge David said. "At the present time prosecutors are apt to forget their dual purpose—the conviction of the guilty and the protection of the innocent. Desiring political preference, seeing in the distance the governorship and presidency, the prosecutor, usually a young man, tries to roll up a long record of convictions. At the same time, he, as well as the judge, is constantly under a political pressure."

Urges Appointed Prosecutors.

Judge David recommends long terms for judges and the appointment of prosecuters by the judiciary as the only methods by which just criminal prosecution may be obtained.

"Present criminal statutes are medieval," Judge David said. "In Illinois we operate under the old common law. We still can prosecute common scolds and eavesdroppers. Our statutes must be brought up to date, but only after a comprehensive study by sociologists and criminologists.

"Discretion must be given the judge. Our present statutes provide blanket penalities. No distinction is made between manslaughter with a knife in a drunken brawl and manslaughter with an automobile. As a result we can't secure convictions in automobile cases.

Attacks Dry Law.

"Where there is any distinction it is ridiculous and often pitiful. A man steals an automobile, and is liable to from 1 to 20 years in prison. Yet he can steal $147,000 in gold and be liable to only 1 to 10 years."

To loud applause Judge David criticised prohibition as the greatest single crime excitant in history. He termed prohibition as class legislation that was never intended to be enforced, but was merely used as a political subterfuge.

"Since 1919 major crimes have increased more than 20 per cent," he said, "and prohibition is directly responsible for 75 per cent of that increase."

ARREST ORDERED IN BORDER DEATH OF RUM RUNNER

Watertown, N. Y., June 10.—(AP)—The arrest of Harold G. Markham United States customs border patrolman, stationed at Clayton, was ordered today on a warrant charging him with manslaughter, first degree, in the fatal shooting yesterday of Donald Tremont, known to police as a rum runner.

The warrant was issued by City Judge J. A. McConnell on information furnished by the sheriff, Frank D. Walrath.

This development came after the assistant district attorney, Carl J. Hynes, notified the district attorney's office here from New York that the bullet taken from Tremont's body, according to the findings of the ballistics expert of the New York City police, had been fired from Markham's gun.

Tremont was killed in attempting, it was said, to elude Markham and a fellow officer, Perl Lewis, sent out on a tip to stop a load of intoxicants. Markham said at the time that he had not intended to shoot the man—that the bullet must have glanced from a rock.

Exonerate Missouri Sheriff.

Springfield, Mo., June 10.—[Special.]—A. N. Hensley, sheriff of Lawrence county, who last night killed Louis Craker, alleged moonshiner, who resisted arrest, was exonerated by a coroner's jury today.

DRY FOES ASSAIL PROHIBITION AS PROSPERITY BAR

PARIS, June 10.—(AP)—The world anti-prohibition congress, at its closing session today, adopted a resolution renewing the faith of the congress in "the principle of individual liberty and the conviction that the sane usage of alcoholic beverages is the best antidote for their abuse."

Delegates from 17 countries denounced obstacles to free distribution of wine, liquor, and beer products, which they said were "ridiculous" in the face of the present economic crisis.

The congress prepared to renew the battle against "moral, economic, and social disorders in countries where idealistic prohibition is partially or wholly applied."

Speeding away from a Lincoln park policeman after being stopped for speeding yesterday cost Mrs. Betty Dixon, 158 North Central avenue, $20 in Town Hall court. Judge Leon Edelman dismissed the charge of disorderly conduct. Mrs. Dixon, wife of an automobile salesman, was arrested May 29 by Lincoln Park Policeman Frank Lewis, who charged that after he stopped her she sped away and was caught again only after a 70 mile an hour chase.

CHICHERIN PENS RUSSIA'S FUTURE TO WILD MUSIC

Stricken While Working on Report for Stalin.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MOSCOW, May 1.—[By mail via Harbin, Manchuria.]—A stricken man suffering acutely from diabetes, which all the savants in Germany have failed to alleviate, G. V. Chicherin, long time commissar for foreign affairs of soviet Russia, still occupies the suite of apartments in the Narkomindel building, across the street from the G. P. U. headquarters in the Lubianka.

Chicherin has aged greatly in the last three years. His face is drawn with suffering, but he still affects the little Van Dyke beard and the carefully trimmed mustache which distinguished him before the revolution, when he was in the diplomatic service of Czar Nicholas and later when he was chief foreign delegate for the bolsheviki at the Genoa conference, at The Hague, and again at Lausanne.

Chicherin is not as mad as gossip has it. But his malady makes him incoherent at times. In the crises of his illness he resorts to the one pleasure he has left—his harp. The former foreign minister is a great musician and can play the harp like a maestro. It is said that the world lost a great harpist when he turned to diplomacy as his life's vocation.

Starts Work on Report.

Recently when the Kremlin was extremely worried over Russia's political relations with foreign powers when persistent reports came from east and west that intervention was being plotted to overthrow the communists, when rumor had it that Japan was preparing to strike at Vladivostok and that Poland and Rumania were massing strength to invade from the west, Chicherin began a report for Dictator Stalin.

Surveying the European situation, the crafty master mind pointed out unerringly the fallacies of the apprehensions surging over Moscow. He stressed the position of Britain, determined to maintain peace in Europe for at least another decade. He pointed at France as already worried over the naval impasse with Italy, and fearful lest the fabric of the Versailles treaty be shattered by the impending customs union between Germany and Austria. He also looked lightly on the aspirations of Warsaw toward the Ukraine. He insisted that Japan, admitted under duress to the councils of the five great powers, was not prepared to jeopardize this prestige by the possibility of a check or defeat in the military field.

Then, when he reached this point in the report and before he had drawn up his conclusions, an attack of diabetes struck him.

He turned from his great oval table, covered with notes and maps and scraps of his report, seized his only solace, his harp, and began to play. He improvised, and as he struck forth the chords he turned from the instrument to jot new ideas and memoranda on his tablet.

Collapses; Harp Beside Chair.

For hours Chicherin played and wrote, constructing an entire theme in symphony with the thoughts surging through his fevered brain. He collapsed when the crisis passed, and his secretary found him, head bowed on his desk, the room littered with sheets of foolscap comprising his report, the great harp fallen over to the floor beside his chair.

They gathered up the report and pieced it together as the sheets were carefully numbered. But no man could read it. At least none could read it accurately. For interspersed with the words legibly written in Russian script were set down flights of music, the notes and guiding lines all faultlessly inscribed.

As the conclusion of the report worked up to the wave of fear sweeping over the world, iterated and reiterated by the spokesman of the powers at Geneva in their demand that the league of nations hold its disarmament conference without further delay, it broke up suddenly from words and switched to music.

"Crescendo," he marked, and then set down a crashing cacophony illustrating the aural aspect of the situation. He called in the drums of war, the trumpets of cavalry, the booming of artillery, the reedy shrieks of wounded, the brass of battle, and then closed with a mournful dirge of stringed instruments, depicting the end.

An attaché of the foreign office, a musician himself, essayed to play over the notes, with the instructions marked as Chicherin had marked them. He told Maxim Litvinov, who later became foreign commissar, that they described in musical terms the world situation today better than any words might have depicted it.

But the report was never completed and never sent to Stalin.

Significance of Quality

Many new Patrons are surprised to find that our prices are actually no higher than elsewhere for similar quality. With so many shops skimping quality to reduce cost, it is refreshing to know that in any of our four Establishments only the very Best in Materials and Workmanship is obtainable.

We cater to a very large Clientele—Men who demand and can afford the Best. Our Aim is constantly to enhance quality, thus assuring our Patrons the Finest Merchandise the world produces. Our prices are strictly in accordance with the necessary cost of Quality Production—always consistent with Intrinsic Value, and you also have the advantage of Boundless Varieties from which to choose whether selecting in our New York, Chicago, London or Paris Shops.

Good-they've got to be good!

A gallant army of
help fight your battle in the cause of Health

What modern civilization owes the trained nurse can't be figured in dollars. Tireless, patient, efficient, she has earned one of the highest places in public and private esteem. We couldn't do without her—why not tell her so?

They have a way with them, too!

Not only do you trust them, but you like them. And it's the same with a good cigarette.

Smokers stick to CHESTERFIELD because they find them dependably milder. You can smoke as many as you like.

And CHESTERFIELD smokes more evenly. Credit that to the ripe mild tobaccos and the pure imported cigarette paper.

Every CHESTERFIELD is made to smoke milder and to taste better.

U. S. ARCHITECTS RELIVE STUDENT REVELS IN PARIS

Don Cotton Beards for Four Arts Ball.

BY EGBERT SWENSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 11.—[Thursday.]—The annual Quat'z-Arts ball, the one and only, which after functioning for more than two centuries has become a model for artists' jamborees the world over, got started at midnight quite undaunted by Police Chief Chiappe's sudden insistence on decorum.

A delegation of American architects, now in Paris, featured this wanton riot, breaking in solely by virtue of their standing as old "grads" of the Beaux Arts school. If they had come on the usual Franco-American amity basis they would have been thrown out heavily on their ear.

The Americans approached the outer guards attired in Greek garb in conformity with the Grecian theme of the fête. They had pasted white cotton beards on their chins, modestly playing the rôle of patriarchs among the youngsters dressed as blasé Greek youths.

Bouncers Dressed as Slaves.

In order to prevent other Americans from sneaking in alongside the architects, student organizers stationed one member of the architects' party as a bouncer at the entrance to check off the American delegation and make sure that only bona fide skyscraper builders with a Beaux Arts background should enter.

The bouncers were dressed as Nubian slaves and blacked with paint which came off plentifully. This means that, if once bounced, you got so smudged that you were easily recognized and thrown out the second time with increased enthusiasm and vigor.

Old-Timers Shake Heads.

Girls, with flowing Grecian robes intact, were still arriving at the jamboree at 1:30 this morning, which was called a bad sign by many old-timers, who indicated that the Quat'z-Arts is not what is used to be. But the younger optimists laughed that off as the perennial wail of graybeards which always is proved all wrong before morning. No girl ever went through the Quat'z-Arts ball without losing more or less of her costume in the wear and tear of the delirious proceedings.

Lady Godiva's horse—Lady Godiva as queen of the ball is the annual feature—was balky and had to be coaxed into the hall with some difficulty at 12:30 a. m. And despite orders of Police Chief Chiappe art circles promised that there will be the usual nude parades at daybreak and the usual swimming in downtown Paris fountains.

WILL CELEBRATE NATIONAL FLAG DAY ON SUNDAY

Sunday, June 14, is Flag day. Dr. B. J. Cigrand of Batavia, president of the National Flag Day association, yesterday announced patriotic and civic organizations are coöperating to present the most elaborate observance of recent years. Mayor Cermak issued a proclamation setting aside Sunday to commemorate the adoption of the flag and urging all Chicagoans to take part in observance of the occasion Sunday and Monday.

More than 700 programs have been planned by American Legion posts in Illinois, Dr. Cigrand said.

U. S. TO SPEED UP WORK ON ILLINOIS WATERWAY LINK

Faster Progress Made Than Expected.

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley said today that construction of the Illinois river link of the lakes to the gulf waterway will be speeded up still further this fall and next year. Investigation has shown, he said, that it will be possible to prosecute the construction of the nine foot channel project faster than first anticipated.

Hope to Finish Next Year.

The present plans call for allocation of funds for the Chicago to New Orleans waterway at a rate which will enable the engineers in charge to carry on the work as fast as it can be done economically. War department officials would like to complete the project late in 1932, but it is still too early to state, it was said, whether this can be done.

Thus far $5,665,000 has been allotted for carrying on the Illinois project. Of this sum $3,400,000 has not been expended. It is expected, however, that all this will be spent and more allotted by next spring. The total authorization for the Illinois river project, including the Grafton-Utica section and the Utica-Lockport segment, is $11,000,000. Of this sum $5,400,000 has not been allocated.

Money Available as Needed.

As the rivers and harbors appropriation is voted in a lump sum, it will be possible for the corps of engineers to advance the money for construction work as fast as it can be expended. The plan now, as explained today, is to supply funds to the engineers in charge as fast as they can be used.

The corps of engineers is now working on a survey of the lower Illinois river to determine what canalization work would have to be done to insure a nine foot channel in event the water diversion from Lake Michigan is cut down to any considerable amount below the present flow.

"Give me but the liberty of the press, and I will give to the minister a venal house of peers. I will give him a packed and servile commons. I will give him the full swing of the patronage of office. I will give him the whole host of sanhedrim influences. I will give him all the power that place can confer upon him, to purchase up submission and accomplices, and unscrupulous tools, and yet, armed with the liberty of the press, I will attack the mighty fabric of that mightier empire. I will shake down from its high eminence and usurp and tranquilize the mind of that almost omnipotent monarch, and save my country in spite of himself."

—Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

A CORRECTION.

Through a slip of the pen a sentence in yesterday's editorial in opposition to the bill to extend the sidewalk lease was made to read that it is the duty of the council, not the legislature, to regulate municipal transportation by subway. The word was used in connection with protecting the welfare of the city's population. This, as we intended to say, is the imperative duty of the council, and, pending that action, any proposal by the legislature to lengthen the term of aldermanic authority is not to the interest of Chicago.

WHERE THE RESPONSIBILITY LIES.

The financial anarchy in the public affairs of Chicago, Cook county and the state of Illinois has been produced by a period of government for the greater part, both in state and municipal administration, by Republican majorities. There has been a Republican governor and Republican legislature. There was a Republican mayor, a Republican school board, and a Republican board of review. This state and municipal rule which intervened in the Democratic reign Republican failure in Republican administration.

Responsibility for whatever may be made, therefore, by the coming legislature and other bodies, by the Republican party. The various branches of government may have temporarily been held from time to time by the Democrats, but the control was positive under Republican officials, state and city, by the assembly and council, in their departments and city offices, and by those officials. Their subjection or lack of it, what they did or did not do, the benefits earned by and to the city, all is Republican. It is without form, plan or authority.

Debts have been incurred still to serve ills for which debts have been levied have not been collected. Taxes which should have been collected have not been assessed. Pay rolls cannot be met. City supplies have not been paid and there is no money to pay them. Default in the payment on interest and bonds, and already has been in fact. Taxpayers are refusing to meet their obligations to public service. Collection is disorganized by intimation. Government is thrown into confusion. Profligacy and senility, malfeasance and incompetence have shot their bolts.

Mayor Cermak is quite aware of the responsibility. He has been elected to the post of honor in the center of the wreckage. His campaign promises have been the proof of fact. What the results have been is evidence of what will happen. The mayor has appealed to the governor and to the legislature. He said his efforts to make desperate economies have been rendered impossible by the Republican party in power. At Springfield there is a vast amount of evidence that there will be no responsibility. Both there and here the Republican party is responsible.

THE MAYOR CARRIES ON.

Mayor Cermak has given further evidence this week of his determination to build a competent and responsible city administration. We refer to his selection of William H. Burton as corporation counsel to succeed Mr. Busch, who accepted reappointment with the understanding that he might be relieved as soon as convenient, due to the removal of the personnel with new high administration, of the taxing board of appeals.

Mr. Burton is not only a lawyer of high standing at the Chicago bar but is an expert in the law of municipalities. An assistant corporation counsel and corporation counsel under Carter Harrison, as well as in important private practice involving municipal relations, he has a fund of experience which few lawyers in the city, if any, possess. The mayor and the city are to be congratulated upon having so well fitted a chief for the law department. It qualifies regret for the retirement of Mr. Busch, but not, we trust, the citizens' gratitude for Mr. Busch's fine public service. Without regard for his own personal convenience Mr. Busch stepped into the breach and performed the most thankless task of cleaning up the deplorable conditions created by the Thompson law department. His integrity and knowledge were indispensable to the mayor at the beginning of his task and have laid foundations for Mr. Burton to build upon.

The removal of Thompson's taxing board of appeals was another important step forward, and the council should adopt the mayor's proposal by authorizing him to appoint other city officials to perform the work of the board, thus saving the annually of unnecessary expenditure.

DEMOCRATS WOLF GET.

(Enid Daily Eagle (Okla.) Press.)

Gov. Roberts will get nauseating the remarks of public officials that is familiarizing. The more warning we have heard about their ever-large vacations of interest at one time or another.

There are evils in the utilities system. There are evils in any great business or enterprise. But to say that officials in private ownership are friendly to the evils of the system, something more sub-stantial than assertion is way of proof.

To hate the industry has contributed heavily to the suffering of all classes. In one southern state it has been shown the utility interests have directly responsible for more than 400 new industries. The duty of utility executive is the duty of industrial statesmen. Sitting republican would hand the end of the growth. Increasing equalities also is fully found as an opening wedge for increasing federal ownership and political domination.

Mr. Roberts has not shown of a statesman and new understanding, and and those hard power questions. It is known he has advocated an increasingly centralized regulation that, while natural for a few important power centers, might easily go on to be an instrument of rule over the railroads, Michigan has shown that state regulation can be liberal and economical, and need not be theoretical. Roberts wrangled against officials, with as the South Dakota commission in Illinois.

Because electric utility earnings have not been official profits to the depression, Mr. Roberts assumes the industry is unfriendly asking the public. The truth probably is that utilities in industrial districts have suffered least, while others have maintained their earnings though not expanded, and have earning them to new customer levels. Moderate power commissions in theory as stable as that of water companies, and therefore would all be subject to the wide fluctuations of other commodities.

There is a "wolf cry" in Mr. Roberts' and this is the wolf cry of public investment and delusive yearning security and giving the inevitable natural industry and stigma of economic fraud.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS.

The death, each year, of automobile accidents, and the number of persons injured, are appalling. Statistics are being gathered by the insurance companies, and other agencies, with the hope that by means of road building, traffic regulations, and other means, the number of accidents may be reduced. Some day, perhaps, the accident rate will be reduced to a point where the Philadelphia Ledger's comment on the number of persons killed by lightning will be applicable to automobile accidents. It says:

"The lightning death rate is one of the constant factors in the chances we run. We simply accept it as one of the penalties we must pay for living on the earth. The danger does not cause us to stay indoors, or to refrain from going out in the rain. We take it for granted that we will not be killed by lightning, and we are not. The number of persons killed by lightning each year is known, but no one thinks of it. The number killed by automobiles is known, but we are constantly thinking of it. We should treat both dangers with the same calmness. We should not be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by lightning, but we should be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by automobiles. We should not be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by lightning, but we should be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by automobiles. We should not be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by lightning, but we should be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by automobiles."

The writer has a message of safety, which, if followed, would save many lives. He says that we should not be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by lightning, but we should be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by automobiles. We should not be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by lightning, but we should be afraid to go out in the rain because we may be killed by automobiles.

The writer has a message of safety, which, if followed, would save many lives. FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Chicago, June 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Some time ago I built where I had an account and also a lot in their vault closed. It has been a long time now since it has been closed, and the only intimation I received of the fact was in the papers. Since then, I received no notice giving permission to enter the vault to get papers or to make to its reopening my account. Just yesterday a friend happened to be passing the bank and noticed that people were allowed to go into the vault and also allowed to fill out blanks for their accounts. As it happens I work every day and naturally I can't go down to the bank to see if it is open.

1. Don't you think notice should be sent out? 2. Is there a law wherein they are obliged to mail out these notices? 3. Have the banks the right to hold up your money in their vaults? A. E. C.

1. That we have no legal obligation to send out notices.
2. No.
3. Yes.

In connection with this particular request, I wish to say that all examinations are open only to residents of the city of Chicago for a period of at least one year immediately preceding date of such examination.

—Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

A CORRECTION.

Through a slip of the pen a sentence in yesterday's editorial in opposition to the bill to extend the aldermanic term was deprived of meaning. It is the duty of the council, not the legislature, to reapportion council representation by redrawing the ward lines in accordance with present distribution of the city's population. This, as we intended to say, is the imperative duty of the council, and, pending that action, any proposal by the legislature to lengthen the term of aldermen is doubly unjust to the citizens of Chicago.

WHERE THE RESPONSIBILITY LIES.

The financial anarchy in the public affairs of Chicago, Cook county and the state of Illinois has been produced by a period of government for the greater part, both in time and area, under Republican administration. There has been a Republican governor and Republican legislature. There was a Republican mayor, a Republican school board, and a Republican board of review. The state tax commission which intervened in the assessments was Republican under a Republican administration.

Regardless of explanations which may be made, the anarchy has its sources, legislative and administrative, in the Republican party. The various divisions of government may toss responsibility back and forth and try to evade it, but the conditions were produced under Republican officials, state and city, in the assembly and council, in state departments and city offices, and by these officials. Their coöperation or lack of it, what they did or did not do, has brought anarchy, and it is nothing less. It is without form, plan or authority.

Debts have been incurred until no more can be. Taxes which have been levied have not been collected. Taxes which should have been collected have not even been assessed. Pay rolls cannot be met. City employés have not been paid and there is no money to pay them. Default is the prospect on interest and bonds, and already has been a fact. Taxpayers are refusing to meet their obligations to public service. Collection is restrained by injunction. Government is disintegrating. Profligacy and stupidity, malfeasance and incompetence have about done their worst.

Mayor Cermak is quite aware of the impending collapse. He has been elected to the post of honor in the center of the wreckage. His warnings have the proof of fact. What has already happened is evidence of what will happen. The mayor has appealed to the governor and to the legislature. He and his advisers in these desperate circumstances have made suggestions and are open to them. At Springfield there is a cool assumption that no responsibility rests there and that consequently there need be no concern.

It is a Republican party achievement, this unbelievable tearing down of the administrative form of an American state and city. The destruction, incredible as the wreckage appears, has its origins all in the Republican party in Illinois.

This party in control of the legislature may try to pass down the other side of the road and it will find itself buried under a falling wall. Whatever happens to it will be less than its deserts. Its officials in Springfield may profit by the warning or go their way to the consequences.

MAN-KILLING LAW ENFORCEMENT.

An Oklahoma deputy sheriff has made a disagreeable international incident by shooting two Mexican youths, one being a relative of President Ortiz Rubio. President Hoover has cabled an expression of regret to the Mexican president. The American ambassador has expressed the regret of the American state department to the Mexican foreign office, and Gov. Murray of Oklahoma has made the state's apologies through the Mexican consul in Oklahoma City. The governor said the boys had done no wrong, although they were carrying firearms in violation of law.

The young men were students in the United States returning home by automobile, and it is not clear why they were accosted by the deputies or what offered the excuse for shooting them. Gov. Murray in his letter said American officers too often construe an incident as a justification for firing. That became true with the federal enforcement of the Volstead act. The shooting of innocent citizens, such as Jacob Hanson of Niagara, was extenuated, condoned or defended by persons who asserted the worthiness of their cause and the morality of their intentions. The government protected the killers in each case from state prosecution, and a theory of immunity from punishment in such manslaughter grew up. Armed officials on the highway became quite as dangerous as bandits.

Criticism of this procedure and of its moralistic background was cried down as unrighteous, and irresponsibility in the name of the law increased. The state of Oklahoma and the federal government now regret an international episode. Apologies are offered for it. None were ever offered the family of Mr. Hanson.

PAY YOUR TAXES.

Suits have been filed in both the federal and state courts to enjoin the collection of the 1929 taxes in Cook county. What the final outcome of this litigation will be no one can say, but the consequences of nonpayment of taxes can be foreseen without difficulty.

If taxes are not paid Chicago will make measurable progress on the road to insecurity. The police department will be undermined. Its personnel will be reduced in numbers and in morale. Consequently, the safety of life and property will be lessened. The breakdown of the fire department can have equally serious results. The public health will be endangered. The schools will be forced to operate on a reduced schedule. Street repair, street cleaning and the removal of garbage and ashes may cease. The picture is not a pretty one, but it must be faced.

No doubt there are many in Chicago who would pay their taxes if they had the money. This editorial is not addressed to them, but to the far more numerous class composed of property owners who have or can raise the tax money, but on one pretext or another are seeking to avoid their obligations. Mr. Hewitt estimates that 40 per cent of the taxes due on May 15 are delinquent. Times are hard, but it is impossible to believe that 40 per cent of the property in Cook county is owned by the destitute. Oak Forest is not that well populated.

Those who are waiting to pay until they see what the courts decide about the legality of the levy can anchor to the fact that sixty per cent of the taxes have been paid. Even if the levy is thrown out it is difficult to believe that the forty per cent who have not paid will be treated more favorably than the sixty per cent who have. If the taxes are funded, those who have paid will not be penalized, for to penalize the majority would be political suicide.

Meanwhile the refusal to pay taxes is undermining the security of life, health and property in Chicago. It is based on the wholly false assumption that the governments of Chicago can function without money. They cannot; and the sooner the recalcitrant taxpayers realize it the better for all concerned, and not least of all themselves. After all, a great part of the public revenue is devoted precisely to the safeguarding of the property on which taxes are delinquent. If the taxes are not paid, the owners of property must be the principal sufferers from any governmental collapse which ensues.

THE MAYOR CARRIES ON.

Mayor Cermak has given further evidence this week of his determination to build a competent and responsible city administration. We refer to his selection of William H. Sexton as corporation counsel to succeed Mr. Busch, who accepted temporary appointment with the understanding that he would be relieved as soon as convenient, and to the removal of the personnel, with one negligible exception, of the zoning board of appeals.

Mr. Sexton is not only a lawyer of high standing at the Chicago bar but is an expert in the law of municipalities. As assistant corporation counsel and corporation counsel under Carter Harrison, as well as in important private practice involving municipal relations, he has a fund of experience which few lawyers in the city, if any, possess. The mayor and the city are to be congratulated upon having so well fitted a chief of the law department. It qualifies regret for the retirement of Mr. Busch, but not, we trust, the citizens' gratitude for Mr. Busch's fine public service. Without regard for his own personal convenience Mr. Busch stepped into the emergency and performed the most irksome duty, that of cleaning up the deplorable conditions created by the Thompson law department. His integrity and knowledge were indispensable to the mayor at the beginning of his task and have laid foundations for Mr. Sexton to build upon.

The removal of Thompson's zoning board of appeals was another important step forward, and the council should adopt the mayor's proposal by authorizing him to appoint other city officials to perform the work of the board, thus saving $27,000 annually of unnecessary expenditure.

PINCHOT'S WOLF CRY.

[Grand Rapids (Mich.) Press.]

Gov. Pinchot's wolf cry concerning the menace of public utilities has a familiar ring. The same warning has been raised against almost every large combination of interests at one time or another.

There are evils in the utilities system. There are evils in any great business or enterprise. But to say that utilities in private ownership are threatening the "rule of the people" requires something more substantial than assertion by way of proof.

To date the industry has contributed heavily to the building up of industrialism. In one southern state it has been shown the utility interests have been directly responsible for more than 400 new industries. The story of utility expansion is the story also of industrial expansion. Stifling regulation could mean the end of this growth. Increasing regulation also is justly feared as an opening wedge for increasing federal ownership and political operation.

Mr. Pinchot has had visions of a superpower control over hydro-electric, coal and steam plant power production. It is known he has advocated an increasingly centralized regulation that, while justified for a few interstate power concerns, might easily go on to be as complete as that over the railroads. Michigan has shown that state regulation can be honest and competent, and need not be discarded despite occasional shameful exhibits, such as the Smith-Insull transaction in Illinois.

Because electric utility earnings have not been affected greatly by the depression, Mr. Pinchot assumes this industry is universally milking the public. The truth probably is that utilities in industrial districts have suffered losses, while others have maintained their earnings through new expansion and rates reaching down to new consumer levels. Household power consumption is almost as stable as food or water consumption, and therefore would not be subject to the wide fluctuation of other commodities.

There is a "wolf cry" to be feared more than Mr. Pinchot's, and that is the wolf cry of public ownership—a snare and delusion promising economy and giving the inevitable political inefficiency and stagnation of enterprise instead.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS.

THE wide use of automobiles and their weight and speed have increased the number of accidents and their average severity. Hospitals along paved highways are being crippled financially by the demands put on them by reason of road accidents. The wounded are helpless, and often unconscious, and they must be cared for, although the hospital knows from experience that there will be no money forthcoming to meet the expenses to which accidents put them.

Dr. J. J. Morehead advocates a form of state accident insurance in which a part of the gasoline tax would be paid to hospitals for the care of the injured. Having got this matter off his chest, Dr. Morehead devoted the remainder of a paper given the Philadelphia Medical society to his views on methods of caring for wounds.

He told them that every machinery wound was infected and was to be treated as such. He thought plenty of clean soap and water was better for a wound than chemical disinfectants. When he had to use any he used iodine, but in most cases he used nothing except soap and water. If the wound was badly soiled, if the injured part had been ground into the soil, he injected tetanus antitoxin.

Having cleaned the wound he thought it best to trim away badly wounded, shredded, torn tissues. He dressed wounds as openly as possible. If he sewed them up he left the stitches untied, or tied with stitches not drawn tightly. The chance to drain freely must not be interfered with.

If bones are broken in the accident they must be splinted before any moving is done. For the purpose of temporary splinting a stick, board, or umbrella will suffice.

He uses hot, wet dressings of salt solution, soda solution, or sulphate of magnesium solution. An electric light bulb can be used to keep the dressings warm. The dressings are changed as infrequently as possible, because unnecessary dressing increases the chance of a bad infection.

In the first stages of burns he advocates wet dressings of soda solution. When the burn is granulating exposure to sunlight or to electric light daily is beneficial. Between such light treatments the burn is covered with soothing, sterilizing dressings.

If an abscess forms he does not open it until it is well towards a head. It is a mistake to cut through good tissues to let pus out. At least wait until the pus is well walled off and until it can be reached without opening much tissue.

In splinting up an injured part the effort should be to provide for as much motion of nearby joints and muscles as is possible. This decreases the danger of stiff joints and wasted muscles.

MENTAL TRAINING NEEDED.

M. S. writes: My mind is overrun by morbid thoughts. Examination by physicians shows no physical disease. Can you suggest some remedy?

REPLY.

Yours is a case for mental training. That is the remedy for you.

SYMPTOMS OF TUBERCULOSIS.

R. C. writes: What are the first symptoms of tuberculosis?

REPLY.

Fatigability is about the earliest symptom. Loss of weight, pallor, slight fever, and a little cough are also early symptoms.

BRONCHITIS AND CLIMATE.

Mrs. L. C. writes: My husband has sinus trouble and chronic bronchitis. In which state would the climate be of most benefit to him?

REPLY.

Arizona, New Mexico, eastern California, western Texas. The mildness of the gulf coast and Florida would be beneficial, but the humidity would not be so good. The dryness of Utah, Oregon, Washington, Colorado, and the Dakotas would be good, but the cold would be something of an offset.

LAWFUL PAY DAYS.

Chicago, June 8.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is it lawful for a corporation to pay employés every 6th and 21st of each month? If starting on the first, employé receives pay on the 21st for only the first to fifteenth, inclusive.

2. Is it lawful to change above system on only two days' notice and extend pay day to the 12th and receive same wage which would be due the 6th? New pay days are being set as the 12th and 27th of each month.

3. What can an employé do without jeopardizing his position? EMPLOYE.

1. Yes.
2. There is no statutory prohibition.
3. Nothing.

DEPOSIT BOXES OPEN.

Chicago, June 8.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Some time ago a bank where I had an account and also a box in their vault closed. It has been a long time now since it has been closed, and the only indication I received of its closing down was in the papers. Since then I received no notice giving permission to enter the vault to get papers or no blank to fill regarding my account. Just yesterday a friend happened to be passing the bank and noticed that people were allowed to go into the vault and also allowed to fill out blanks for their account. As it happens I work every day and naturally I can't go down to the bank to see if it is open.

1. Don't you think notices should be sent out? 2. Is there a law wherein they are obliged to send out these notices? 3. Have the banks the right to look into your boxes in their vaults? A. H. G.

1. They are under no legal obligation to send out such notices.
2. No.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THE BATH TUB FOLLOWS THE FLAG!

Comes a cable from Nicaragua that our marines stationed there pay the cleanest man in the native constabulary a bright silver dollar every Saturday night. Thus we see that sending our marines to Nicaragua has done great good after all; it is carrying the grand old American custom of taking a bath on every Saturday night into the dark and less cultured portions of the globe. The Saturday night bath is one of the greatest of our firmly established American institutions.

Fifty years ago it was in the same stage as prohibition is now, a noble experiment. People occasionally took a bath on Saturday night, but they did it with doubt, misgivings, suspicions, and often under compulsion. People who had the audacity to install porcelain bath tubs in their homes and announce that you might take as many as two baths a week besides the regular one on Saturday with hot and cold water running in so they could have a regular bathing carnival on Saturday night were mobbed and sometimes ridden out of town on a rail.

But human nature, though stubborn, yields in time; and right will always come uppermost and ever is justice done. And in time the Saturday night bath innovation became more or less accepted throughout the country and in a large portion quite popular.

Today very few Americans blush with shame or try to conceal the fact that they heartily favor the taking of a bath every Saturday night. Not that they always do it, but they are in favor of it.

This noble American institution is now, we find, being carried by our marines to the uttermost corners of the earth. The untutored native of the jungle, dressed usually in naught but a gee string and a happy smile, is being initiated into the delight of a bath every Saturday night. It will Americanize them faster than anything else. They may fight and scream at first and soak the marines on the snoot, but in time they will get so Americanized they will sing in their tub. That is the final proof. When a man sings in his tub he is happy and a confirmed Saturday night bather.

Ah, indeed, may we rejoice when we read again that wonderful line in the cable news: "The marines have landed and have the situation well in hand." For we will know that the marines have not only the situation but they have the naked denizens of the earth's neglected spaces well in hand and are dousing them in a tub on Saturday night and rubbing soap into 'em with a broom.

FOR A GREAT SURGEON.

Your hands so strong and firm, so sensitive
To those fine balances in flesh that will Assure the being's welfare or destroy,
Your hands so steady and so sure of skill—
How many times they throttle pain and give
Its rightful heritage of health and joy
Back to some body cheated and bereft,
Restoring its estate of usefulness;
How many times, unhesitating, deft,
They grasp elusive life to bid it stay
Within the shell some ill would dispossess;
How many times they motion death away.

WE USED TO THINK that "Eat Shoppe" was the lowest depth to which our beautiful English language could be dragged. But yesterday we saw a phrase even more horrible. Cheer up, doc, the people who sit around on the beach collecting a sun tan aren't losing any work days. They wouldn't be working anyhow, and if they're down on the beach we at least know where they are.

WE ARE SO DISAPPOINTED that television for the small home does not seem a possibility this summer. When coming in from the hot, dusty street it would be such a pleasure to sit down in front of the radio-television thing and see a man in Toronto or Montreal blowing the froth from a great, cold stein of beer and then sipping it slowly and happily. Or maybe it isn't such a good idea after all. We can think of some men who would have to be taken away to a padded cell before that television picture was half over.

SENATOR ROBERT WAGNER of New York says we must act immediately if present day civilization is to be saved. But as we look around and see the gels parading around without any eyebrows and listen to the awful sound of jazz and hear the radio announcers announcing and see what the talkies have done to the stage, we really don't see why present day civilization has got to be saved. It really doesn't seem to be worth the effort.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 11, 1915.

CHICAGO.—An immediate strike of 14,250 street car employés and a complete tie-up of the traction lines of the city was averted when a truce to continue until tomorrow night at least was brought about. In the meantime International President W. D. Mahon of Detroit will come to Chicago to confer over the situation.

WASHINGTON. — President Wilson's rejoinder to Germany—the note which caused the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan because he feared it might precipitate war—was made public by the state department. In the rejoinder, which is of strong but pacific tone, the President calls on Germany to give assurance that henceforth it will comply with the principles of international law, particularly the rules requiring the captor to visit and search a prize and to transfer noncombatants to a place of safety before destroying a merchant vessel. The strongest argument in the note, in the opinion of officials, is a paragraph in which the President pleads the cause of humanity as paramount to all the circumstances alleged in justification of the sinking of the Lusitania. For this act he sees no justification.

LONDON.—With Monfalcone on the Gulf of Trieste in the hands of the Italians, with terrific battles raging all along the Isonzo river as far north as Caporetto, King Emmanuel's Trentino army has taken Roveredo and is shelling Trient, according to unofficial advices from Berne. A Rome dispatch says that in addition to the capture of Monfalcone, the fall of Goritz, capital of the Austrian province of that name, is believed imminent.

JUNE 11, 1901.

CHICAGO.—Fire Marshal Denis J. Swenie tendered his resignation to Mayor Harrison and thus ended 51 years' service in the Chicago fire department, a service which started in a company equipped with hand engines and ends in one of the greatest departments in the world. His letter reads: "Having been advised by my physicians that it would not be wise for me to continue in active service as fire marshal, I hereby tender my resignation, to take effect at your pleasure." Chief Swenie is 66 years old.

NEW YORK.—The Standard Oil interests today secured control of the American Linseed company, electing ten of the fifteen directors, including John D. Rockefeller Jr., F. T. Gates, George Wellwood Murray, E. Parmelee Prentice, and George Z. Rogers.

LONDON.—Sir Walter Besant, M. A., F. S. A., the author, and Robert Buchanan, the author, poet and dramatist, are dead. Both men held high places in English literature. Besant was noted for his work in the interest of the poor and Buchanan was sometimes called "chastiser of British immorals." Besant was 64 years old and Buchanan 59.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 11, 1881.

CHICAGO.—The Hon. William Windom, secretary of the treasury, made a flying trip to Chicago, where he inspected the custom house. He was treated to a lake trip and visited the Board of Trade, where he was joyously received by the bulls and bears. In the evening a reception was given for him at the rooms of the Union League club, which were thronged by between six and seven hundred representative citizens of Chicago.

CHICAGO.—The Margaret Fuller society met at the Grand Pacific hotel and discussed the question of the natural ownership of the soil, under the leadership of Mrs. Lucinda B. Chandler, the ideas advanced being chiefly rankest communism.

CHICAGO.—The matter of sending an aldermanic delegation to London to look up pavements in company with the mayor, as suggested by the latter, was freely discussed by the aldermen around the city hall. Very naturally, all expressed themselves in favor of the plan, and it is more than likely it will be brought up at the meeting of the council tomorrow. The mayor insisted that it would be $600 well spent to send the committee to Europe.

MEDICAL TESTIMONY.

Forest Park, Ill., June 4.—Having read with interest your editorial of June 1, commenting favorably on legislative efforts in Wisconsin to put expert testimony on a better foundation, there occurs the thought that it might be well to take up the matter of the hired medical expert a little more thoroughly.

Why should not the right of hiring paid experts be definitely foreclosed? Why should not the choosing of experts be only in such manner that the outcome of a trial stands in no relationship to the experts' bankroll? Has anybody ever heard of a hired expert testifying disinterestedly? Are not his findings always in conformity with the source of his pay check?

The legal appanage of the "hired medical expert" forms an important link in the stage setting of the present day courtroom, where the bald effrontery of legalistic trickery has superseded dignified legal procedure, and criminal trials often degenerate into a travesty and mockery of justice. A situation utterly confusing to the average jury, utterly disgusting to all persons with any common sense in their makeup, and utterly entertaining and satisfying to morons, scandalmongers, professional criminals and criminal lawyers.

Why not get rid of the "hired" medical expert? He's just a damnable nuisance. To get rid of him is a not unimportant item, among others, that must be considered in the general and imperative necessity for delousing the American criminal courts so that they can function properly and get back to the old standard of a just and fair trial—no more, no less—for every accused person.

If changes in state constitutions are necessary to bring this about, let's have the changes. PAUL H. BRAUER.

ADDITIONAL TAXES.

Chicago, Ill., May 27.—The burden of taxation in the form of a general property tax is already excessive, but added to this are many other unjust and unfair taxes, including:

Annual inspection fee for a boiler—$5—which, on low pressure boilers, is ridiculous; in the first place because they are not inspected and in the second place because they have automatic protection. The writer has never yet heard of any damage resulting from low pressure boilers, which are used in the ordinary flat buildings.

The latest notification we have received is a fee for inspection of iceboxes.

Then there is an inspection fee for base plugs or outlets that a tenant might request.

On buildings that have been erected for a year or more we are now being notified of a $5 fee called "installation of boiler inspection fee."

A TAX PROPOSAL.

Chicago, May 29.—My solution of the tax question for 1931 is as follows:

All improved real estate shall pay taxes equivalent to one month's income. The owner of a residence shall pay what would be a fair rental based on one month's rent as taxes. Vacant property is the only property that should be appraised and the owner should pay a tax of 3 per cent on the appraised value. JACOB J. SCHWARTZ.

A SHAMEFUL PROPOSAL.

Chicago, May 31.—In seeking a position a few weeks ago I applied at a certain agency in Chicago. I happen to be somewhat one would call fat, but pleasingly plump, weighing 149 lbs. and being 5 feet 5 inches tall. I was informed by the agency that employers nowadays were seeking only young and slender girls, so they could send me to a place where I would have to drink and smoke with the customers after working hours. Of course, I do not consider myself old being 32 years of age, which is a long way from being old these days. I was immediately impressed that this must be one of the so-called love marts of which we have read so much about in California, and I reached the conclusion that we do not have to go to California to find them.

I was also advised to reduce, the remedy being walking 15 miles a day and to follow the 18 day diet of which we have heard of so many people in hospitals from following this advice.

I held a very responsible position with one firm for 10 years, not because of my face and figure, but of my merits.

Do you think that a little investigation of these conditions would be advisable? UNKNOWN.

CRICKET IN THE GOOD OLD.

Chicago, May 28.—After reading Winbrook Pegler's vituperate reference to British sports in his comparison between sports in the United States and Europe, I feel it is just too bad that he is unable or not willing to grasp what "Cricket" means to an Englishman.

I would ask him in his sober moments to "read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest" the following clipping from the Birmingham Post of May 11 which came to my desk with THE TRIBUNE on the 22d:

"Speaking at a special sportsmen's service at Rugby yesterday, the Rev. J. H. Parsons, the Warwickshire cricketer, who is a curate at Rugby Parish church, defined a sportsman as a man who played the game of life with a straight bat, and said that whether he had learned to hold his bat straight through taking an active part in sports or not was immaterial. The sportsman was a man who revealed something of the character of Christ.

"In his address Mr. Parsons said religion was natural to man just as sport was natural to Britishers.

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE.

Chicago, June 6.—I am by no means an admirer of Tex Guinan, having been one of her night club suckers, but the outrageous action of these cheap, chiseling French in excluding Tex and her gals from France certainly calls for retaliation on our part. Particularly do I direct the attention of the secretary of labor to such types as Maurice Chevalier, who is taking thousands of dollars each year out of this country. W. T. TASS.

A DATE.

Chicago, May 31.—Why not have a party after Kirkland returns and have the jurors', defense attorneys' and judge's daughters invited to meet Mr. Kirkland and his four co-defendants?

A KIRKLAND ADMIRER.

Are you happy with your present weight? That's just what one western woman did—How happy she is.

How would you like to lose a load of unhealthy fat that you don't need and don't want and at the same time feel better than you have for years?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent abdomen and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time enjoy that urge for activity that makes you a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts, which will last you 4 weeks. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you can laugh at the people who pay hundreds of dollars to lose a few pounds of fat—now you will know the safe, swift and pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 salts of Kruschen (Salts that your blood, nerves and glands should possess to function properly) — have presented you with glorious health.

After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends, "One 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat person's money."

Leading druggists America over sell Kruschen Salts. Buy one bottle with the distinct understanding that you will be joyfully satisfied or money back.

Mrs. C. L. of Shepardsville, Kentucky, writes: "I have reduced 24 pounds in 51 days with Kruschen and I ate three meals a day."

DEFEAT REPEAL OF TENNESSEE'S EVOLUTION LAW

Assembly Votes 58 to 14 to Keep It.

Nashville, Tenn., June 10.—(AP)—The Tennessee house of representatives today voiced its approval of a statute prohibiting the teaching of the theory of evolution in schools wholly or partly supported by state funds by rejecting a bill to repeal the law.

There were only 14 votes against the motion to reject the repealing measure, offered by Representative Robert M. Murray, with 58 votes in behalf of rejection.

Before the vote Murray spoke in defense of his bill, which he said was introduced in a "spirit of enlightenment."

"I'm getting tired of having people of other states refer to Tennessee as the state with the monkey statute," he said.

Oratory Precedes Vote.

The vote on the repeal measure today was preceded by considerable oratory of the champions of the evolution law.

"Uncle Billy" Matthews, oldest member of the house, said, "If the doctrine of evolution is right then our Bible is wrong."

Representative Robert P. Brown of Hickman joined those seeking the rejection of the repealing statute.

"I don't know whether man evoluted from a monkey or not," he said. "I believe that God created the universe and that he made man. The law has nothing to do with your religion or belief. If you want to believe that you descended from a monkey it is all right with me. Or you may continue to believe that God created us in his infinite wisdom.

"This law is slumbering peacefully on our statute books, and will never do any harm to a single individual in this house.

"It is not as important to worry about how you came here as what is going to become of you hereafter."

Says Law Brings Ridicule.

W. Y. Boswell of Morgan county favored the repeal of the evolution statute.

"It has done more to injure the good name of the state and more to indict the intelligence of Tennessee than any bill that was ever passed," he declared.

Tennessee's anti-evolution law first sprang into the limelight when John T. Scopes was indicted at Dayton, Tenn., in 1925 on charges of violating the statute. He was charged with teaching the theory of evolution in a school supported by state funds.

Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer of Chicago, and Dudley Field Malone of New York came to the little mountain town to defend the young teacher. William Jennings Bryan was among those prosecuting the case in the name of religious fundamentalists. Scopes was convicted and fined. The Tennessee Supreme court later upheld the constitutionality of the law.

Soon after the trial, Bryan was stricken suddenly with illness and died in Dayton.

SMASHUP ENDS WILD NIGHT FOR AN AUTO BANDIT

Walter Canning, 26 years old, 5020 South Hermitage avenue, was arrested last night and held as a bandit after some exciting events.

According to the police, Canning boarded the automobile of Carl Ottosen, 7373 Evans avenue, at 55th and Halsted streets, and robbed him of $33. Ottosen, in the excitement, drove his car into the rear of another car. Canning, it is charged, then alighted and commandeered the automobile of Frank McCann, 5523 Adams street.

McCann disarmed Canning, the police say, and stepped out of his own machine. Canning drove away in the car. At Jackson boulevard and Lavergne avenue he smashed into the auto of Victor Peloso, 4823 Cortez street, overturning it. Peloso walloped Canning, and the latter fled, but two west park policemen caught him. He was taken to the Fillmore street station, where McCann later identified him.

Spingola Indicted for Revenue Law Violation

Peter Spingola, prominent figure in the Italian-American Republican club, and related by marriage to the notorious family of Genna gangsters, was indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday, charged with violating the internal revenue law. Spingola, federal prosecutors charge, failed to turn over to the internal revenue department a sum of $334 collected as tax on admission charges to the Ashland Boulevard auditorium, known as Car Men's hall, at 228 South Ashland boulevard. Indicted with Spingola was Louis Cecelia, his partner.

Interrupt Cop's Tete-a-Tete; Take His Gun and $5

Two armed men with no respect for lovers robbed Policeman Ray Clancy, 2413 North Central Park avenue, assigned to the Summerdale station, of $5 and his gun last night when they surprised him and Miss Ethel Clancy, 1514 South Albany avenue, sitting in Clancy's car in front of her home. Clancy was off duty and in plain clothes.

SUGGESTS WHITE CANE AS SIGN OF BLIND PEDESTRIAN

White canes held in the air by pedestrians who are partly or wholly blind will be a friendly signal to motorists to come to a halt, if an ordinance requested by Ald. John Toman [23] is adopted by the city council. The council committee on judiciary was directed yesterday to prepare such an ordinance.

"Pedestrians who are partly or wholly blind," said Ald. Toman, "are in danger of life and limb continually when crossing street intersections.

"I ask that the judiciary committee prepare an ordinance limiting the use of white canes or walking sticks to such pedestrians."

Studebaker Champions
Forerunners of the Future

Free Wheeling in its finest form . . . only one shift lever . . . and engineered as an integral part of the chassis

FOR 79 years Studebaker has been in the business of thinking ahead in behalf of transportation . . . and today it is farther ahead than ever before. Today, Free Wheeling has placed the historic Studebaker name so far in the forefront of contemporary automotive progress that these four famous Studebakers are nothing less than the forerunners of the future of an industry!

There is absolutely nothing surprising in the spread of Free Wheeling . . . for here at last is a development that transforms the static of nominal changes into the dynamics of phenomenal change! . . . putting Studebaker ahead of the times and the public ahead of its bills!

Free Wheeling marks the end of wasted momentum . . . and it adds to Studebaker's stock car records for speed and stamina the lustre of a new pre-eminence for economy, simplicity and safety!

Free Wheeling Studebakers have brilliantly captured the national economy championship from 38 cars of 19 makes and all prices . . . and they actually save you 15% to 20% in gas and oil. Free Wheeling reduces wear and the costs of repair by "resting" your engine one mile in five. It permits gear-shifting without clutch-pushing . . . saving your nerves by enabling them to relax every time your engine relaxes. It gives such added safety that traffic officials everywhere keep adding their endorsements.

Free Wheeling, in its finest form—only one shift lever—is embodied and engineered as an integral part of the chassis in all four Studebaker Champions now. There will be no Summer model changes.

CHARGE OFFICERS WITH MURDER OF RUBIO'S COUSIN

2 Deputy Sheriffs Freed on $25,000 Bail.

Ardmore, Okla., June 10.—(AP)—A District court jury will determine the criminal responsibility of Deputy Sheriffs W. E. Guess and Cecil Crosby in the slaying of two prominent Mexican college students.

CECIL CROSBY.

At their own request and on orders of County Judge C. N. Champion, the officers were bound over for trial on murder charges late today after testimony at their preliminary hearing that Guess shot and killed the youths, Emilio Cortes, cousin of the Mexican president, Rubio, and Manuel Garcia Gomez, when the students drew guns.

District Judge Asa Walden granted writs of habeas corpus and fixed bail at $25,000 each, which the deputies furnished for their release pending trial possibly late this month.

Bodies Started Home.

The bodies of the slain youths, who met death when they stopped their motor car on a highway in the residential district here early last Monday while driving home from St. Benedict's college at Atchison, Kas., were placed aboard a train for the trip to Mexico shortly after the hearing ended.

Taking sole responsibility for the shooting, Guess, who five months ago was cleared of the slaying of a suspected murderer in Texas, said:

"I didn't have time to talk. I figured we had run up against a bunch of young hijackers. When I saw one boy coming out with a pistol I fired."

Crosby said he did not fire a shot, and characterized as a falsehood the statement of Theodore Torgerson, who said he was attracted to the scene, that Crosby pointed to Emilio lying dead in the motor car and said: "I got that boy."

Salvador Cortes Rubio, the survivor, testified that the deputies did not announce they were officers. Crosby asserted he displayed his badge to all three of the boys.

Baker May Prosecute.

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, may be added to the trial prosecutors. His services were sought today at Mexico City by Salvador Cortes Rubio, father of the youth by the same name who survived Monday's tragedy in which his traveling companions were slain.

Returning with the funeral party to Mexico was Salvador Cortes Rubio. Charles Clowe, Ardmore geologist and former representative of Mexico, was chosen by Gov. Murray to take the bodies home, while Massena Murray, son of the governor, will be on the train as far as the border.

Mexico City dispatches today told of imminent student protests and fears for possible anti-American disorders when the bodies reach Mexico.

SANDWICH SHOP HELD UP.

FORMER CHICAGO BROKER'S NIECE SUICIDE IN EAST

Dead Hand Holds Ace of Hearts.

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—With an ace of hearts, on which was some illegible writing, clutched in her hand, Miss Marie Richey, 28 years old, a niece of the late Adolph J. Lichstern, millionaire Chicago grain broker, was found dead today in her two room apartment, apparently a suicide by gas. After an investigation, police expressed belief an unhappy love affair had caused her act. She was a registered nurse.

Dies "Telling Fortune."

After sealing the windows and doors with tape Miss Richey appeared to have seated herself on a lounging chair in the kitchen, turned on two jets on the range, and started "telling her fortune" with a deck of playing cards, the police said. Michael Cacace, superintendent of the brown stone dwelling, found her body clad in pajamas when he went to call her to the telephone at 9:30 a. m. It was lying on a board atop a bath tub where it had rolled.

Adolph Lichstern, who died in 1928, rose from an immigrant newsboy to be a Chicago board of trade operator, leaving an estate valued at $5,000,000. His widow, Mrs. Marion Richey Lichstern of Ossining, N. Y. received a third of the estate. The police today traced Miss Richey's connection with the family through a note written on an envelope in her room. The envelope contained a number of shares in a moving picture concern. The note said: "In case anything happens to me please notify the Richey Estate, Ossining, N. Y."

Aunt is in France.

At Mrs. Lichstern's home on Spring Valley road, Ossining, a maid said that Mrs. Lichstern was in France. The girl, she said, visited her aunt regularly while the latter was home.

Police said a deck of cards was spread on the lounging chair in which Miss Richey had been sitting and that he had found the ace of hearts clutched in her hand, but could not read the writing on it. The police also learned that Miss Richey's father is in California. Her mother is dead.

A woman residing in Darien, Conn., who admitted she was a cousin of the girl and knew her well but refused to divulge her own name, said she did not credit the love affair theory. She could advance no other theory.

MARRIED TWICE; NOW BOTH WIVES SPURN HIS LOVE

Married to two women and wanted by neither. That seems to be the predicament of Frank Clerocke, alleged bigamist. Yesterday he was given a continuance until July 10 for his trial on the charge of being married once too many and released under $5,000 bond.

"You take him. You need him, and I'll give him to you," said Mrs. Iva Luckett Clerocke, 1226 North Central Park avenue, as she sauntered out of Felony court.

"No, no. He loves you and I'm willing to give him up," replied Mrs. Vera Clerocke, 2427 Greenview avenue.

DENTIST TOLD HE MUST PAY WIDOW WHO HELPED HIM

Four years ago when Mrs. Pearl Godbout, 32 years old, 4011 West End avenue, was running a rooming house on Superior street she took in as a roomer Joseph Schwartz, then a struggling undergraduate. Her roomer is now a practicing dentist with offices at 5645 West Madison street.

Yesterday in Judge Matthew D. Hartigan's Felony court, where Dr. Schwartz was taken on a charge of operating a confidence game, Mrs. Godbout testified that she footed the bill when Schwartz moved into his dentist office, that she gave him money to complete his education, fed him, paid his expenses, and in other ways aided him because, she said, the dentist had promised to marry her.

Now Schwartz will have nothing to do with his former landlady, the complainant charged, and $6,606 she had saved is gone.

Judge Hartigan censured the dentist for his ingratitude and stated that unless he paid back the money he had taken from Mrs. Godbout by July 10 the court would take "drastic action."

Dutch Chamber Votes for Limit on Sale of Liquor

THE HAGUE, June 10.—(AP)—The second chamber of parliament today voted by 55 to 10 in favor of a bill to limit the sale of strong liquor and the number of sellers. The measure also restricts the number of dealers in wine and beer.

And So-Called "Milk of Magnesia" Preparations

Many Preparations Labeled "Milk of Magnesia" Are Nothing More Than Mixtures of Magnesia Powder and Water

According to recent laboratory tests, it is now indicated that many preparations on the market labeled "Milk of Magnesia" are nothing more than mixtures of magnesia powder and water. So be careful what you get.

Note that such preparations are clearly labeled "Milk of Magnesia." And, thus, that the name "Milk of Magnesia" on a bottle offers you or your children no certain protection. Watch out.

Your own druggist may not as yet know this situation. And thus, in all innocence, sell you one of these mixtures of plain magnesia powder and water, if you go into his store and ask only for "Milk of Magnesia."

For this reason the public is openly and publicly urged to ask for and accept only genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—as endorsed by doctors—for use in the home. Especially when it is intended for use with children.

Leading doctors the world over endorse Phillips' Milk of Magnesia as one of the finest products known to modern science in protection of the public health.

None of those products made of magnesia powder and water are "like" or the "same" as genuine Phillips'. They can't be. Phillips' is made in a laboratory with more than 50 years of experience in the making of Milk of Magnesia, and some of the methods developed by Phillips are used exclusively in the Phillips' Laboratories.

Hence, for 50 years Phillips' has been recognized everywhere as the world's leading laboratory devoted exclusively to making the finest magnesia products.

What folly, then, in the light of these things, to take chances on some other product of which you know nothing. What an injustice to yourself or your children to let anything but the recognized finest in internal remedies come into your home.

Get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia at any drug store. Ask for it by name! Identify it by the package illustrated in this advertisement—the blue package showing the signature of Charles H. Phillips on the label.

SAFETY
For You and Yours in This Bottle

You can assist others by refusing to accept anything but the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Do this in the interest of yourself and your children—and in the interest of the public in general.

WHAT TEN-WORD SENTENCE CAN YOU MAKE USING ONLY THE WORDS IN TODAY'S ADS?

the Chicago Tribune will pay

$1000 A WEEK IN CASH PRIZES

"GOOD TIME CHARLIEGRAMS"

What Is a Good Time Charliegram?

A Good Time Charliegram is a sentence of exactly ten words which conveys a timely message of good cheer or sound advice:

"Every time you buy something you help bring back prosperity."
"The time to stock up is when prices are low."
"When business starts humming prices are bound to rise again."

Do you think you can make up a better Good Time Charliegram than any of these?—using only the words appearing in advertisements in today's Chicago Tribune? Try your hand at it! Read the simple rules and start looking for your words now!

WHAT sentence of exactly ten words can you make up, using only the words which appear in advertisements in today's Chicago Tribune?

Ten little words—that's all you need to make up a Good Time Charliegram. Just pick the words out of any ads in today's Tribune except the Want Ads. Put them all together and they may spell one of the big cash prizes which the Tribune is paying!

Try it. It's loads of fun—just like a treasure hunt. Read the simple rules and start looking through the ads for the words now.

THE SIMPLE RULES:

1. The Chicago Tribune will pay $1,000.00 a week in cash prizes to the persons who send in the best and neatest complete sets of seven (7) original Good Time Charliegrams in accordance with these rules.

2. A Good Time Charliegram is a sentence of exactly ten words which conveys a timely message of good cheer or sound advice. The sentence must be made up of words taken from advertisements EXCEPT Classified or Want Ads, published in a single day's issue of the Chicago Tribune. To indicate where you get each word, simply write down the name of the advertiser following the word. Words are NOT to be taken from the Want Ads.

3. Not more than one word shall be taken from the advertising of any one store, company, or individual. If an advertiser has more than one advertisement in the same issue of the Tribune, only one word from such advertisements may be used in the same Good Time Charliegram. The same word may be used more than once, provided that it is taken from a different advertiser every time it is used.

4. The prizes for each week are as follows:

1st Prize		$250.00
2nd Prize		100.00
Next 2 Prizes	$50.00 each	100.00
Next 4 Prizes	$25.00 each	100.00
Next 25 Prizes	$10.00 each	250.00
Next 40 Prizes	$ 5.00 each	200.00
73 weekly prizes totaling		$1,000.00

5. This offer is open to every one—men and women, boys and girls—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. You pay nothing. Just prove your skill.

6. Good Time Charliegrams are to be submitted in complete sets only. DO NOT send in each day's entry separately. Hold all Good Time Charliegrams until you have the complete set of seven (7). Then send them to "GOOD TIME CHARLIEGRAMS," the Chicago Tribune, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. All entries in the Third Series must be received in the Tribune office before 6 P. M. on Wednesday, June 17, 1931.

7. Contestants may submit as many sets of Good Time Charliegrams as they wish, but no contestant will be entitled to more than one prize.

8. You need NOT buy the Chicago Tribune. You may use the handy blank supplied each day in the Tribune or you may submit your entry on a separate sheet of paper. The Tribune may be examined at any of its offices or at public libraries free of charge.

9. The judges will be appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Their decision will be final. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be made to each tying contestant.

GROUP PROPOSES SPEEDWAY FROM 22D ST. TO WEST

Regional Plan Calls for State Project.

BY HAL FOUST.

The Chicago Regional Planning association proposes that the state highway department carry 22d street westward over Butterfield road as a superhighway across the Fox river. Construction, under the proposal, would start in 1932, immediately after an appropriation by the next regular session of the general assembly.

The rural and suburban boulevard would be built on a 200 foot right of way, having ample room for landscaping. There would be two high speed driveways, each thirty feet wide, separated by a twenty-two foot parkway. There would be continuous grade separations on these express streets.

Plan Two Service Drives.

In addition to the speedways for through traffic, there would be a thirty foot service drive on each side of the boulevard. These would accommodate abutting property and local traffic and, in addition, would have the ramps connecting with cross streets for the grade separations. Roosevelt road, now forty feet wide from Mannheim road to Roosevelt, with the exception of a short unfinished grade separation, and from one Chicago connection to the 22d street another. The widening of 22d street from the lake to the city limits, now partly completed, is a Chicago Plan commission project.

In Five County Makes Survey.

"The De Page county superintendent of highways has made the survey across his county for Butterfield parkway," said Robert Kingery, manager of the Regional Planning association, "and between 50 and 60 per cent of the right of way will be dedicated as soon as construction is assured. The cost of the right of way will be easy to obtain, since almost all of it is in private farms.

"As the initial step in the construction the state could lay the outside twenty foot strips with grade separations for construction as soon as funds are available. Or the center strips could be built first if it is found advisable. The point is that Butterfield parkway will become of service to traffic during an intermediate stage of completion."

JUDGE REFUSES TO BAR POLICE RAIDS ON PAPER

Minneapolis, Minn., June 10.—[Special.]—An injunction restraining the police from interfering with the publication and distribution of Arthur Sedgwick's newspaper, the Public Press, was denied in an order filed late today by District Judge Arthur W. Selover.

Sedgwick filed the suit against the chief superintendent of police, Harry H. Hafferkamp, and Capt. George Hillman, head of the morals squad, after copies had been confiscated just before the city primaries.

Judge Selover, in his memorandum, said an injunction against public officials restraining them "from performing what they deemed their public duty should not be issued without a full hearing on the matter." He expressed the opinion that Supreme court decisions in matters pertaining to the freedom of the press did not apply in this case.

The trial of the case will not be held until next fall.

The paper edited by the police contained, it was reported, disclosures of so-called vice resorts and pointed remarks about the police department and the candidates for mayor.

RESCUE SELF IN HOSPITAL.

BOY TAUNTED OVER PUNISHMENT HANGS SELF IN SCHOOLROOM

Newark, N. J., June 10.—[Special.]—Stephen Lovenguth, 8 years old, of East Orange N. J., a pupil in a grammar school here, hanged himself in the cloakroom this afternoon, according to police, because of the taunts of other pupils as a result of his having been ordered by his teacher to "stand in the cloakroom until school is dismissed."

Miss Gertrude Harris, the teacher, said the lad had been disobedient and she ordered him to the cloakroom. When the session was dismissed the lad was still standing there, and as the pupils filed past him to get their hats and coats they made comments.

When two of the girl pupils, after the others had departed, went to the cloakroom about fifteen minutes later, young Lovenguth was found hanging from a hook. He had made a noose out of his necktie, stood upon a box and kicked away the box.

Scolded, Boy Hangs Self.

Medford, Wis., June 10.—(AP)—Francis Wegerer's mother recently scolded him roundly for torturing and killing a robin. The 15 year old boy brooded over the reprimand. Last night his father found him dead in their garage, just outside Medford. The boy had hanged himself.

STATE CLOSES CASE AGAINST THREE KILLERS

CRIMINAL COURT.

Yarnell Armour and Clark Wellington, larceny, sentenced to 1 year each in Pontiac reformatory; Leo McFadden, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary, by Judge Philip Finnegan.

Evidence and arguments in the case against the three bandits who on Jan. 24 shot and killed Gene Toro and Max Axelrod, guards at the Hillman food store, were completed yesterday afternoon. The men are not expected to be sentenced until Tuesday since Judge Joseph Sabbath of the Criminal court announced that he would take the case under advisement until then.

The defendants, who have entered pleas of guilty, are Charles Wollard, James Zeman and Samuel Goldstein. In his closing arguments Assistant State's Attorney Walker Butler recommended two life sentences for Wollard and Zeman, the sentences to run consecutively. For Goldstein, however, he recommended two sentences of 35 to 40 years each. Goldstein early in the preparation of the case had indicated a desire to turn state's evidence.

The state is not asking death penalties for the three defendants because the prosecutors believed it unlikely that a jury would have voted such punishment in view of the fact that there was only one witness to the shooting.

HEAD OF MOVIE UNION IS FINED FOR CONTEMPT

Thomas J. Reynolds, president of the Moving Picture Operators' union, yesterday was fined $100 by Chief Justice John P. McGoorty on a contempt of court charge, arising from the refusal of the union official to produce records before the grand jury on a subpoena duces tecum. Lawyers for the union said they would appeal.

Assistant State's Attorney Charles E. Lounsbury said he would ask for another subpoena. Reynolds said he would produce the records whenever the second subpoena was served. Lounsbury indicated that it would be several days before the state would be ready to go before the grand jury, as he wished to examine records of the city department of electricity seized a week ago in an examination of the granting of operators' licenses.

OUT OF WORK; ENDS LIFE.

James Storkan, 55 years old, 1037 West 20th place, a tinsmith, took poison yesterday and died a short time later in the county hospital. He had been out of work.

Capone Still Seized; Pipe Finished Product to Trucks

A supposed Capone recooking alcohol still, with an output of 3,500 gallons a day, one of the largest seized in recent years, was found by prohibition agents in a house at 5050 West 32d street, Cicero, yesterday. Pipe lines led from the distillery to a garage and a barn, where the finished product was loaded on trucks, according to Agent Al Aman, who led the raid. At $5 a gallon the returns from the still would be $17,500 daily. Joseph Jackson and Sam Miller were arrested and 2,200 gallons of alcohol were seized.

Delay Hearing on Plea to Remove Drive Tracks

Hearing of Lincoln park's petition seeking removal of street car tracks in Lake Shore drive yesterday was continued to this morning by the Illinois commerce commission following the appearance of representatives of west side civic clubs. The clubs assert that the tracks are a necessity to west side residents who wish to go to the lake shore.

U. S. JUDGE BARS ATTORNEY FROM FEDERAL COURTS

Attorney Harold W. Jirka, whose offices are located at 100 North La Salle street, was ordered disbarred from practice in the federal courts by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward yesterday. Jirka is accused of accepting money on false promises to release prisoners from jail and to obtain the privilege to enter this country for persons barred by the immigration laws.

Yesterday's order does not restrain Jirka from practicing in state or county courts.

Explosion and Fire Cause $4,000 Damage in Grocery

Damage of $4,000 was done early this morning by an explosion, which was followed by a fire, in the grocery at 5523 Lawrence avenue. Several windows were shattered by the blast, and a dozen families were aroused. Gas ignited by sparks from a refrigerating machine was believed responsible for the explosion by Chief John O'Malley of the 22d battalion.

Legion Post's Prize Money Will Go to Help Veterans

First prize money, won by the Board of Trade post of the American Legion in the drum and bugle contest at the Naperville centennial will be divided among various veterans' activities, R. A. Gerstenberg, post commander, announced yesterday. The children of war veterans in the Soldiers' Orphans home at Normal, the opportunity fund of the American Legion auxiliary and the service fund of the Naperville Legion post will share in the money.

Gov. Murray Issues Five "Banishment Paroles"

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 10.—(AP)—Gov. W. H. Murray today issued "banishment paroles" to five prisoners in the state penitentiary and granted clemency to five others. Under the "banishment" edicts the prisoners must promise to leave Oklahoma and never return. Among them was Jimmie Johnson, serving a five year term for robbery in Carter county, who must return to Illinois.

HUMIDOR PACK

THE new Humidor Pack has made millions of people mighty particular about their cigarettes.
For once you have smoked Camels, known all the delights of the Camel blend of choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos in fresh, factory-prime condition, it is hard to endure the sting and bite of parched-dry, stale cigarettes.
Cigarettes wrapped the ordinary way begin to lose their moisture and flavor as soon as they leave the factory.
Laboratory tests prove that in less than thirty days, most of the natural moisture is gone.
Not so with Camels. An outer wrapping of moisture-proof Cellophane air-seals all the natural moisture and rare flavor in and keeps out the dust and germs.
That's one of the "why's" of the great national switch to Camels.
That's why in any climate, in any land you are always sure the Camels you buy will be fresh and flavorful and mild.
If you're hard to convince, surely you have an open mind. Just switch over to Camels for one day, then leave them—if you can.

O. M. TORRISON, JUDGE FOR 21 YEARS, IS DEAD

Former Jurist Is Victim of Pneumonia.

Former Judge Oscar M. Torrison, for 21 years a member of the Municipal and circuit benches, died yesterday of pneumonia in the Lutheran Deaconess hospital after a ten day illness. He was 69 years old and resided at 2536 McDaniel avenue, Evanston.

O. M. TORRISON.

Born Aug. 29, 1861, at Manitowoc, Wis., Judge Torrison was graduated at the Manitowoc High school and at Luther college, Decorah, Ia., later winning his law degree at the University of Iowa. He pursued a post graduate course at Columbia university, New York City, and began practicing law at Elbow Lake, Minn.

Coming to Chicago in 1890, he practiced law and served on the board of education in 1896 and 1897. In 1906 he was elected to the Municipal bench, serving until 1915, when he was elevated to the Circuit bench, where he served successive terms until defeated for reelection by the coalition in 1927.

Since that time Judge Torrison had practiced law with Frederick A. Brown, maintaining offices at 10 South La Salle street. He was a member of the American, Illinois and Chicago Bar associations.

Surviving Judge Torrison are his widow, the former Ida Michelson; two daughters, Margaret and Helen, and a son.

1931 AUTO TOLL PASSES 500 AS GIRL IS KILLED

Train Crushes Car; Driver May Die.

Three year old Frances Nelson, 2750 West Monroe street, was fatally injured yesterday when she was struck by a truck while running across Monroe street at California avenue. The driver, Leslie Neese, 2020 Burlington street, told the police that he did not see the child in time to stop. He is being held for the inquest today.

VIOLET MANNING.

This death increased the 1931 motor toll in Cook county to 501.

A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday by the coroner's jury which investigated the death of Harry Smith, 42 years old, orchestra leader at Dinty Moore's café in Willow Springs. He was killed instantly when his car overturned shortly before daybreak as he was returning to his Chicago home at 1342 North Shore avenue.

Girl Tells of Accident.

Miss Violet Manning, 21 years old, 1209 West Chicago avenue, whom Smith was taking home, described the accident at the inquest held in Summit. He lost control of the car, she said, when he attempted to swing off the road onto a detour a few miles north of Willow Springs.

George Setail, 31 years old, 2140 Elmwood avenue, Berwyn, was seriously injured when his automobile was struck by a Wabash train at 111th street. At the Little Company of Mary hospital in Evergreen Park it was said that he had suffered internal injuries and a possible fracture of the skull.

School Teacher Hurt.

Miss Mary Benedetto, 26 years old, 6817 Sheridan road, a teacher at the Carpenter elementary school, 666 North Racine avenue, was seriously injured when her automobile collided with a street car at Halsted and Erie streets.

Assistant State's Attorney Abraham Marovitz, whose automobile struck and fatally injured Louis Berkovitz, 77 years old, 1301 South Turner avenue, on Tuesday, was absolved of blame yesterday by a coroner's jury investigating the accident.

6-YEAR-OLD KILLS BROTHER 'STINGY' WITH CRACKERS

York, Pa., June 10.—(AP)—Because, officials believe, he would not share crackers he was eating, Charles Trone, 7, son of George Trone of Leschy's church, near here, was shot and killed today by his 6 year old brother William.

The father was at work and the mother was out feeding stock, when a daughter told her mother that the "boys were shooting in the bedroom."

A 9 year old brother, George Jr., in the room when the shooting occurred, said "William did it." George told the county coroner he heard Charles and William talking "about crackers." Charles was eating. Then William went to an adjoining room, obtained a shotgun, and fired it at his brother.

Loeb Will Be 26 Today; 7th Birthday in Prison

Richard Loeb will be 26 years old today, and his birthday will be his seventh behind penitentiary walls since he was incarcerated in 1924, with Nathan F. Leopold Jr., for the slaying of Bobby Franks. The only privilege permitted Loeb will be interviews with members of his family if they desire to visit him, and the only presents which he may receive are food, which he must eat in the interview room. He is now employed in the greenhouse at the Stateville prison.

PREDICTS DROP IN CONFLICT OF RADIO STATIONS

Interference of radio stations with one another will be lessened appreciably in the near futue when the frequency deviation of transmitters is reduced from 500 cycles to 50 cycles, C. C. Colby of Canton, Mass., told radio manufacturers yesterday at their convention in the Stevens hotel. Mr. Colby is chairman of the committee on legislation.

J. CLARKE COIT.

Morris Metcalf, retiring president of the manufacturers, advocated a bureau to exchange statistics on the industry, to guard against overproduction. He also urged a higher grade of radio advertising copy and suggested a patent interchange agreement between manufacturers.

J. Clarke Coit of Chicago was elected to succeed Mr. Metcalf as president. Two other Chicagoans, A. S. Wells and Leslie F. Muter, were made first vice president and treasurer, respectively.

Mrs. Ida Chapin Kilmore Funeral to Be Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Chapin Kilmore, who died at South Pasadena, Cal., on Feb. 26, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday in the chapel at Rosehill cemetery. Mrs. Kilmore, who was 74 years old, was born on Kinzie street, the daughter of Maj. Charles H. Chapin, civil war veteran, and spent most of her life in Chicago. She is survived by her husband, John W. Kilmore, a retired merchant tailor.

WALTER WILLETT DEAD; HEAD OF BUS COMPANY

Walter D. Willett, operator of what is said to be the largest trucking and bus concern in the world, died yesterday in the Passavant hospital following an operation for appendicitis. He was 51 years old, and a native of Chicago. He lived at 999 Lake Shore drive.

After his graduation from the Hyde Park High school more than thirty years ago, Mr. Willett entered the teaming business with his father. The company consisted at the time of half a dozen teams and a few wagons and was in debt. On the death of his father, Mr. Willett took over the business. He originated many new features for trucking, among them the use of ball bearings for wagons. This reduced the number of horses needed to haul vehicles. He devised new unloading methods and was the first to use six wheeled trucks.

Under Mr. Willett's direction, the company expanded until today it includes a fleet of 1,000 trucks, 85 buses, and 500 horses. The concern runs buses for crippled children under the name of the Willett company, and operates a bus line.

Mr. Willett belonged to the Chicago Athletic, Chicago Yacht, Opera and Exmoor Country clubs. He is survived by his widow, Florence Collins Willett; three children, Charmian, Alvin T., and Helen Willett, and two brothers, Howard L. of Chicago, and Ralph A. Willett of New York. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 tomorrow at St. Boniface church. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

BUSINESS CHIEFS AT FUNERAL FOR G. D. M'LAUGHLIN

Funeral services for George D. McLaughlin of Lake Forest, coffee merchant, business leader, who was killed in an automobile collision on Monday, were held yesterday shortly after noon at St. Mary's Catholic church in Lake Forest. More than 450 persons, including Chicago business leaders, attended the services.

Solemn high mass was celebrated, with the Rev. Laurence J. Daly, assistant pastor of St. Mary's church, officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. John J. O'Hearn, pastor of the church, and the Rev. James G. Halleran of Holy Family church of North Chicago. Burial was in Calvary cemetery.

A special train left Chicago at 11:05 o'clock on the North Western railway to accommodate the Chicago business men who attended the services.

Policeman J. Heenan, 51, Taken Ill at Work, Dies

Policeman John Heenan, 51 years old, a member of the wagon crew at the Hyde Park station, was taken ill at work yesterday and died of heart disease a few hours later in the Chicago hospital. He had been a member of the police department for twenty years. His widow, living at 2007 West 70th street, and several children survive.

THELMA, 13, HAS PROPOSED TEST IN PATRIOTISM

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Thelma Zier of East Hyattsville, Md., a Washington suburb, is 13 and very patriotic. Her father, a District of Columbia policeman, has told her "whenever you see the flag pass or hear 'The Star Spangled Banner' stand up, regardless of where you are."

Yesterday Thelma was sitting at her desk in the Edmonston school when she heard the strains of the national anthem coming faintly from another room. Thelma stood up. Mrs. Esther Kramer, her teacher, frowned and told her to sit down. Thelma continued to stand. Mrs. Kramer repeated the order. "The Star Spangled Banner" concluded, Thelma ceased standing and walked to the door.

"I'm going home," she announced.

"All right, go on home," replied Mrs. Kramer.

Today Thelma's mother said she would take the matter up at the next meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association and ask the school board to render a special ruling for the guidance of teachers and pupils.

Bankruptcy Suit Filed Against Louis Bomash

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the federal court yesterday against Louis Bomash, member of the library board and former banker. The petition was filed by Attorney Sidney Rothblatt on behalf of three creditors with claims totaling $7,000. No statement of the liabilities and assets was made. Mr. Bomash is said to own considerable real estate. The Independence State bank, 3159 Roosevelt road, of which Mr. Bomash was president, was closed in January, 1930, and taken over by the Foreman interests.

Charges 40 Persons Slain in Mexican Election Drive

MEXICO CITY, June 10. — (AP) — Charges that forty persons have been assassinated during the present election campaign in the state of Colima were made today by Santiago Rodriguez, Colima politician. Rodriguez came here today to ask the federal government to end what he described as "a reign of terror," supported by the police."

Body Identified Through Army Fingerprint Files

Through army finger print files at Washington, D. C., Sergt. Joseph Starshak of the bureau of missing persons yesterday identified the body of a man found two weeks ago in a swamp near Des Plaines as that of Medard W. Smith, 35 years old. Smith served in the 7th infantry, regulars, during the world war, and since had been a patient several times at the Hines hospital in Maywood. It is believed that he was on his way to the hospital again when he wandered into the swamp in a stupor. His mother, Mrs. Sarah Smith, lives in Louisville, Ky.

Don't Be "Skinny" and Unattractive

Build Weight and Strength In Few Weeks With New IRONIZED YEAST—a Special Combination of Dried brewer's Yeast Plus Iron—or Pay Nothing

Gains 12 Lbs., New Complexion
"Before taking Ironized Yeast I would lie awake nights and was tired and nervous all day. Thought I'd go crazy. Now feel fine, gained 12 lbs. and it sure helped my skin. "—Mrs. C. Manett, Columbus, Ind.

Gains 6 Lbs., New Pep
"I had been underweight for a year and a half. Started taking Ironized Yeast and gained 6 lbs. in 2 weeks. Never gained a pound from other medicines. For weight and pep try Ironized Yeast. "—Dolores Wilson, Gering, Neb.

Doctor Reports Big Benefits
"One of my patients gained 15 lbs. with Ironized Yeast. She said it gave her appetite, pep and strength and she felt fine. "—Dr. L., Ohio.

Young Mother Gains 8 Lbs.
"I had not been strong since my little daughter came a year and a half ago. At last tried Ironized Yeast tablets. Gained 8 lbs. in a little over a month, feeling fine. No longer frail, have a lovely complexion. "—Mrs. M. M. McClellan, West Palm Beach, Fla.

IT seems almost unbelievable how fast new Ironized Yeast has added pounds of good firm flesh—on men and women, children and old people. Nervous, tired people tell of new strength and pep. Constipation, indigestion have vanished, skin has cleared to new rosy health and beauty.

Why New Ironized Yeast Builds Weight Quick

This amazing new Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—special weight-building, dried brewer's Yeast, and blood-enriching, strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured and concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value. This special treatment makes it richer than plain yeast in those wonderful vitamins which revitalize the sluggish body cells, drive out dangerous body poisons, tonic the nerves, stimulate the appetite, increase energy and endurance, and build up weight and strength. Double-tested in the laboratory for strength, purity and potency. Used by physicians and big hospitals.

To this concentrated dried brewer's Yeast is added three kinds of easily assimilated Iron, to quickly make rich, red blood and tone up nerves and muscles. By this special process, Ironized Yeast is made more effective than yeast or iron taken separately. No starches, flours or gas-forming fillers.

If you are "skinny," nervous, tired, weak—if you suffer with constipation and indigestion—start Ironized Yeast today. You should quickly fill out with good, solid flesh and become strong and full of pep.

New Complexion for Many People marvel how Ironized Yeast has transformed sallow, blemished, lifeless, faded complexions into the fresh, smooth, lovely skin that every one admires. As poisons are driven from system and new health comes, years seem to drop from the looks.

Get a generous test treatment today. Pleasant easy-to-take little tablets—no nasty taste, never upset stomach or cause gas or bloating. Never spoil, no harmful drugs, safe for everybody.

Try It on "Money-Back" Offer

Go to any drug store today, get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast and take the little tablets as directed. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with weight and health benefits gained, your money refunded by manufacturer.

GASOLINE ALLEY—AND THERE'S THE PLACE

COME ON, PHYLLIS! I'VE GOT A SURPRISE FOR YOU. I WAS SAVING IT FOR YOUR ANNIVERSARY BUT I JUST CAN'T KEEP IT ANY LONGER.
OUR ANNIVERSARY. IT'S YOURS TOO, REMEMBER.
THERE IT IS—TO BE ALL YOURS! A COTTAGE ON A BEAUTIFUL LAKE—DRIVING DISTANCE FROM TOWN. OF COURSE IT NEEDS FIXING UP, BUT CAN'T YOU VISUALIZE A WONDERFUL PLACE FOR THE SUMMER?
IT'S JUST TOO SURPRISING FOR WORDS!
YOU HAVEN'T ACTUALLY BOUGHT IT YET, HAVE YOU, WALT?
NOT YET. AND YOU UNDERSTAND THAT THERE ARE A NUMBER OF THINGS THAT HAVE TO BE DONE TO IT.
IT'S AWFULLY SWEET OF YOU, HONEY, BUT DON'T DO ANY MORE TILL WE TALK IT OVER. THERE MAY BE SOME THINGS THAT EVEN YOU HAVEN'T THOUGHT OF.
O.K. PHYLLIS, BUT I'LL MAKE IT A DREAM COME TRUE.

Raps Roosevelt in Book About Spanish War

'Martial Spirit' Lays Fight to Two Publishers.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"THE MARTIAL SPIRIT," by Walter Millis [Houghton Mifflin], is "a study of our war with Spain," to quote its subtitle. In it Mr. Millis, who is on the editorial staff of the New York Herald-Tribune, has written a detailed history of the direct causes of the Spanish-American war, its pursuance, and a survey of its consequences.

That all sounds very learned and austere, and certainly the painstaking manner with which facts are presented might entitle it to such adjectives if it weren't written with a certain devilish glee on the part of the author in his showing up of the Yankee, the gaudy publicity, the chauvinism of politicians and their whipping up of the martial spirit. If you think it was synthetic that one war according to Mr. Millis, and he says it was concocted without provocation and with great detail. It is such a fascinating book.

There is irony and satire in Mr. Millis' sentences, sometimes inherent in the facts themselves that he sets down, sometimes clever in his interpretation of them. But of all the holding up of our past to posterity which he does and says by jabbing their vital weaknesses, the most iconoclastic picture is that of Theodore Roosevelt. The photograph of Col. Theodore Roosevelt of the Rough Riders is the frontispiece of the volume, and, as the individual about whom the war brought the most personal glory, he appears throughout the book. But it is not as the hero which posterity crowned him, but quite another person that Mr. Millis paints him.

The war was not only not inevitable, but the result of an expansionist wave that rushed over American politics in a period fanned by two rival newspapers. In their battle for circulation on tales of horrors endured by natives in Cuba were embroidered by Mr. Hearst's and Mr. Pulitzer's ingenuity and the ingenuity of their reporters, to an extent that the people of the United States lost sight of the fact that they were being lured into a war unjustified and fortuitous. President McKinley was against the war. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt was violently for it, not on his own initiative, it is denied, but on orders which helped precipitate it. Says Mr. Millis about Roosevelt being sent to Manila: "We were committed by a lesser official at the navy department to a course of action which was never contemplated by the American people and which was to have the most far reaching and most dubious results." He quotes: "In the opinion of nearly all writers on international law the particular form of intervention in 1898 was unnecessary, irregular, precipitate, and unjust to Spain. The same ends—peace in Cuba and justice to all people concerned—in themselves good, could have been achieved by peaceful means safer for the wider interests of humanity." And Mr. Millis continues, "but one may question whether the American people by this time were to be interested either in peace or in humanity."

Mr. Millis goes on about Roosevelt: "Mr. Roosevelt, who had been devoting himself for a year to running the navy addressed himself almost from the beginning to the performance of a similar task for the army; and the very important detail that, while he had been assistant secretary of the navy organization, he was merely a naval officer in the latter somehow appears to have escaped his attention. Mr. Roosevelt was to prove a very personal lieutenant colonel." He continues: "Mr. Roosevelt's command was destined to figure on very largely" in the war "that at times it almost seems to be the war, and one might have supposed that the whole scheme had been primarily designed to display Mr. Roosevelt's remarkable qualities before an admiring nation. Perhaps it was. Roosevelt wisely chose Leonard Wood as the colonel of the regiment. "Dr. Wood," says Mr. Millis, "very soon departed for the mobilization point at San Antonio to devote himself to the serious business of raising and training the men. Mr. Roosevelt engaged in the more brilliant publicity of Washington."

In Nebraska another ambitious young politician was to awake to the occasion and offer himself patriotically "on the altar of his country," says Mr. Millis, "but he was not to enjoy its fatal facilities. The battlefield of Cuba became a Republican battlefield but however rising, the young Democrat, William Jennings Bryan, and his valiant Nebraska regiment never reached the front." Indeed, it was with authority that it even achieved a place in Republican newspapers," says Mr. Millis.

About the destruction of the Maine, which was the immediate cause of the war, no one knew how it happened. Nor has it ever been learned, the author says. "The most probable explanation still seems to be that the U.S.S. Maine did in fact destroy herself through the intervention of no human agency save an act of God."

About the Philippines he says: "It was all, of course, with the best of intention and in the loftiest of motives that Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, one was to report, had been neatly double-crossed."

About the famous charging up San Juan hill Mr. Millis says it was "an action which was not only unnecessary [for the Spaniards had decided upon a withdrawal any way] and which seriously embarrassed the plan for the next advance, but which cost 16 men killed and 72 wounded." He continues: "It is not straining the facts to say that this hurried hour of the fourth shore Sibboney was largely responsible for giving us our next lieutenant of the United States. Mr. Roosevelt had reason to be content with having left the navy department."

Republic Lifts Ban of Other Centuries.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, June 10.—Four and a half centuries in the troubled history of the sons of Israel came to a symbolic close here today.

Moses Cohan took Rachel Ventura as bride.

Moses, no swarthier than most Spaniards, stood very elegant in a dinner jacket and derby hat, and Rachel wore white and carried lilies. The rabbi, who had come from Ceuta, Morocco, wore a bowler hat, too, but the service he read was that prescribed by the grand rabbi of Castile. There have been no grand rabbis of Castile and no couple has been united by their ceremonial on Spanish soil these many centuries.

Moses and Rachel were the first Jews married in Spain since 1492, the year when Queen Isabella, seconded by Cardinal Cisneros, gave her thriftiest citizens the choice between conversion and exile.

In that tragic year the Jews of Spain went forth "exchanging a house for an ass and a vineyard for a goat" and leaving the land where their culture had flourished as never since biblical times.

Moses and Rachel are Turkish citizens, an average couple among the 2,500,000 Sephardic Jews, the aristocracy of Jewry, who descend from the Spanish exiles and still speak Castilian in their homes in the near east, Morocco and Argentina.

They were married by Rabbi Mehahen Coriat, a banker and doctor in Hebraic lore. He is here representing his people in getting the republic, which has already decreed liberty of conscience and quashed the monarchy's ban on public worship by beliefs and marriages other than Catholic and civil, to repeal the edict of expulsion of those "who continue to try to divert faithful Christians from our holy Catholic faith, driving them toward their own diseased belief and opinion."

The modest synagogue above a restaurant and next door to a tailor shop where 40 Jews in Madrid worship, was the setting. No attempt was made to revive the old picturesque Sephardic business of painting and dressing the bride. It was simply a ceremony under the six pointed stars of David, with a book, a fifteenth century illuminated parchment, lying on a plain deal table on red damask. Beside them were two nine branched candelabra.

Movie Gossip from Hollywood

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., June 10.—[Special.]—Ramon Novarro sang two tenor solos at the funeral of Joseph Farham, scenario writer and former New York newspaper man, who died here last week.

Ronald Colman bragged to listeners on the United Artists lot, where he is starring in "The Unholy Garden," that "whenever I am invited to attend a dinner or a social function in Hollywood I ask the hostess to let me see a list of the guests before I accept." Asked why, Colman said: "Because I am afraid that some persons from the press might be present. I never go where there is any one from the American press."

Jackie Cooper's new contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer finally has been signed by all parties interested. Fifteen hundred dollars a week is guaranteed to this 3 year old. The child is more in demand than any other one performer in Hollywood at just this time. Paramount struck a deal with M.-G.-M. as soon as the $1,500 a week deal was concluded, whereby Paramount pays the boy actor's employers a bonus over the $1,500 to obtain Jackie for its new film, "Sookie."

Testimony began today in Ferdinand Schumann-Heink's $11,000 suit against Edwin Carewe, film producer, for the latter's asserted failure to feature Ferdinand with his mother, Mme. Schumann-Heinke, the singer, in a second firm. The plaintiff says Carewe promised him $500 a week.

The first person chosen in the cast of "Are These Our Children?" which Wesley Ruggles wrote and will direct for Radio Pictures, is Beryl Mercer, playing the important mother rôle. Douglas Churchill, former Los Angeles managing editor for Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr.'s tabloid newspaper, and Perry Lieber, a Chicago boy, are cast as newspaper reporters. Ruggles is waiting until the high schools close here next week for the summer vacation to obtain a typical youth, film inexperience no obstacle, for his leading rôle.

Robert Armstrong today admitted he and his actress wife, Jeanne Kent, parted a month ago, but he expressed surprise that she is sailing from San Francisco tomorrow for a world tour. "Mrs. Armstrong and I separated amicably but at the time nothing was said of divorce and she never told me of any plans to leave the country," he said. They were married in London five years ago while appearing in "Is Zat So."

After some months of inaction Glenn Tryon signed to star in a series of six feature pictures at Educational studios.

J. M. Beck Says Civilisation Is Menaced.

James M. Beck, congressman from Pennsylvania and former solicitor general of the United States, delivered the commencement address yesterday at the Loyola university graduation exercises, held before an overflow crowd in the gymnasium on the Rogers Park campus.

In an oration richly illustrated with references from the classics Mr. Beck descried the trends of modern civilization. He adjured the graduates to go into the world to "the eternal battle for the higher values of life."

For his theme Mr. Beck selected the words which Shakespeare put in the mouth of the medieval champion, Harry Percy, called Hotspur, words which Hotspur addressed to his companions just before the battle of Shrewsbury, which he lost:

"O gentlemen, the time o' life is short.
To spend that shortness basely were too long."

"Spent basely, life is all too long, even if it lasted but an hour," Mr. Beck declared. "The fateful question for each graduate, when he assumes his toga, is not how long he is going to live, but how well he will spend the time allotted him. It is for each graduate to consider whether his life is to be spent nobly or cheaply. His decision must ultimately depend upon a just appreciation of the true values of life."

What is true of the individual is true of a nation and of civilisation as a whole, Mr. Beck argued. In the present age he discerned a waste of enthusiasm, as illustrated by the present day boy, whose interest is in the heroes of the baseball diamond rather than in heroes of the classical stage. He recalled an interview with Albert, king of the Belgians.

"We had been discussing the heroic episodes of the world war," Mr. Beck said. "Half sadly, half humorously, the king remarked that to the average man Douglas Fairbanks was a greater hero than Marshal Joffre and Charlie Chaplin greater than Marshal Foch.

"In our time there is a great enigma which, as with the riddle of the Sphinx, we must solve or be destroyed," he went on. "That enigma is, 'Has the increase of potential of material power been accompanied by a corresponding increase in the potential of spiritual power?'

Mr. Beck expressed doubt that the two powers struck a balance. He declared the theater, music, and the plastic arts were debased. The same, he said, was true of journalism.

"Time was when a newspaper was a worthy chronicle of the times and a true abstract of its noble spirit," he asserted. "While it dealt with all subjects of human interest, those of value were given greater space and the ignoble and trivial were relegated to obscure corners of the paper.

"Then," said Mr. Beck, "there came the baser currency of 'yellow journalists,' with their screaming headlines, split up articles and increasing subordination of every worthy subject to the mere details of idle sport and crime. Crime was once exceptional and abnormal but, if the average newspaper's stand of values is a fair measure of the public taste, crime is today an absorbing topic. Its effect on the next generation must be pernicious in leading them to believe that crime is the most normal and important thing of life."

Following the address the Rev. Robert M. Kelley, S. J., president of the university, conferred 788 degrees and diplomas.

Selfridge Offers 5 Prizes for Journalists in Britain

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, June 10.—Harry Gordon Selfridge, American department store owner here, has offered British journalists five annual prizes of $500 each similar to the Pulitzer prizes. Mr. Selfridge suggests that the prizes should be for the best piece of foreign correspondence, the best "scoop," the best descriptive reporting, the best article on industry, commerce or finance, and the most interesting photograph. He has nominated a selection committee consisting of Lord Riddell, president of the Newspaper Proprietors' association; R. D. Blumefeld, publisher, and the presidents of the Institute of Journalists and the National Union of Journalists.

BEG YOUR PARDON

THE TRIBUNE on June 8 stated that the cost of remodeling the Lincoln tomb in Springfield would amount to $250,000. C. Herrick Hammond, supervising architect at Springfield, points out that the appropriation for the remodeling was $175,000, and that the work will be done, including many items not originally contemplated, within this amount of $175,000.

THE STAGE

AN impending addition to the list of summer playbills is announced by the Adelphi theater. On Saturday night, June 20, a new comedy called "High Hat" will begin an engagement there with Edna Hibbard, James Spottswood, and Richard Taber in its leading rôles. Miss Hibbard spent last summer in Chicago as the heroine of "Sisters of the Chorus." Mr. Spottswood helped to entertain us in the summer of 1929 in "Excess Baggage." Mr. Taber's last acting here was done in "Is Zat So?" of which he was part author.

"High Hat" began life not long ago under the title of "Ritzy." It is now in performance at the Wilbur theater, Boston. The management of the Adelphi says that this engagement will not interfere with Gregory Ratoff's revue, which it announced a few days ago for a première on July 12, except to cause a possible postponement of two weeks.

"The Band Wagon" has been received with complete approval as a summer revue by the New York theatrical reviewers. Percy Hammond writes of it in the Herald-Tribune:

"It quite overwhelmed its first audience, and was at once established among the premier frivolities of the town. While it is not the most pretentious of the spectacles, its dress is rich, its scenery sufficient, and its girls are as lovely a lot of petticoats as were ever assembled in a ballet. Everything in the entertainment was excitedly applauded by the gladdest audience I have seen in a theater this summer."

Mr. Ziegfeld's new "Follies" will begin its life in the Nixon theater, Pittsburgh, next Monday night. The impresario is facing the ordeal with equanimity, for the first day's mail order brought in $31,000. The principals of the company are Helen Morgan, Harry Richman, Jack Pearl, Albert Carroll, Ruth Etting, Pearl Osgood and Viola Tree. The New York première is scheduled for June 23.

Brock Pemberton, the lucky manager who had nerve enough to stage "Strictly Dishonorable," is at last launching another play. "Death Dance" is its title, and Valentine Davies its author. It will have a try out next week by a stock company in Rochester, N. Y., with Geoffrey Bryant and Eleanor Phelps as featured members of the cast. To prove his gratitude to "Strictly Dishonorable," Mr. Pemberton has taken over the lease of the Avon theater, New York, where that play had its first run.

U. of C. Alumni Here to Attend Class Reunions

Illinois, Northwestern Also Celebrate.

The vanguard of several thousand old grads will arrive today on the campus of the University of Chicago. Their celebration, however, is only an incident to 879 students, graduate and undergraduate, who are writing their final examinations this week in anticipation of receiving degrees at the 164th convocation of the University on Tuesday.

The alumni-varsity baseball game this afternoon and the annual "C" dinner this evening in Hutchinson hall are the first events on the program arranged for the returning alumni. Reunion day, which brings the largest number of graduates to the campus, will be Saturday.

On the evening of that day President Robert Maynard Hutchins and Dean C. S. Boucher will speak at the alumni assembly. They will discuss the new educational plan started this year.

To many of the older out of town graduates the campus is greatly changed, because of the $30,000,000 building campaign carried out during recent years. The new Oriental Institute building will be opened Saturday. It contains many of the ancient treasures gathered by the expeditions directed by Prof. James H. Breasted.

The annual sing, climax of the collegiate year at Chicago, will be held at 8 o'clock Saturday evening in Hutchinson court. Twenty-five hundred graduate and undergraduate members of the fraternities on the campus will participate before an expected throng of 10,000 spectators.

Director A. A. Stagg will drape their "C" blanket around graduating athletes, and the newly appointed student aids and marshals will be inducted into office by President Hutchins.

Robert McCarthy, 1454 East 84th street, senior at the University of Chicago was elected president of the undergraduate council yesterday.

W. H. Holmes, who made the highest grades in the senior class of the dental school of Northwestern university, and seven fellow classmates, were awarded the honor keys of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, honorary dental fraternity, at the alumni-senior dinner and dance last night in the La Salle hotel. More than 500 alumni, faculty members, and graduates of the dental school attended the dinner.

Miss Eleanor Schlosser, 19 years old, of 3911 North St. Louis avenue, received for the year the honor cup presented to the hygienist making the highest grades in each graduating class. She made 27 out of 30 possible "A's," thus making a record for all years.

A key awarded each year to the dentist making the most distinguished contribution to dentistry of the year was awarded to the late Dr. Louis J. Weinstein, who died in March, 1930, shortly before he was to join the school staff. His son, Edwin A. Weinstein, a freshman in the Northwestern university medical school, received the key.

As a feature of commencement programs for the Chicago departments of the University of Illinois, the alumni association of the University of Illinois College of Dentistry will hold its annual clinic day tomorrow in the college building, 1838 West Harrison street. Dr. Frederick B. Moorehead, oral surgeon, formerly dean of the dental college, will talk on "Local Anæsthesia."

General clinics will be held in the afternoon. A banquet will be held in the evening in the Lake Shore Athletic club. Dr. R. G. Kesel is president of the association.

Commencement exercises for the Chicago departments of the university, including the colleges of medicine and dentistry and the school of pharmacy, will be held at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning in the Ashland Boulevard auditorium. Dr. Edwin H. Kraus, dean of the college of pharmacy, will deliver the commencement address.

Twenty-three girls will be graduated from the Belmont Hospital Training School for Nurses at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the Logan Square Masonic temple, 2451 Kerzie boulevard. Dr. William F. Borchers and the Rev. Walton Cole will speak.

The largest class ever to be graduated from the Oak Park and River Forest Township High school will take part in commencement exercises today. Then 559 students will receive diplomas in the school fieldhouse. Class day exercises were held yesterday afternoon.

More than 175 Culver Military academy cadets arrived yesterday afternoon in a special train over the Pennsylvania railroad, returning to their homes after the close of a spring term.

Miss Leila Coldren of Brodhead, Wis., member of the staff of the year book and newspaper edited by students of the National College of Education, Evanston, was awarded the Elizabeth Harrison scholarship at the forty-fifth commencement of the college in Harrison hall yesterday. The scholarship, endowed by the alumnæ association in memory of the college founder, is the highest honor granted by the college in recognition of scholastic attainment, character, and personality.

Other scholarships at that school were awarded to the following from Chicago and vicinity:

The Mrs. John N. Crouse scholarship to Marcia Lundgren, 2222 Maple avenue, Evanston.

The Eva Grace Long scholarship to Elizabeth Carrington, 3160 Sheridan road.

Demonstration school scholarships to Betty Gilman, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Louise McCabe, 2426 Lincolnwood drive, Evanston; Mrs. Marian Leckie, 827 Forest avenue, Evanston; Ruth King, 611 Forest avenue, Wilmette; Vera Thaleg, 617 Greenleaf avenue, Wilmette; Mary Rug of Lyons.

A class of 95 will be graduated from the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, 4043 Drexel boulevard, in exercises to be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the St. James Methodist Episcopal church, 4600 Ellis avenue. Dr. A. W. Palmer, president of the Chicago Theological seminary, will deliver the principal address.

Forty-four members of the graduating class of Morgan Park Military academy of Beverly Hills will take part in commencement exercises today in the Morgan Park Congregational church. Lieut. Col. Haydn Evans Joes, dean and assistant superintendent of the academy, who completed 32 years of service to the school, will deliver the commencement address.

Knox College Honors Julia Lathrop for Work.

Galesburg, Ill., June 10.—One hundred and forty-five seniors, the largest class in the college's history, were graduated from Knox today at the eighty-sixth annual commencement exercises.

Honorary degrees were conferred upon Miss Julia Clifford Lathrop of Rockford, former chief of the children's bureau in the department of labor; Edward Caldwell, retired New York publisher, who has built up a large historical collection in the Knox library, and Edward Holyoke, minister of a church in Providence, R. I., for 44 years.

Miss Lathrop received the degree of doctor of laws, Mr. Caldwell that of doctor of literature, and the Rev. Mr. Holyoke that of dictor of divinity. The two men are Knox graduates.

Miss Lathrop gave the principal address of the commencement, her subject being "Youth and Politics." She urged the seniors to turn their attention to government service as a career, declaring that the "best brains of the country are needed in government work." Although the pay is comparatively small, it will eventually be raised to conform to other business remuneration, she believes."

BOYS ARE IN SCHOOL, SO MOTHER WILL GET HER COLLEGE DEGREE

A mother of a university junior and who has a second son in junior high school, a woman who has been wed more than 20 years, is scheduled to receive honorable mention in the class to be graduated Saturday from the University of Illinois school of pharmacy. She is Mrs. Celia W. Levy, 40 years old, of 7043 Clyde avenue.

"When my babies were little I couldn't do more than take lessons from a private tutor," Mrs. Levy said last night. "Four years ago they were old enough to leave with a good maid, and I entered college. I hope to do some research in time, and I will begin at once helping my husband in his pharmacy. Next fall I'll start to work on my master's degree at the University of Chicago."

Her husband, Charles I. Levy, and the sons, I. Robert, 18, a junior in the optometry department of the University of Chicago, and Norman, 12, a pupil in O'Keefe Junior High school, will watch Mrs. Levy receive her diploma Saturday in the Ashland Boulevard auditorium.

Yankee School Teaching Hit by Sec. Wilbur

'Riddled with Tradition,' Hoover's Aid Says.

New York, June 10.—(AP)—The American scheme of education is "riddled with tradition, custom, and habit and is behind the general advance made by our whole people," Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior, said today at the 99th annual commencement of New York university.

Mr. Wilbur, who received an honorary decree of doctor of laws, said the methods of science "must be used in understanding ourselves and our democracy."

"Our philosophy of educating compels us to prepare for life abroad," he added. "We have not yet turned our education into the civilization built for us by applied science and invention."

Others to receive honorary degrees included E. Graham Wilson, general secretary of the board of national missions of the Presbyterian church, doctor of divinity.

Another Federal Official Takes Rap at School Methods.

Washington, D. C., June 10.—(AP)—William John Cooper, federal education commissioner, said today American history is being treated in the light of the prejudices of the adult generation.

He spoke at commencement exercises of the Catholic university of America. Ambassador Claudel of France received the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the convocation.

Speaking on the science of education, Mr. Cooper referred to text book prejudices, mentioning particularly those on biology and history.

"It is clear," he said, "that American history is treated in the light of the prejudices of the adult generation, . . . and that the church desires to have its own history taken into consideration along with the history of other social institutions. The public school, to avoid the realm of controversy, prefers to let church history stand separate as to the history of art and the history of music."

Schools of the Air Urged as Modern Method.

Columbus, O., June 10.—(AP)—A nationwide system of schools of the air to bring education to all America was visioned here today by B. H. Darrow, director of the Ohio School of the Air, in addressing the second annual institute for education by radio at Ohio State university.

Such a system will be achieved only after present difficulties of educational broadcasting have been overcome, Darrow said, explaining that "some schools of the air have had a nationwide audience so widely distributed as to make it difficult to preserve any semblance of connection with the field with limited administrative staff."

Margaret Harrison of the teachers college, Columbia university, urged educators to take advantage of the variety of educational possibilities of other than school broadcasts.

Eric De Lamarter Will Get the Degree of Doctor of Music

Because of his contributions to the world of music, Eric De Lamarter, a distinguished Chicago musician, will be given the decree of doctor of music at Wooster college, Wooster, O., Monday, June 15.

Mr. De Lamarter's career has been closely bound up with the musical life of Chicago. He has been organist and director of music at the Fourth Presbyterian church since 1914, assistant conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra since 1918, in former years music critic of the Inter Ocean and later of THE TRIBUNE, and a fluent and polished composer of much music for organ, chorus, and symphony orchestras. His listing in the repertoire of the Chicago Symphony orchestra credits him with two symphonies, two concertos for organ and orchestra, and half a dozen briefer works as performed by that body alone.

Stevenson Memorial.

PRINCESS ILEANA, ARCHDUKE TO WED QUIETLY JULY 25

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 10.—(AP)—The wedding of Princess Ileana and Archduke Anton of Austria will take place on July 25 in the Rumanian summer resort at Sinaia. The selection of the place was in the interest of economy, according to reports here tonight.

The princess and her mother, Dowager Queen Marie, returned to Bucharest today from a European tour. They later discussed plans for the wedding with Premier Jorga.

The ceremony will be attended mainly by nearest relative of the couple, while simple festivities for the people will be held simultaneously throughout the country.

Archduke Anton is expected to arrive in Bucharest by airplane this week-end and will visit his fiancée with her mother at her castle on the Black sea.

Students Offer Own Art Show of Clay, Bronze

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The first annual exhibition of work by students of the Chicago School of Sculpture has just opened in the Kroch gallery. The gallery has been enlarged and redecorated and against a background of ancient Japanese paintings the little figures in clay and bronze take on an added fascination. Many of these groups are delightful. It is one of the most charming school exhibits that I have met with in fourteen springs of viewing students' work.

A giant frog, a figure for a garden pool, is the bright thought of Florence Grey and she has put into his rolling eyes and whimsical claws nearly all the poetry of the Frog Footman Alice met in Wonderland. Rose Roberson shows a pleasant "Goose Girl," a peasant maid escorted by two waddling companions. Barbara King offers a "Young Colt," very well done. Jeanette Peterkin shows the figure of a horse, a careful piece of sculpture, and a charming portrait head of Isabella Greenla.

There are various animals modeled in clay or cut from wood that compel your admiration. Chief among them are "Rabbit," a wood carving by Mary Cooper; "Baby Elephant," by Margaret James, and "Panther," by Mrs. John Szatar. The "Girl with Leopard," by Veronese Beatty, iswell done, and Margaret Sidel has two interesting pieces in her "Pioneer Woman" and "Peasant Girl." One of the outstanding pieces of sculpture is the "Negress," by Frances Shilling, a really powerful conception, magnificently handled. The "Female Torso," by Alexander Weigers, is another skillfully modeled piece. Jane Lewis shows a poetic conception in "Diana and Wolfhounds," and a butterfly tile that is attractive.

From the children's class four little figures stand out. Phillip Seipp offers a "Cat"; Ned Keeler offers a "Pup"; Josephine Castle has evolved a "Frog," and Jack Baker has another "Young Pup." The table of children's work is most amusing.

The exhibit is too decorative and varied to be classified among the ordinary school shows. It is as unique as the school from which it has sprung. It will continue to July 7 and is well worth seeing.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, June 10.—Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. J. Cheever Cowdin have joined the Roslyn colony for the season, having leased Valleh House, Perry Osborne's estate on the North Hempstead turnpike. Mr. Osborne and his family will be at Garrison for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling W. Childs and Miss Barbara Childs will return from Europe this month and go to their country place at Locust Valley. Miss Childs was presented last week at one of the courts at Buckingham palace.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Polk are passing the season at their country place near Syosset which they purchased from Charles A. Van Rensselaer.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

EVANSTON'S MAPLE TREES WILTING.

Tree experts from the east and the pathological department of Northwestern university are trying to find the cause of a newly discovered tree trouble found this spring along the north shore.

First found on some Schwiedler maples in Evanston, the trouble has been tentatively diagnosed as maple wilt, about which very little authoritative information exists. The only symptoms, externally, is a blanching and sudden wilting of the foliage. Some have mistaken this for frost damage.

The leaves of an entire branch or side of the tree wilt and become dry and wrinkled at the same time. On cutting into the sapwood of affected parts, the outer layers are found streaked with greenish colored longitudinal lines. Some of the older trees, already dying or dead from the trouble, have been cut down and even the trunk and roots are found affected. The colored sap causes a stench in badly affected parts exposed to the air.

This wilt, which so far has been found only on the Schwiedler variety of the red or Norway maple, is said by Dr. W. Howard Rankin, formerly of Cornell university, to be due to an unnamed fungus of the genus verticillium.

So far no control measures have been found. The Northwestern university pathologists are working on samples of the diseased maples. Destruction of badly diseased maples seems necessary, while surgical methods have been advised where possible. Trees, it seems, have their troubles as well as other forms of life.

Neat, Well Groomed Air Is Essential to Girl Who Goes Job Hunting

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Some advice from the head of a well known business school in New York city to the girls who hope to walk from the school room door to an office desk, or some other job, contains these pithy paragraphs:

"Neither a diploma nor a record of superlative scholarship will be sufficient equipment to guarantee employment. A neat appearance, a clean, well groomed look, must accompany the certificates of ability of even the most mentally brilliant applicant.

"A wholesome air of bodily cleanliness and a tidy appearance are requirements that the employer of today insists upon. It is a point that the charming, white clad graduate, grasping her diploma proudly may well remember, not only when she looks for her job, but when she has landed it and hopes to hold it."

From the Cleanliness institute pamphlet, from which the above is gleaned, one learns that in this business school an employment worker is engaged to visit the class school rooms and give talks on the personality requirements for getting a job. And cleanliness is the first thing he mentions. He doesn't hesitate to speak plainly, either, recommending regular baths and stressing their importance over the waved hair and tinted nails.

The student is checked up on these personal items and, failing to make a good, clean showing, is relegated to a back place when it come sto job placing.

"It is often difficult for a girl with a good home background to realize that cleanliness teaching may be aimed at her," the business school executive reports. "To illustrate: The girl in question came from a good home. Her school record was excellent, but she failed to get the first two jobs for which she applied. At the second place the personnel manager was a frank, outspoken woman who told the girl why.

Some Mothers Love Their Houses Better than Their Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Which do you love best—your house or your children?

No, it isn't a silly question at all. Lots of women are such perfect housekeepers and care so passionately for an immaculate house with nothing out of order that it comes before their children.

Lots of women are almost fanatics on cleanliness in house and clothes and spend precious hours keeping their children looking spotless. All this sort of thing makes life hardly worth living for the children. They can't play freely, because if they do they'll get their clothes dirty and be scolded. Or they'll litter up the house and get scolded.

Also the nerves and disposition of a woman who goes to these extremes are usually unbearable. There are women whose husbands as well as their children don't enjoy their homes because a dropped ash or a livable scattering of papers or a comfortable treatment of pillows is the signal for a critical remark or for being trailed with a brush and dustpan.

There is another aspect of the matter. A woman who gives the cream of her energy to incessant and unnecessary housework has no time to be a jolly, friendly, companionable mother to her children. She inevitably drives them from her, and may look forward to real behavior difficulties later. As in this letter:

"My little granddaughter is a quiet, well behaved child, but stubborn, and is constantly doing things, especially at the table, that she should not do. She gets slapped (not every time) and put in her room. She becomes hysterical and must be kissed by her parents before she will quiet down.

"I have had six children myself, but I never had to slap them.

"My son-in-law has absolutely no temper, but my daughter slaps the child so often and puts her in her room. My daughter is really a fanatic in everything (cleanliness, punctuality, cooking, etc.)

"I tell my daughter if she would let her house get dirty and let the children's clothes get a little dirtier and take more time for play it would be better."

No, the child doesn't need to be sent to a psychologist.

But the mother does. I can't give any suggestions—only a warning to all mothers who are like this:

It is dangerous to love your house better than your children.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Comment Too Pertinent.

I was collecting a few bills for my father and went to a music store with a statement for the proprietor. He had the radio going with a loud electric speaker. The program was a vaudeville stunt—two men discussing their stingy uncle.

I handed my statement to the proprietor of the store and he gave it back to me with the remark "I can't do anything for you today."

Just then one of the performers said: "Ain't he stingy?"

Both of us turned scarlet as I hurried out of the store. F. C.

Spendthrift Wins More Ballots than the Nickel Nurser

BY DORIS BLAKE.

I find that women, on the whole, would rather be tied to a reckless money spender than to a man who keeps close count of the pennies. Granted, of course, that the reckless one spends on his own wife.

A recent case was put up for solution, in which the young woman was confronted with two marriage opportunities, one to an overgenerous man, and one to a man with a stout savings account gained by extreme thrift. And the consensus of advice from women correspondents was for the girl to marry the spender.

"I married the thrifty kind," writes Judy. "I thought it would be great to know that you'd never want. I'd had enough of that when I was a child. But any day I'd exchange that carefree, irresponsible father of mine for all the saving men cut after my husband's pattern. It's plain h—— to know that there is money for a week-end trip, for a two weeks' vacation somewhere, for a new car once in a while, yet the money can't be touched and more and more pressure is brought to bear upon you to add to the [illegible] account. What it does to the soul is simply appalling.

"I've been in a state of rebellion for years now, and one of these days I'm surely going to explode and probably out in Reno, too. I'm no sympathizer with alimony grabbers, but after seventeen years of thrift practice, mean thrift practice, if I'm not entitled to a little spending money of my own, I'm going to know the reason why."

Says another correspondent: "The generous kind are most likely to wed a wife to share life with them. The kind that is careful of every penny. The latter kind wants a wife for housekeeper and rewards her with board and keep, and none too much of that."

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Objection Unwarranted.

"Dear Miss Blake: The fellow I love caught me speaking to another fellow and he got sore. How can I win him back? Lu——

There was no occasion for being sore. Surely you have the right to speak to your friends.

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

Iris, fifteen year old daughter of Iris de Bertincourt, disappears mysteriously from the road in a remote section of Paris. Iris has been separated for years from her mother, Marcel Nivert, a man of great charm but no moral sense. They are cousins and the only heirs of their tyrannical Aunt Victoire, the Comtesse de Castelmauroy.

Iris planned to divorce Marcel and marry Maj. Alan Charnwood. Charnwood, about to sail for Africa, postponed his trip to look for Clare, assisted by Tommy Hostetter of Scotland.

Iris goes to her aunt's home and learns that her husband is already domiciled there. Marcel is busy changed in character, and has taken charge of the search for Clare. Tommy Hostetter at Helen Roderick's, the American woman for whom Iris has been visiting, and learns that they are friends, unknown to Iris. He recalls having seen Marcel in Le Touquet, gambling heavily and hobnobbing with a coarse looking couple that night Alan saw Marcel entering the home of Suzanne Marly, an actress.

A letter is sent to Iris, stating that Clare is being held for ransom. Her aunt offers to pay the sum asked if Marcel and Iris promise to become reconciled. Marcel meets Alan at Robin's and drives them home. He accompanies Alan to his hotel room, where an attempt is made to asphyxiate Alan. He moves to Tommy's apartment.

Tommy and Browne to Iris the night Clare vanished. From Iris' description of the man who delivered them Alan recognizes him as De Bertincourt's companion in Le Touquet. Tommy names Marcel as the suspected instigator of the kidnaping, with the couple, Suzanne Marly, his partners in crime, the motive being to collect the ransom money. Alan and Tommy set out in search of the couple and learn that they have a half-witted son. Alan decides to hide at the spot in a forest in the outskirts of Paris where Clare is to deliver the ransom.

INSTALLMENT XLVI.

A SPYING GAME.

As they approached the forest, Tommy consulted his notebook. Somewhere near here they were due to quit the main road and pursue a devious course all easy to check. Drawn up at the wayside they had their heads together over the map when a car whizzed by, going like a demon.

"Look! Look at that!" cried Charnwood, starting up. "Extraordinarily like De Bertincourt! Do you suppose he's followed us?"

By way of answer Tommy trod violently on the accelerator and they leaped in the wake of the car ahead along a road straight as a length of wire. Far ahead, rising and falling with the undulation of the ground, the car could be seen steadily growing smaller; then vanished behind a curving house. When the turn came in sight the horizon was blank. After that they gave up the chase.

"Nothing to be gained by it," grunted Tommy, though it was a matter of opinion. "If it is he, he won't lead us to anything. At a time like this I expect De Bertincourt dare not risk contact with his accomplices, and probably they have got the girl in their power and won't give her up till they are sure of the spoils is in hand. I expect plans to go forward per schedule—such as delivery, as you might say."

"Then you think I'm justified in going ahead with the spying game?"

"Well, yes—but, of course, you may strike some snag. For one thing God's to mess, and with the woods darker than hades how you hope to find any one is a problem. But there—it's no use looking for trouble."

Reaching the outposts of the forest, they now pushed on into the thick undergrowth. Tall trees rose about them, the road was darkened with overarching boughs, and sometimes the uncleared thicket was so dense that they could not see a few yards into its depths. Counting the turnings to left and right, they presently found themselves in a lane from which footpaths and "rides" led off on to unknown. Brown leaves carpeted the earth, a squirrel frisked to the nearest tree trunk and, with a flirt of his bushy tail, sat looking down at them.

"It's quite in order," admitted Tommy.

For a quarter of an hour no human had been seen. They might have been the first to penetrate for many weeks into that cloistral, far reaching shade. At a point agreed on they quitted the car and went forward several hundred yards to an opening in the phalanx of trees. Unconsciously both had sunk their voices to a whisper.

"Is that the bridle path they mean?" asked Charnwood, hesitating.

"It is unless they're misleading us."

Notebook in hand, Tommy led the way, pacing off the directions. Within five minutes the lane was lost to view, three more and the trodden path was blocked by a silver birch, snapped off at its base. They experienced a sudden thrill.

"Right so far," Charnwood muttered, eyeing the white, peeling bark as though there were something uncanny about it. "It's here we move off into the wilds. How many paces do they say?"

"Twenty. I'll go first."

They were speedily enclosed in a tangle of saplings, bushes, and creepers, a veritable jungle. The ground was pulpy with leaf-mold, and at each step they sank a plunge into some hidden rabbit burrow.

"Seventeen—eighteen——" counted Tommy under his breath. "It's hard to walk absolutely when one has to ferret one's way, but we seem to have kept fairly straight. Now for that ditch. Do you see signs of it?"

Up till now Charnwood had been haunted by the suspicion that there was no ditch, but sure enough a seam opened up before them, so clogged with withered bracken as to be almost invisible. A trickle of water crept sluggishly along the bottom; the banks, worn by erosion, shelved to form a gully, but not one of these was deep enough to satisfy the requirements.

Charnwood, exploring on hands and knees, pushed aside a curtain of small growth and uttered a triumphant cry.

"What about this? I can put my arm in up to the elbow." He pulled away a rough stone slab two feet long and eighteen inches across. It left in the floor of a natural cubby-hole.

"That's quite in order," admitted Tommy. "Either it's intended for use, or the author of the letter reckoned on some one coming to verify the directions. I wish we knew which to believe!"

"Only good wondering," answered Charnwood, shaking his head. "Now, let's get the spot where I'm to hide. Do you advise making it here, or down in the wood?"

"Here, decidedly. Here, if you make a noise, you'll be caught in a trap, but in the open you'll at least have a chance to run for it. Besides, while the light there'll be will be cut off once you get into this bush, and if you're in a tomb you'll simply turn yourself into a target."

They left in a small hollow near the beginning of the bridle path, screened by dead hawthorns, which provided cover but had interstices through which to peer. Any one approaching from either direction could be seen if not clearly distinguished.

Then they were again gliding along the solitary roads.

"How many people do you imagine will be coming to fetch this money?"

"Only one, if our surmise is correct. The other will have to stay with the prisoner."

"You forget the new factor in the case—Lepin's son."

"Yes, a small-idiot, crippled into the bargain?"

"Maybe only the concierge's word for his condition. He may have been shamming. I tell you frankly, that boy sticks in my craw. I've got a queer feeling there's more in this than meets the eye—a devilish deal more."

It did, indeed, look as though the lame youth had been produced as an accessory, or, if he was genuine, that the Lepins were wrong suspects. Were they giving a false address might mean nothing more than a ruse to escape pursuit. Charnwood again wondered if their conclusions had been grounded on unsound premises, but that did not alter his intention regarding the evening's plan.

After a hasty lunch at Rambouillet, they drove on to the small town of Dourdan, where they repeated yesterday's program, making exhaustive inquiries. One after another they canvassed the postoffice, mairie, shops, cafés, and private houses, but without gleaning so much as a crumb of information. Still, as Tommy pointed out, it was not in the town itself that the outlying districts that he hoped to light on the pair. Accordingly they set forth in a widening circle, taking in every hamlet and farm within a radius of several miles; but, as on the former occasion, they received nothing but assurances of total ignorance.

By nightfall they had covered the area immediately surrounding their objective and a large tract to the north, east, and west, but, although they pushed on till after eight o'clock, they were eventually forced to give up.

"I'm to be at the Porte d'Orleans at 10:30, we mustn't waste any time," grumbled Tommy as they turned their faces toward Rambouillet. "We'll have some food, then I'll clear off."

Thoroughly discouraged, they sat over a plat du jour and a carafe of vin ordinaire discussing final details. Tommy offered to drop his friend on the way back, but Charnwood elected to walk.

"It can't be more than four miles. I took my bearings carefully, so I know I can find the spot."

"Good. If I don't turn up to give you a lift home, I'll expect you at the café for breakfast. Here's the key, in case of accidents. Got all you need—torch, revolver?"

Charnwood tapped his pockets.

"Don't be a fool and run chances. Remember the dice are loaded against you."

Miss Baker and Dr. I. F. Frost Are Engaged

BY THALIA.

HAVE you ever in all your life seen a season with such pronounced romantic inclinations as this one seems to have? Interesting betrothals have been divulged with unprecedented regularity in the last few weeks, and, according to rumor, there are still more to be revealed in the near future.

The latest one is being made known simultaneously here and in the east this morning. Mrs. Robert R. Fauntleroy of Geneva, Ill., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Baker, to Dr. Inglis Folger Frost of Meyerstown, N. J., son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry N. Frost of Princeton, N. J. The date for the wedding is not announced, but will probably be some time this summer, when Mrs. Fauntleroy returns from Europe.

Miss Baker is a graduate of St. Timothy's, at Catonsville, Md., a member of the Junior league, and one of her chief interests has been the Girl Scout organization, in which she has been active, until recently, since its organization in 1919. She was commissioner of the Scouts for several years. During the last winter she has been living in New York City. Previous to her going east she had an apartment at 100 East Chicago avenue. Her father was the late James R. Baker.

Harold McCormick to Join Osers at Santa Barbara.

Santa Barbara, according to our correspondent there, is livening up for its summer season. Harold F. McCormick, now in the east, will move to the Biltmore, having terminated a long lease of Mrs. H. K. Haynes' house in Montecito. His son-in-law and daughter, the Max Osers, and their children are occupying the D. Gordon Bromfield house, "The Pillars," in Montecito.

Miss Clara and Miss Mary Cudahy are to arrive from New York in a few days, and the Arthur Meekers are going out shortly for a sojourn in their new place in East Valley road. The Meekers' daughter, Mrs. Horace Gray, and the children are arriving tomorrow to occupy their Hope lodge, and Dr. Gray will commute from San Francisco for week-ends. Dr. Gray's mother, Mrs. Russell Gray of Boston, again is to spend the summer in Santa Barbara, arriving tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Clive Runnells and their sons, who have been visiting here, have returned [in their private car] to their ranch in Goleta valley. Mrs. John J. Mitchell has come on to Chicago until the last week of this month, when she will go back again for a long stay at El Mirado. Mr. Mitchell joining her in August. Charles Wesley Dempster, who has been an annual summer visitor for several years, is occupying Mr. and Mrs. Don Sebastian's house in Ramona lane for 3 weeks. Miss Martha Dickinson, a junior at Smith, will accompany Mrs. Robert Stevens Hyde to Santa Barbara on her return from a visit to the Atlantic coast. Miss Dickinson will join her parents, the William R. Dickinsons, at Hope Ranch park for the summer vacation.

Woman's National Republican Club Outing at Barrington.

The annual members' outing of the Woman's National Republican club is to be held at Mr. Emil C. Wetten's farm at Barrington this year. The date is June 24, a Wednesday, and Mrs. Clyde L. Day and Mrs. Townsend McKeever are co-chairmen in charge of the arrangements. Members will take their own box lunches, and the committee is to provide coffee.

Bus transportation is to be available for members not going out in their own cars, and reservations must be made not later than June 22. Mrs. William R. Cubbins, Miss Marcia Foss, Mrs. Harry Atwood, Mrs. Harry L. MacGregor, Mrs. Agnes S. McCartney, Mrs. Holger J. Petersen, Mrs. Hollis Potter, and Mrs. Lewis C. Jesseph are also on the committee.

Dedication of an interesting tablet on the $150,000 dormitory that Mrs. Francis T. A. Junkin has given in memory of her husband to the Western Theological seminary in Evanston will be a feature of the commencement exercises of the school tomorrow morning. On the table is the motto of St. Francis, patron saint of the late Col. Junkin, and also the shield of the Order of the Cincinnati, in which he was greatly interested.

Kenwood Social Service Club to Meet in Flossmoor.

The Kenwood Social Service club is to have a series of social meetings during the summer instead of its usual fortnightly business meetings. Mrs. William Miller will be hostess at the first of these next Monday at her country place at Flossmoor. There will be golf in the morning at the Flossmoor Country club, luncheon, and an afternoon of bridge.

The British consul general, H. Godfrey Haggard, Mrs. Haggard, and their two daughters departed last night on the International Limited for Montreal to sail for a summer's leave in England. The Haggards are to return to Chicago in the fall, and meanwhile the vice consul, Robert Ross, will officiate at the consulate.

WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Pearl Pearson, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Pearson of Evanston, to Paul William Cutler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Cutler of Wilmette, was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock last night at the First Presbyterian church of Evanston. A reception followed at the Evanston Woman's club.

The bride wore an Empire gown of old ivory satin embroidered in seed pearls, with a five point train, and a tulle veil with Alencon lace insertions. She carried a long spray of gardenias and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor, Mrs. Stanley J. Hall, and the four bridesmaids wore pink lace gowns and carried peonies.

BY ANN WHITTINGHAM.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 10.—Mrs. Ernest L. Ives, formerly Miss Elizabeth Stevenson of Bloomington, Ill., was among the nine American women presented tonight by Mrs. Charles G. Dawes at the fourth and last court of the season held by King George and Queen Mary at Buckingham palace. Mrs. Ives is the wife of the secretary at the American legation at Copenhagen.

In addition to Mrs. Ives, Mrs. Dawes, wearing an oyster satin gown with train to match, made the following presentations: Mrs. William R. Amon, Mrs. Quentell Violette, Miss Carol Donohugh, and Miss Augusta Trimble of New York City; Mrs. James Gaylord Baldwin of Columbus, O.; Mrs. Charles C. Broy of Sperryville, Va.; Mrs. Herbert C. Greer of Morgantown, W. Va., and Miss Barbara Pearl of San Francisco.

Mrs. William Amon is the daughter of the American consul general at London and Mrs. Albert Halstead. She was presented once before her marriage to Mr. Amon, New York architect.

The king and queen today received Edward Harkness of New York, who donated a $10,000,000 trust fund to the British nation, and Mrs. Harkness. They were received in the private apartments at Buckingham palace.

Two More Young Artists Give Concerts, End Season

In what, as far as present announcement are concerned, was the final appearance of the season by the young Chicago concert artists, Fanny Goldberg, pianist, and Barbara Schisppacasse, gave a joint recital at Kimball hall last night. Miss Goldberg began with one of the least often played, but by no means least attractive of the Beethoven sonatas, that in F major, opus 54, and continued with groups by Chopin, Debussy and Liszt, displaying a pair of admirably trained hands and a sensitive appreciation of her music. Miss Schisppacasse is the possessor of a lyric voice of light texture and pleasant quality. Following the conventional requirement of the gift of tongues, she sang in German, afterwards in French and English, and showed many evidences of studious preparation of composed stage presence.

Leonard Crunelle to Make Gen. Artemas Ward Statue

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Leonard Crunelle, Chicago sculptor, has been authorized by the fine arts commission to construct a memorial to Maj. Gen. Artemas Ward, revolutionary war hero. This was learned today. The memorial will stand in a proposed circle at Massachusetts and Nebraska avenues here.

Latest Accessories for Summer Travel

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—The season is open for big and little voyages, and whether you cross the ocean or merely commute to the country for the week-end you'll want to devote a goodly space in your wardrobe to clothes that travel well without wilting, and, likewise, you must give some thought to the accessories that go so far toward making you into a self-portrait of the chic voyageuse.

Sketched today are some of the latest Paris accessories for summer travel.

At the top there is the Talbot hat and scarf ensemble, made of piqué ribbon in red, white, and blue (or you can have it in red, blue, and beige, or red, brown, and beige). The top of the beret is made of bands of plain white piqué ribbon bound with plain cordings and the edge is in the tri-color. The scarf follows the same principle and they're both highly washable.

Next come Nicolet's fabric gauntlets in their new medium brown, hand-stitched with white or beige. They are ideal for summer travel, for they wash perfectly in soap and water and do not get shiny, as antelope ones are apt to do, after cleaning.

The bag at the bottom is the smartest travel purse I've seen in many a day. It has the new satchel shape and it is almost large enough for a week-end case. This one is in brown seal. Its practical straps close with brass buckles. A zipper seals it under a free flap at the top.

Gift of $1,000 to Help Camp at Algonquin

A ray of bright sunlight broke through the depressions and other 1931 discomfitures, and beamed right down on Camp Algonquin yesterday, depositing $1,000 in that camp's vacation fund for underprivileged mothers and children.

An appeal had been issued yesterday morning in THE TRIBUNE reminding the camp's friends that vacations are going to be needed more than ever this year because of the hardships of unemployment during the last winter. The thousand dollar gift was the most pleasant surprise the Algonquin editor has experienced in many a day, changing the whole gloomy outlook for the camp's maintenance this summer to one of considerably more optimistic.

The gift came anonymously, with every caution that the name of the donor be not revealed. But it was learned that the camp's newest and most generous benefactor had taken considerable pains to see that there was money in the fund to give vacations to the first 100 camp visitors, before embarking on a long anticipated summer trip.

"I couldn't have enjoyed my own summer outing if I had left Chicago knowing that I could have helped a little and didn't," was the donor's modest comment on the gift.

Upon the arrival of the $1,000 gift comes renewed hope that men and women who in the past have willingly shared their pocketbooks with the camp can do so again this year. It is upon these thoughtful friends that Camp Algonquin places her hope for remaining open the full summer season. And it is to the old loyalties that the camp looks for aid to finance the vacations of 500 more campers than in normal years.

The example of the donor of today is one that may be followed by other Chicagoans preliminary to summers abroad, up in the north woods, at lakes, the Colorado Rockies, etc. Early gifts will mean much to the camp in completing arrangements for the accommodation of visitors, for the cost of operation runs into the thousands of dollars.

All gifts should be made payable to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE and will be acknowledged in this newspaper.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover received the disabled veterans at their annual garden party at the White House. Assisting the Hoovers were members of the cabinet and their wives, members of the "little cabinet" and their wives, and the Gray Ladies of Walter Reed hospital, Red Cross members, and many nurses.

Among the cabinet hostesses who were at the party were Mrs. Stimson, wife of the secretary of state; Mrs. Mitchell, wife of the attorney general; Mrs. Adams, wife of the secretary of the navy; Mrs. Lamont, wife of the secretary of commerce, and Mrs. Doak, wife of the secretary of labor. The party was held out of doors, in spite of chilly and threatening weather. Hot beverages and sandwiches, ices, and cakes were served.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Asks for White Shoes.

"I am about to be confirmed, and I am all ready except for a pair of white slippers, size 4½. I have worked after school to get my things, but I couldn't manage the slippers. Do you think you could get a pair for me?

"M. B."

This child has worked so hard to make her confirmation outfit a complete one I hope she is not to be disappointed for lack of white shoes. Surely, some one has a pair in her size to give.

Food Talk

Beef is one meat of which the family rarely tires. This is because there are so many different cuts and each cut may be prepared in so many ways.

Some cuts call for quick cooking and others for long, slow cooking. Now that the days are getting warmer and the great outdoors entices the housewife to forget her kitchen tasks, she should plan meals that will actually take care of themselves while she enjoys the sunshine. She can do this if she chooses cuts of meat that can be slowly cooked and for a long time rather than steaks and chops that cook quickly. The cuts from the chuck, short rib, flank and lower round of beef are made tender and delicious by long cooking and are inexpensive.

The use of the oven for cooking the inexpensive cuts (if one has an insulated, controlled oven) will save hours of labor in a hot kitchen. Or a fireless cooker is a boon to the housewife who desires to be absent from her kitchen as much as possible. Even though an inexpensive cut is being purchased, the housewife should demand good quality.

When buying beef look at the bone, color of the flesh, the marbling, and the grain. If the bone is pink, the flesh a light cherry red in color, the flesh well marbled with fat and velvety in texture she will know that it is meat from a young animal. When properly cooked the meat will be tender and juicy. The application of the correct method of cookery will govern to a major extent the attractiveness and the palatability of the meat.

Any cut should be seasoned with pepper and salt and dredged with flour before searing. Allow ¾ teaspoon salt and about 1-4 teaspoon of pepper to the pound. Steam roasting, pot roasting or braising, stewing or boiling are considered the best methods for the less tender cuts. Steam roasting differs from roasting in that it has a small amount of water added after the meat has been seared and it is covered during cooking, while in roasting the meat is cooked in an open pan.

PRUNE WHIP.

Simmer half a pound of thin skinned prunes which have been soaked over night in water with a little grated lemon peel and juice. Add sugar to suit the taste and cook until prunes are tender. Cool, stone and rub prune meat through a sieve. Beat one cup of whipping cream until stiff and fold in prune purée, then fold in stiffly beaten white of two eggs. Add more sugar if necessary. Set on ice. This mousse is delicious.

Yield: 6 servings.

BRAISED BEEF.

3 lbs. brisket
2 thin slices salt pork
3 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoons pepper
Flour
Bacon drippings
¼ cup carrots
¼ cup turnips
¼ cup onions
¼ cup celery
¼ teaspoon peppercorns
2 cups boiling water

Wipe meat, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour, and brown in the drippings. Place in a baking pan and cover with vegetables, peppercorns, and boiling water. Cover closely and bake 4 hours in a slow oven.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

How lovely this frock would be made of printed chiffon. The neckline is so soft and becoming and the frills that take the place of sleeves seem just right for a dress of this kind. Then, too, the three peplum frills are cleverly arranged so as not to interfere with the smooth fit of the molded hipline. The full skirt and narrow belt complete it.

The pattern, 3144, comes in sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 36 and 38 inches bust measure. Size 16 requires 6¾ yards of 39 inch material.

REPUBLICANS TO PROSELYTE FOR YOUNGER VOTERS

Any One Under 60 Being Considered Young.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Get 'em young, treat 'em nice, and tell 'em nothing but about how grand the Grand Old Party is. This seems to be the theory on which the two day conference of Young Republicans will be held, beginning tomorow at the Willard hotel.

It appears, however, that Young Republicans is not a wholly accurate statement of age statistics. For among the 300 delegates who have come to Washington at the summons of Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican national committee, are a score of women bearing the title of "Mrs." and the men include "Captains," "Drs.," and several prefixes of "Hon." titles which the average citizen acquires subsequent to the time of life popularly understood as being youth. The theory, Mr. Lucas insists, still holds good. He maintains that political material should be trapped young and not given a chance to forage around in the wild state among dangerous ideas propagated by the opposition.

Arranges Squad of Speakers.

He is depending on a squad of speakers to make the state of Republican grace so attractive that the young and not so young will be inspired with a missionary zeal to garner still more Republican votes back in the home communities.

Headliner supreme is to be Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, chairman of the Republican national committee, who may be only a few months away from three score and ten but whose heart is young. The other young Republican speakers are to be Postmaster General Brown, 52; Secretary of Argiculture Hyde 53, and Secretary of War Hurley, the baby of the cabinet, at 48.

Illinois Alliances Bared.

Another matter up for discussion is the makeup of the Illinois delegation: Harold G. Baker, East St. Louis; Ralph Faris, Danville; Richard C. Dyes, Paris; Harold Halfpenny, Streator, and Phillip P. Sachs, Eugene Tappy, Merritt R. Laubenheimer, Edward S. Fisher, Howard West, T. C. Ponting, and Mrs. Lucille McVicker Hiatt, all of Chicago.

Nearly all of them, it is pointed out, are scions or affiliates either of the Deneen or the Emmerson organizations, and this is being taken as an indication that the administration intends to tie up with these factions of Illinois Republicanism in the fight to win the state to Hoover in 1932.

PADLOCK CLUB CITED IN REPORT OF WICKERSHAM

New York, June 10.—(AP)—After five years of effort the government succeeded today in getting a padlock order entered against the Waverly club in West 44th street, which was cited in the Wickersham commission's report as an example of the difficulties encountered in padlock proceedings.

Since 1926 the government had raided the club forty times, including six times one day last year. John Doe papers failed, as in padlock proceedings some one with a financial interest in the premises must be personally served.

Last January Owen Lawlor, race-track bookmaker, was handed a subpoena to appear in padlock proceedings. Meyer Goldberg, prohibition agent, testified today before Federal Judge Francis G. Caffee that Lawlor admitted to him on one occasion that he was the owner and patrons had called it "Ownie Lawlor's place."

Judge Caffey had a padlock order entered.

SEE THIRD PARTY IN MOVE OF PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN LEADERS

An effort to launch a "progressive Republican" movement of the La Follette-Norris-Brookhart type in Illinois will be made at a two day meeting opening tomorrow at the Auditorium hotel. Old line politicians see in it the possible starting of a third party group.

The prime mover, who will make the "keynote address" tomorrow, is Newton Jenkins, attorney and service man, who was an unsuccessful candidate for the city council in 1920 and for United States senator in 1924 and 1930. The principal speakers on the program include Congressman Wright Patman of Texas and United States Senator Brookhart of Iowa. Other speakers listed are Prof. A. R. Hatton, Prof. Charles E. Merriam, and Carl D. Thompson, advocate of public ownership of utilities.

AUSTRALIA PLANS TO BOOST TAXES BY $36,450,000

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 10.—Increased taxation, amounting to $36,450,000 is planned by the commonwealth government as part of a general scheme for rehabilitation based on all around sacrifices.

Included in this sum is $7,290,000 in income tax; $7,290,000 in heavier primage duties, and $19,440,000 in extra sales tax. Economies in government expenditures include $14,580,000 in pensions and $8,505,000 in salaries and wages.

The various states in the commonwealth also propose to reduce their prospective deficits by means of drastic cuts. The New South Wales government is planning a reduction of its budget from $55,890,000 to $26,730,000.

24 Doctors, 27 Druggists Lose U. S. Alcohol Permits

Permits of 24 doctors and 27 druggists to sell alcohol were revoked by the government during the month of May, according to a statement made yesterday by E. C. Yellowley, supervisor of permits for the Chicago area.

John Toohill of Tribune Sports Staff, Drowns

Thrown into the lake when his canoe capsized, John J. Toohill, 26 years old, a copyreader in the sports department of THE TRIBUNE, was drowned late yesterday a half mile off Lawrence avenue. The backwash of a passing tug is believed to have unbalanced his tiny craft.

JOHN J. TOOHILL.

Scores of bathers at Clarendon beach saw the canoe overturn. Life Guard William Wallace put out in a skiff to the rescue, and despite choppy waters, reached the scene quickly. He dragged Toohill into his boat, and then put him aboard the tug, which also had gone to the rescue. Wallace tried to revive Toohill on the tug. On shore fire department rescue squads also attempted resuscitation, but efforts were futile. Dr. Harry Haver of the Lake View hospital pronounced him dead.

Toohill was in a bathing suit at the time of death. Identification was established through personal effects found in the beach locker. Irving Webb, clerk at the Hermine hotel, 4108 Kenmore avenue, where he lived, identified the body.

Toohill's home was in Bloomington, Ill. He was a graduate of St. Viator college at Bourbonnais, Ill. He later worked on the Decatur Herald, the Bloomington Pantagraph, and the Illinois State-Register at Springfield. He served two years as sports editor of the Springfield paper, and came to THE TRIBUNE in March, 1930. Surviving Toohill are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Toohill of 307 West Chestnut street, Bloomington; two sisters, and a brother, Martin, president of the College club of St. Viator.

N.U., Purdue Grid Teams Play in '32

Northwestern and Purdue will renew their football rivalry in 1932, it was announced yesterday by Northwestern athletic authorities. The Boilermakers will play the Wildcats at Dyche stadium on Oct. 22, 1932. The agreement does not cover a return game in 1933. The two teams have not met since 1928.

Scheduling of Purdue completes Northwestern's Big Ten schedule for next year. An opponent for the opening game of the season on Oct. 1 is still to be selected.

Seven straight games will be played by the Purple. They are, in order, Stanford, Illinois, Purdue, Minnesota, Ohio, Notre Dame, and Iowa.

In order to assure an attractive home schedule for the World's Fair year in 1933 the Purple will play four of their 1932 games away from home.

PURDUE DRAFTS SCHEDULE.

Lafayette, Ind., June 10.—[Special.]—Purdue's 1932 football schedule was completed today with the announcement that Northwestern, Big Ten champion, and the Kansas Aggies, one of the leaders of the Big Six conference, have been secured to fill the only two open days on the card. The addition of Northwestern and the Kansas Aggies gives the Boilermakers six conference games and an intersectional tilt with New York university. The schedule:

Oct. 1, Kansas Aggies at Purdue; Oct. 8, Purdue at Minnesota; Oct. 15, Wisconsin at Purdue; Oct. 22, Purdue at Northwestern; Oct. 29, Purdue at New York university; Nov. 5, Purdue at Chicago; Nov. 12, Purdue at Iowa; Nov. 19, Indiana at Purdue.

Carnera-Redmond Bout Postponed Until Monday

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—The opening of the outdoor boxing season at Ebbetts field, Brooklyn, scheduled for tonight, with Primo Carnera, Italian giant, and Pat Redmond, Irish novice, in the feature ten round bout, was postponed today because of rain. Promoter James J. Johnston announced that, weather permitting, the show will be staged Monday night at the same park.

ROWING'S A FINE SPORT—EXCEPT FOR THE ROWING

At Least It Seems Nice from the River Bank.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 10.—Boat race time is approaching now and these would be days of voluptuous lazing in the sun at Poughkeepsie and New London if there were any sun these days and the coaches and trainers didn't always have other plans to interfere with the lazing around on the floats.

Of all the college sports, the one pulling an oar in a crew always has seemed to me the most attractive with the single exception of the pulling of the oar which looks hard enough even from where the customer sits, a long way off, jolting on a plank circus seat rigged on a flat car. The other aspects of life on a college boat crew as seen from where the spectator sits, appeal to that part of his nature which sets him longing now and again for the smell of fresh water and woods and the sound of little waves going slap, slap against the side of a rowboat.

It's All Fine, But—

But for the rowing and the training, the young men would have nothing to do, some of them for as long as three weeks before the big race, but lie sprawled out, as bare as the palm of your hand and as brown as gravy, on the gently bobbing floats along the shore, stirring now and again just enough to roll over into the Hudson or the Thames to cool off.

But I suppose nothing is as good as it seems for the boys who have been through this apparently ideal vacation say:

"Yes, sure, it's a fine vacation. You get blisters wherever you touch the boat and you spend most of your off time standing around in a mob, without anything on, trying to get at a big table where there is a lot of rubbing alcohol and iodine and bandages. You dab yourself on the blisters with alcohol and iodine or you paint some pal and he paints your back, and then you stick some tape on yourself, and by that time you have to go out and row some more. Then the tape puckers up and makes a hard wad, and this hurts the blisters even more, no matter which way you hitch around.

"Your hands blister and the handle of the oar chaffs the pelt off your center, and there isn't any way you can lie on the float in the sun and get any comfort, even if you had time to lie on the float."

Still, It Looks Nice.

Still, they took very enviable from where the spectator sits, most of them big kids with huge shoulders and long legs and flat muscles in front and reeking with health, and quartered in secluded places on cool water, with the mountain forests at their back.

The day of the race usually is muggy and hot, accentuating the attraction of the river, and the cinders from the locomotive chuffing away somewhere off in the distance and cracking the whip with the long string of flats enhances the lure a little more. You have been on the train for hours, anyway, having come early to be sure of getting that seat, and because the Hudson there lies down between the hills, persons of a certain mind, at least, will begin to think longing thoughts of little cool spots in the towns on the other side of the river where water washes over the floors as in the old time saloons down south and the waiters, their aprons clammy from the spillings of hundreds of schooners, go puffing through the crowded rooms calling, "Yessir, eight for you; coming up right away; these are for the party at that table over there."

Wisconsin Still Game.

There will surely be a larking crowd of Wisconsin kids stowed away, possibly without train tickets, on one of the cars, one with a ukelele, another with a banjo, and all singing the best college song of them all, "On Wisconsin," knowing very well that Wisconsin hasn't got a chance. But Wisconsin keeps on coming up to Poughkeepsie year after year, generally not having rowed a single race in preparation for the big one, owing to the

Jockey Allen Blocks Rival's Whip Arm in Stretch; Wins

BY FRENCH LANE.

CHARLIE ALLEN.

He did it in the Cottage Grove claiming purse, which was the feature, and brought Dark Sea, a former selling plater, up so fast in the stretch he made him beat Maya, Gallahad, and other good handicap performers.

It was no easy job for Dark Sea to win. Allen nursed him along for the mile trip as few jockeys can nurse a horse. Maya was going so strongly three lengths in front of them for the first three-quarters that most any horse or jockey might have become discouraged.

As Maya wheeled around the lower bend and headed into the stretch for home Allen made his move on Dark Sea. He had to do considerable urging to get the former plater to make his challenge. A furlong out Allen had Dark Sea running like the wind.

He moved up alongside of Maya. Then Allen showed all his skill. He came up alongside of Maya and rode just close enough to the former eastern star—didn't foul him, mind you—to keep the right handed jockey, L. Cunningham, from applying the whip.

Allen didn't attempt to go into any great lead until they were within the shadow of the finish line. Then he picked Dark Sea's head up and moved him along so fast he beat Maya by a length.

Chicago racing folks have renewed their confidence in Allen. They apparently like to see him get along, for they gave him a big cheer after the race. He seems to have harvested his crop of wild oats.

William [Palmer House] Ryan has rushed away to New York to see the running of the Belmont Stakes on Saturday. Picks Jamestowp to trim Twenty Grand. Says Jamestown will be 10 lengths in front at the end of a mile and a quarter.

Andrew Jackson Joyner, trainer of Jamestown, has become irked at the many hints that Jamestown will not go a route.

"How can any one make such predictions?" Joyner asks. "This colt has done everything asked of him and he has as much license to run a mile and a half as any man's horse. He ran gamely to stand off challenges at the end of the Futurity last fall. In the Withers this year he sprinted away from his rivals with the greatest ease. Nothing he has done in racing and training entitles any one to make such forecasts on how far he will go."

All the $26,000 beauties of the Saratoga auctions are not failures. Lady Teddy, a daughter of Sir Gallahad III.-Embassy, made her bow to a race crowd in the Lilac Purse which opened yesterday's program. Last August at Saratoga the millionaire Waggoner's from Texas paid $26,500 for her.

She ran away from eleven rivals and with her jockey, Earl Pool, taking it easy in the final stages, she beat Sabina H. by three lengths. Reminded one of Gallant Fox when that great champion son of Sir Gallahad III. was making his furious stretch drives. This miss has the poise of a champion and I'm quite sure you're going to see her frequently in the winners' circle.

Jockey Herman Schutte, who was in the saddle when Gallant Knight refused to start with the field in the Suburban handicap last Saturday, speaks up and says Gallant Knight was to blame.

"The starter and his assistants had nothing to do with it," the jockey said. "Gallant Knight's unfamiliarity with the Belmont starting device might have confused the horse, yet he has started before out of the same kind of gate at Latonia and behaves very well in the Bahr stall gate. Gallant Knight wouldn't move an inch until the field was some 30 yards clear of us. Then he made up a lot of ground and I am sure he would have won if he had started with the rest of them."

Johnny Schorr surely lets his friends in on it when he has a horse ready to win. He started Etcetera, a son of the fast sprinter, Prince of Wales, of a few years back, in the fourth race. Etcetera was by far the best, but so many of Johnny's friends knew about his speed and his good condition that he was backed down from an opening price of 10 to 1 to less than 3 to 1 at post time. Not many trainers are so frank with their friends.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

EXPLAINING THINGS.

Waukesha, Wis., June 10.—[Special.]—Friend Arch: Well, Arch, I thought you ought to know why I am here in Waukesha instead of down in Chicago writing that feature story that you suggested. Well, I'm with Jack McGill, and Bud Rader is his boss, and you know Bud Rader, and he's a very understanding boss, and I hope you're the same.

Perhaps I better tell you the whole story, because I don't want you to think I'm soldiering on the job, especially as you soon will be sending some of us reporters to Cleveland for the fight, and I'm rather anxious to see Schmeling and Stribling in action.

Well, it all started when Hawley Wilbur invited us to the monthly Hoo Hoo tourney of the Wisconsin Lumbermen's association at Brown's Lake, near Burlington. Have you even been to a Hoo Hoo tourney, Arch? It ought also to be called How How.

O, I forgot to tell you Hawley is an old college friend and fraternity brother, and once he was the "boy mayor" of Waukesha, but he has lived that down and is now in the business when there is any business. So we had a foursome, only it was a fivesome, because Mrs. Prash, said to be the only woman in the country conducting a full size golf links, didn't see us start. There were the three of us and Don Montgomery, who is secretary of the How Hows, and Hank Reitsch, who earned his football letter at Illinois. His younger brother, Bob, was captain of one of Zup's teams. So you see I was in good company in case you were doubtful.

Well, I hadn't played before this season, except once, and there were two water holes, but I was hot and had fifty and then a fifty-eight, but here's the point: Hank and I each made a birdie, and he also won a prize, and of course we had to celebrate, and lumbermen are very hospitable. They don't make that wood alcohol, as many persons think, but anyway they're very hospitable.

Another thing—Walter Meyer of Milwaukee and Art Jacobson of Menomonee Falls and Bruce Harris of Elkhorn, in the foursome ahead of us, and Don Dardis of Burlington and Nick Braun of Jefferson were just behind, and they also had some birdies. So then it was time for dinner, and Blue Mound club was only forty miles away, so we went there. Now here's how I figure it, Arch. You spend a lot of money on our Wisconsin edition and Louis does a big job of circulating, so why shouldn't I circulate The Wake in Wisconsin? Of course I should, so I did.

Well, Don forgot to telephone home that he would be late, so we dropped in about midnight to tell his family he would be late, and his wife was a bit surprised, but was very nice about it. Then we went to a night club, because I thought I might get a human interest story there, but the human interest had mostly gone home.

So then we went to a strange place, and there was a table there with some numbers on it from 1 to 36, and at one end was a cipher and a double cipher, and they told me if I placed a check on a number I would get 35 checks for my one check and that seemed fair enough. But there was something wrong with a system at first. So I tried my favorite number of 17, and, funny thing, Arch, this little ball that rolled around a wheel stopped at 17, and a pleasant time was had by all. So we circulated in Wisconsin some more and spent the night in Waukesha at Hawley's home, and we've been around this morning looking at the scenery, and we've seen it all, I'm sure, so I'll be back tomorrow. I am sure you understand and don't mind. Regards.

HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

Eddie Collins Joins Retired List Monday

Philadelphia, Pa., June 10.—(AP)—After a quarter of a century as an active player in the American league, Edward Trowbridge Collins, king of second basemen in his day, will be retired to the inactive list Monday.

On that day, Connie Mack of the Athletics will have to reduce his active list of players to 25, and Collins, it has been decided, will step into the inactive list.

Eddie, however, will remain with the world's champions as captain, coach and adviser and as right hand man to Mack.

Played One Game Last Year.

He can be made an active player any time Connie wishes, but it is not likely that he will be called into the A's battin, order. Last year Collins got into one game, a one sided affair at Cleveland, to pinch hit, and filed out.

Collins, who is 44 years old, broke into the American league records in 1906 when he played under the name of Sullivan while still a student at Columbia university. Illness kept him from progressing very much in 1907, but in 1908 he became a regular and played in 102 games. He was one of the famous $100,000 infield of the Athletics which won pennants and world's championships for Connie Mack.

With Sox from 1915 to 1926.

In 1914, when the Boston Braves startled the baseball world by defeating the Athletics four straight in the world's series, Mack broke up his celebrated team and Collins was sold to the Chicago White Sox. He remained with the Sox from 1915 to 1926, inclusive, part of that time as manager, and returned to the Athletics in 1927. He played in 9[5] games that year and in 36 in 1928, and then became more or less inactive.

Collins has a life batting average of .332. He appeared in six world's series games as a player, four with the A's and two with the White Sox, and was a member of the Athletics in the world's series of 1929 and 1930 but did not get in any games.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Two fine pitchers, Charley Root and Phil Collins, hooked up yesterday while in fine fettle and the result was the swellest baseball throwing contest of the year at Wrigley field. But Root could bat and Collins couldn't, and in the seventh the Chicago pitcher drove in the first and winning run with a double, the vital part of a 3 to 0 victory by the Cubs over thte Phillies.

It was an old fashioned nip and tuck battlte until the seventh, with each pitcher enjoying a perfect defense behind him. Root allowed only four hits, the last a double by Arlett with two out in the ninth, and Collins allowed only five up till the fatal blast in the seventh. Not a runner on either side reached second until the last of the fifth, when the Cubs filled the bases, to no avail, on singles by Jurges and Grimm and a walk to Cuyler.

The victory placed the Cubs back in a tie with the Giants for second place and gave the Chicagoans an even break with the Phillies in the season series to date. The teams will resume today with Smith pitching for the Cubs and Benge doing his stuff for the visitors.

Walk Brings Collins' Downfall.

The downfall of Collins in the series opener was launched by one of those things that have wrecked so many excellent pitchers' battles—a base on balls. It was issued to Jurges to start that seventh.

Young Bill went to second when Grimm laid a perfect bunt in front of the plate and Jurges dashed home with the verdict when Root cracked his double to left. This made Phil more fidgety than ever and he sent a pretty one up to Cuyler. Ki forthwith became the only Cub to get more than one hit, for he bounced a double in the corner formed by the west end of the centerfield bleachers, scoring Root. This was enough for Collins and Stoner came in. Woody said hello to Lil with a single to left which drove in Cuyler with the third and final run of the afternoon.

That seventh inning was the only instance in which the calm of the perfect defensive baseball was disturbed unless you want to count the time when the Cubs filled the bases in the fifth. In this instance Jurges singled with one out and stopped at second on Grimm's single to left. Root wasn't quite ready to be a batting hero, so he fanned, after which Cuyler walked following a count of three balls and two strikes. The threat ended when English popped one to Mallon.

Phils' Circus Act Is Off.

Four hits and errorless fielding made the Phillies something of precedent violators, and perhaps a disappointment to those who look at the Phillies when they are seeking a baseball circus.

It was the first look the Chicago customers have had at Buzz Arlett, the colossus from the coast. And Buzz further crossed up the show by executing a fielding gem in the first inning. This wasn't right, for it was his inability to field, and that alone, that kept him in the minors for 13 years. Buzz's violation of precedent was the mere matter of robbing Rogers Hornsby of his number 9 homer with Cuyler on base. The ball was sailing right into the bleachers when Buzz reached up over the top of the screen and pulled it down with one hand.

There were other notable fielding maneuvers by the usually nonchalant Phillies, principal among them being the start of a double play which ended that game-wrecking seventh inning outburst. Bartell went back of second and made a backhanded stab of Hornsby's red hot grounder and flipped it to Mallon for the start of a double play.

Fighter Is Killed When Head Strikes Ring Floor

Portland, Ore., June 10.—(AP)—Stanley Sargent, 22, Vancouver, Wash., middleweight boxer, died here today of a skull fracture suffered last night in a match with Pete Meyers, San Francisco. Sargent was injured in the fifth round when Meyers shot a hard right to his chin. Sargent fell backwards, his head striking the boards.

TAMBOUR TAKES BELMONT 3 YEAR FILLY HANDICAP

Baba Kenny Breaks Down with Ankle Injury.

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—Preston Burch's Tambour, daughter of General Thatcher-Castanet, today won the Coaching Club American Oaks, Belmont park's old test of stamina, designed exclusively for fillies of three years.

The stake, like the Suburban, was marred by racing luck. Gallant Knight, second choice in the Suburban last Saturday, did not break, and today E. R. Bradley's Baba Kenny, second choice and the only starter credited with a chance against Tambour, broke down after running three furlongs and was pulled up.

Tambour was the heavily backed favorite at 12 to 20, but at the end of the long route she was doing her best to stand off the challenge of A. C. Bostwick's Scuttle, a Whiskaway filly out of Sea Tale. Tambour won by a length in a hard drive and took down $15,000 as the winner's share of the purse. A distant third was Allez Vite, owned by Walter M. Jefford, and then came Blind Lane, the only other starter.

Baba Kenny Injures Ankle.

Except for those paying strict attention to what was going on in the race, Baba Kenny's mishap passed unnoticed for a brief space, as it occurred at the most distant part of the course. For those watching carefully through glasses, Laverne Fator, rider of Baba Kenny, was seen to pull up suddenly just after the field had crossed the Widener chute which bisects the main track.

Fator at once dismounted and a horse ambulance was brought on the track to take Kenny off. Dr. C. W. Richards, the track veterinarian, who made a hurried examination between races, said the left front ankle was the injured member, that the ligaments were badly torn and that a possible fracture existed. He said that the filly might be saved for breeding purposes but that it was doubtful.

Bradley Sees Breakdown.

It was assumed by some that Baba Kenny had stepped in a hole but Fator said after the race that he did not think this was so. He said the ankle snapped when his mount was going along smoothly. Mr. Bradley, who recently has been very ill, watched the race from the stand and said he was the more disappointed since Baba Kenny went into the race sound and apparently with a fine chance to win.

DEMPSEY'S AND WIFE'S LAWYERS CONFER ON SUIT

San Francisco, Cal., June 10.—(AP)—Robert Burns of Reno, Nev., attorney for Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, and Joseph L. Scott of Los Angeles, attorney for Estelle Taylor, Dempsey's wife, conferred here again today on a divorce suit planned by the Dempseys.

After a conference the attorneys said there will be no reconciliation and it has not been decided who will file the suit or where. Dempsey established residence in Nevada for the purpose of obtaining a divorce, but whether he would seek one or let his wife get an interlocutory decree in California was problematic.

Amateur Cue Association Cuts Tie with National

A two year affiliation between the National Billiard association and the Amateur Billiard Association of America was terminated at the annual meeting of the latter association last Monday, according to an announcement yesterday by G. R. Collins, national secretary of the A. B. A. Collins said the A. B. A. will hold its annual sectional and national amateur championships independent of the N. B. A. Officers elected were George B. Dryden, Chicago, president; Robert M. Lord, Glen Ellyn, Ill., treasurer; G. R. Collins, Chicago, secretary.

Massachusetts Legalizes 15 Round Boxing Bouts

Boston, Mass., June 10.—(AP)—Fifteen round championship boxing bouts in this state were legalized today when Gov. Joseph B. Ely signed the new boxing bill, which will become effective in 90 days. The bill also will allow 12 round bouts for New England championship contests.

Sylvano Beats Holden in Four Rounds at Geneva

Zeigler String Is Ready for Arlington Trip

Clyde Phillips has notified Arlington Park officials that he is ready to ship the main divisions of the stables of Mr. and Mrs. William Zeigler from New York to Arlington. There will be 20 horses in the shipment.

All horses of the male persuasion in the charge of Phillips race under the purple jacket of Mr. Zeigler. The females bear the scarlet and green of the Middleburg stable, Mrs. Zeigler's racing alias. She and her husband are the owners of Burriand, just south of Middleburg, which is one of the finest places in the Virginia piedmont.

The Zeigler post and paddock eligibles are Phantom General, Peacock Alley, Americana, Lord Off, Phantom Legion, The Crane, and In Command. Americana and The Crane are winners. Mrs. Zeigler has General Advance, Stimilla, Marcasite, Flying, and White Flyer in the Lassie, five furlongs and a half for fillies, that should gross close to $20,000, on July 4.

The "big horse" of the establishment is Spinach, which won upward of $100,000 last fall, although he was one of the horses Sun Beau licked in the Hawthorne Gold cup revival. Phillips declares that Spinach, a son of Sir Martin and Sweet Thyme, is the best horse he ever trained. Spinach will tackle other stars in renewals of the $30,000 Stars and Stripes, $40,000 Arlington handicap, and $30,000 Arlington cup.

AUBREY BOOMER SHOOTS 291 TO WIN FRENCH OPEN

DEAUVILLE, France, June 10.—[Special.]—Two British born professionals, who wandered away from their home land to positions with foreign clubs, today won first and second places in the French open golf championship.

Aubrey Boomer's 291 for 72 holes was low. Percy Alliss with 292 was next. Boomer is professional at the St. Cloud club in France and Alliss at one in Berlin.

Joe Kirkwood, American trick shot artist, muffed a beautiful opportunity to capture the title when he went to pieces on the last eighteen and needed 80 for a total of 298. Kirkwood played great golf except for his putts, missing many easy ones.

It looked for a while that an Argentine might win the crown, but history repeated itself when Jose Jurado, runnerup to Tommy Armour, in the British open, folded up coming home.

Lucky Fish Ride Over River Dam Via Elevator

BY BOB BECKER.

With the beginning of the motoring season in the north woods last month hundreds of muskellunge and pike also took joy rides that weren't on their schedules, the result of the installation of a new kind of "vehicle" at the outlet of the Manitowish chain of lakes in Wisconsin.

A new and entirely different type of fishway, which has been installed at the Rest lake dam, was the "water buggy" which gave the finny tribes rides this spring.

This contrivance, invented by Harry Barr, a sportsman of Ironwood, Mich., is considered by conservation departments a complete success and, in view of its simplicity and ease of operation, may be installed on a number of other dams in the north country.

The Wisconsin conservation commission checked the operations of the new fishway to see if the pike and muskies were being taken for a ride as per schedule. The fish run up the big flowage on the Manitowish river [a sheet of water backed up by a dam at the junction of the Turtle and the Manitowish rivers].

In coming up they need to get over the Rest lake dam and the fishway was installed to ride 'em past it.

In checking the number of fish using this new fishway the conservation commission stretched a net at the outlet at a flume which leads from the fishway.

Approximately 200 muskalunge and 400 pike were caught during the first two weeks of the operation of this net, which indicated that the finny tribes were riding over the dam as they should.

The traveling pike and muskies go through the dam much like boats are put through a lock. The gates open and close by balances of water weights. There is a double bucket arrangement on the lower side, which opens one gate for an hour. When one load is heavier than the other the gate closes and the lock fills with water. When it is full, another gate opens and the fish swim out into the water above the dam.

Twenty Grand Flashes Speed in Workout

New York, June 10.—(AP)—Working the full distance of one and a half miles in preparation for the Belmont stakes Saturday, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Twenty Grand today left no doubt as to his ability to run in mud.

With an exercise boy in the saddle, the Kentucky Derby winner worked the distance over a racing strip ankle deep in mud in the good time of 2:36. Breaking from in front of the Belmont Park grandstand, he went the first furlong in 12 4-5 seconds, the quarter in :25 and passed the half mile post in :49 seconds. In the next furlong he quickened his pace, clicking off the six furlongs in 1:13 3-5, the mile in 1:40 and the mile and a quarter in 2:07. St. Brideau, a stablemate, attempted to keep pace with Twenty Grand in the early part of the workout, but was soon left far behind as the son of St. Germans-Bonus gathered speed.

Tigers Trade Akers to Kansas City for Brower

Detroit, Mich., June 10.—(AP)—Charles F. Navin, secretary of the Detroit baseball club, announced today that William Akers, infielder, had been released to the Kansas City club of the American association. In exchange the Tigers will receive Louis Brower, a shortstop, who has batted .308 in 44 games this season.

Prep Pitcher Claims Record —Fans 103 in Eight Games

Doylestown, Pa., June 10.—(AP)—Robert Paul, Doylestown High school baseball pitcher, laid claim today to a record for prep players. In eight games he fanned 103 batters and pitched a no hit no run contest.

MILLS STADIUM HAS 42 ROUND SHOW TONIGHT

Saguero and Phillips Headline Card.

Tonight's Card

Billy Papke Jr., Los Angeles, vs. Edgar Norman, Chicago, 10 rounds, 175 pounds.

Pep Justo, Madison, Wis., vs. Jackie Horner, St. Louis, 8 rounds, 154 pounds.

Mickey Joy vs. Don McLeod, 4 rounds, 137 pounds.

A card of six bouts totaling forty-two rounds will comprise Promoter Jim Mullen's first outdoor boxing program of the season at Mills Stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue, tonight. There will be a double windup of 10 rounds each, an eight round semi-final, a six round preliminary and two four round openers.

Relampago Saguero, Cuban welterweight champion, and Tug Phillips of Pittsburgh, Pa., will meet in one of the ten round bouts at 148 pounds. The other final bout will match Billy Papke Jr., son of a former middleweight champion, and Edgar Norman, Norwegian light heavyweight title holder, at 175 pounds.

Justo Meets Horner.

Pep Justo, Madison, Wis., who recently was graduated from De Paul university, and Jackie Horner of St. Louis, Mo., will fight in the eight round semi-final at 154 pounds. In a six rounder Bobby Stewart, south side colored lightweight, will meet Billy Gladstone, ex-Central A. A. U. champ.

The four pounders will offer Les Finnucane and Bill Baker, Jack O'Keefe's protege, and Mickey Joy and Don McLeod, Chicago 137-pounders.

Saguero and Phillips, who will be fighting in Chicago for the first time, are outstanding welterweights. Saguero has done practically all of his fighting in his native land, Cuba, and in Florida, and is hailed by fistic experts there as a hard hitting 147 pounder.

Fights 75 Bouts.

He has engaged in 75 bouts and won 71 of them, 40 by knockouts. Before leaving Cuba about a year ago for Florida, Saguero won the Cuban welter title from Hilario Martinez.

Phillips has lost only two decisions in two years, Tug is a Canadian, but is being booked out of Pittsburgh, Pa. He has done most of his fighting in Pennsylvania and Canada. He has engaged in 39 fights in the last two years and has won 36 of them, losing two and boxing a draw in one. He won the welterweight championship of Michigan when he knocked out Morrie Sherman at Detroit early this year.

Father Seconds Papke.

Billy Papke Jr. will have Billy Papke Sr. in his corner.

Papke Jr. has had 27 bouts, 14 professional and 13 amateur. He won all of his amateur contests but lost three of his pro bouts. He has knocked out 15. Among his victims are Irish Johnny Cline and Dean Spencer.

PREP ATHLETES HERE FOR MEET AT STAGG FIELD

24 States Send Men for National Titles.

A small army of high school athletes mustered from twenty-four states will begin trooping into Chicago today to compete in the twenty-seventh national interscholastic track meet at Stagg field tomorrow and Saturday.

When entries closed yesterday noon Coach Stagg had on his lists the names of 138 entrants from 144 schools, practically every one of whom figured in his state finals. Forty-three of the place winners in the Illinois meet, including 12 of the 13 champions, will be at their marks tomorrow, being picked performers of 20 state championship teams in the preliminaries.

Lincoln Park, winner of the Illinois relay, is one of a dozen teams which, on the basis of records made this spring, are favored to fight it out for the high point total. Fort Collins, Colo., which has won three Stagg relays and placed second in three others in the past seven years, has entered 20 men.

Scott High Enters.

Scott High of Toledo, always a point contender, has entered 18 men and Roosevelt High of Dayton has entered 17. East High of Columbus, Ohio, has been represented in the past by George Simpson and Jack Hall in sending a squad of 12.

Other leading teams include Woodrow Wilson High, Dallas, Tex.; Hunter College High, New York City; Du Pont Manual Training, Louisville, Ky.; West Division High, Milwaukee; Webster College High, Webster Groves, Mo.; Senior High, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Georgia Military academy, College Park, Ga.; Central High, Tulsa, Okla.; Washington High, Sioux Falls, S. D., and Augusta Tilghman High, Paducah, Ky.

Included in the entries are 17 boys who placed in last year's meet. Four of them are individual champions—Randall Herman, Oak Park, in the 220 yard dash; Tim Quinn, Ludington, Mich., who set a new record in the 880 with a time of 1:57 2-10; Jack Hardin of Greenwood, Miss., who set the record 180 in 1:55 5-10, and Bryan Dove of Lorraine, Kas., who set a new world record of 55 feet in putting the 12 pound shot.

Marks Are Threatened.

The leading performances of the entrants this spring indicates that several marks are in danger. Two dash stars—Irwin Turbio of Jesuit High, New Orleans, and Crain Portman of Urbana, Ill.—have done 9.7 in the century and will be out for Randall Herman's title.

880 YARD RUN—Louis Smith, Greeley, Colo., 1:57.

880 YARD RUN—Glen Hardin, Greenwood, Miss., 1:57.

JAVELIN THROW—George Johnson, Central High, Hibbing, Minn., 187 feet 10 inches.

POLE VAULT—Warren Demuth of Prineville, Ore., has done 13 feet 7½ inches, but his entry has not been approved by the Oregon State Athletic association. The next best throw has been that of John Talbot, Du Pue, Ill., who has tossed the pole 13 feet.

Because the Indiana High schools were ruled out of the meet when their state association invoked a three year ban on all athletic events, the number of individual entries is 100 less than last year, and Froebel High of Gary, last year's champion, will be unable to defend its title. There is no admission charge to the meet.

SHOSTROM PLAYS WEISS TODAY FOR PREP NET TITLE

Sidney Weiss of Hyde Park High school and John Shostrom of Parker yesterday survived the fifth and semi-final round of the Stagg tennis tournament at the Midway and will meet at 4 p.m. today for the Chicago regional prep championship.

Of the fifty-four entries in the meet, representing 17 high schools, the four remaining players lasted to the semi-finals. After defeating William Snyder of Parker in the quarter-finals, 6-4, 6-2, Sidney Weiss beat Norman Bland of Oak Park, 6-2, 2-6, 6-0, in the afternoon play, to win his chance for the championship. Shostrom defeated Lambert Eggert of Oak Park in the quarter-finals, 6-1, 6-2, and Trevor Weiss of Hyde Park in the semi-finals, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

In the semi-finals of the doubles competition Sidney and Trevor Weiss of Hyde Park are matched today with Bland and Charles of Oak Park, and Weiss and Miles of Hyde Park will face Gutman and McClintock of University High.

Committee Kills Bill to Permit Dog Pari-Mutuels

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—A bill to permit pari-mutuel betting on dog races, was killed today in the house committee on license and miscellany. R. V. Libonati [Dem., Chicago] moved to report the bill unfavorably and the vote was 10 to 5, the nay coming from Claude Hoffman, Harrisburg]. The bill was introduced by Groves Borders [Dem., East St. Louis].

Cleveland Signs Donahue, Released Giant Pitcher

Cleveland, O., June 10.—(AP)—Pete Donahue, veteran pitcher released yesterday by the New York Giants, has been signed by the Cleveland Indians and will join them shortly. Billy Evans, general manager of the Indians, who announced signing Donahue, said he probably will be used mostly as a relief hurler.

RAIN HALTS SOX; THEY AT LEAST EAT LIKE CHAMPS

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 10.—Rain stepped in today to make toil unnecessary for the White Sox. Having lost seven out of eight since coming east the break naturally was welcome. It gave the athletes a chance to sit in their fortieth floor New Yorker rooms and, over a bridge table, contemplate that even in defeat the life of a ball player has its redeeming features. The dining room is just as accessible for a losing team as for a winner.

If the rain of two days goes away and permits opening the series with the Yankees tomorrow, Hal McKain will do the pitching. As a rescuer he is excellent in capital letters, but as a starter he is a gamble. However, circumstances make it necessary that Manager Bush resort to extreme measures.

For the Yanks it might be any of several pitchers Joe McCarthy has available. All of them aren't good pitchers, but Joe can't do anything about that except make a trade and he might.

Trades Loom in Offing.

Bush also is in the mood to do a little swapping of talent before June 15. Two or three clubs stand willing to relieve him of either Tommy Thomas or Carl Reynolds, but as far as can be discovered the right kind of men haven't been offered in return. The only way to get Reynolds would be to give the Sox exactly what he is worth, and that is plenty.

It is just a matter of a few more days before Lew Fonseca, acquired from Cleveland in exchange for Willie Kamm, is going to present a real problem. There are already indications of this. Fonseca's legs are none too strong, and second base, where he's now performing, calls for plenty of movement of the lower extremities. His condition accounts for his failure to hit as he did when playing first base for the Indians.

Fonseca to Play First?

If Fonseca is to be kept in the lineup there is only one step possible, and that is his transfer to first base. That would mean the benching of Lu Blue, who has been playing a remarkable fielding game and getting on the bases often enough to be a steady threat for the opposition pitchers. The matter could be solved by consummating a trade for him. Three or four clubs in the league could use him to advantage, but might want to take him only at bargain prices. In the event no deals are made whereby another infielder is landed, Johnny Kerr probably will continue as third baseman.

Y. M. C. A. TRACK TEAMS TO DECIDE TITLE SATURDAY

Sears Roebuck department of the Y. M. C. A. will conduct the annual Illinois state track and field junior championship on its athletic field Saturday. The meet will be run off in four weight divisions. The events will be the 50, 75, and 100 yard dashes, high jump, running broad jump, and relays.

All of the Chicago departments of the Y. M. C. A. and those throughout the state have been invited, making a total of forty-four associations that may compete. In the Chicago area the competition will be keen between the Sears Roebuck department, last year's champion, and Irving Park.

WILLIE OSTER TO BATTLE GIBBS ON CEPAK CARD

Willie Oster of Boston and Jack Gibbs of Los Angeles, middleweights, will meet in the eight round main bout of Billy Cepak's opening outdoor boxing show at Emil Denemark stadium, 21st street and Kostner avenue tomorrow night.

Oster has fought in Chicago a number of times. He registered two victories when he knocked out Tait Littman at the Coliseum last winter and Edgar Norman at White City.

Johnny Baima, Cicero favorite, and Sid Novak, Milwaukee middleweight, will meet for the second time in another eight round feature.

Billy Wallace Defeats Tenorio at Cleveland

Cleveland, O., June 10.—(AP)—Billy Wallace, Cleveland lightweight, won an eight round decision over Lope Tenorio, veteran Filipino boxer, here tonight. Tonorio weighed 143½ pounds, Wallace 136¾.

Russ Martin's 153 Wins Kildeer Golf Karnival

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Russ Martin of Flossmoor, one of the leading amateur golfers of the Chicagoland district, journeyed out north yesterday to lead the parade in the fourth annual Karnival of the Kildeer Country club. Martin took the thirty-six hole low gross prize with a card of 153, negotiating the difficult water course with a 74 and traveling around the eighteen holes of the woods layout in 79.

Novotny Second with 154.

Gus Novotny of Edgewood Valley followed Martin home among the thirty-six hole gross scorers with a 154, while Johnny Lehman of Olympia Fields, former Purdue star and present western amateur champion, placed third with 156.

Tom Fitzgerald of Columbian took low net honors for the day with a 179—40—142 score for the two courses, his 139 reverting to par. C. V. O'Grady of the home club placed in this class with 184—50—142, while A. Peterson of Kildeer took third with 189—54—145.

Martin and Lehman also came in for a share of the low gross foursome for the day, joining with Coleman Clark, western amateur ping pong champion and chairman of the Kildeer tournament committee, and Al Brett of Calumet to make a total count of 656. L. Q. Needler, Jack Westland, Novotny, and N. Lighthart had the same total, but were forced to be content with second prize after tossing a coin.

Binner Celebrates.

C. P. Binner celebrated his recently acquired membership at Kildeer by capturing the prize awarded to the new 1931 member with the lowest 36 hole net score. He had 162—16—146.

Art Sweet of Ridgemoor joined the prize winners before the day was over, turning in a 79 for the water course in the morning. Low net for this course was won by P. McNamara of Kildeer with 71. Rial Rolfe of Sunset Ridge had the best gross for the woods course, a 76, while C. Berry, a guest, had 75—4—71 for low net.

The Medinah Athletic club held its annual "Ka-Hana" golf tournament yesterday with nearly 300 members playing. Because of the wide divergence of handicaps the big field was divided into three classes. A. N. Anderson won the club championship with 84—79—163 gross.

Class B—Low gross—D. M. Dixon, 85—84—169. Low net—A. L. Landis, 189—44—145; second, W. H. Garner, 184—38—146.

Class C—Low gross—A. L. Bueschel, 98—96—194. Low net—L. Kraft, 195—52—143; second, H. R. Cornell, 206—56—150.

Highest score—F. Reide, 135—144—279.

Low net foursome—A. N. Anderson, A. W. Hale, Leonard Thompson, John Sasser, total, 597. Second, G. E. Johnson, C. R. Nicholas, W. L. Culpepper, O. L. Bueschel, total, 615.

Frank Justin of Edgewood Valley walked away with the low gross prize in the Chicago District Golf association meeting at Elmhurst yesterday with 38—38—76.

John McKinlay Jr. of Beverly had some trap trouble going out and took 42. He finished with a 38 for an 80 to tie with R. C. Culver of Navajo Fields. Charles Wilson, Elmhurst, shot 81, while Winfield Day of the home club had 82.

F. B. Snite Jr., Elmhurst, had 85—17—68 to lead the low net scores with E. C. Kolb, Medinah, next with 85—14—71. Edgar Gifford, R. C. Culver, and J. F. Coyne tied at 73 for third, and Coyne won the draw. Leading scores:

F. B. Snite Jr., Elmhurst	85	17	68
E. C. Kolb, Medinah	85	14	71

Westmoreland, Illinois, Bob o' Link, and North Shore scored easy victories in North Shore golf league matches at the Wilmette Golf club yesterday afternoon. Briergate and Glen View tied with 13½ points each. Scores follow:

Westmoreland, 19; Evanston, 8.
Illinois, 18; Wilmette, 9.
Bob o' Link, 16½; Skokie, 10½.
North Shore, 17½; Knollwood, 9½.
Briergate, 13; Glen View, 13½.

Daniel W. Davis, with a net score of 67, yesterday won the annual golf tournament of Voiture 220 of the Forty and Eight at the Big Oaks Golf club. Gus Fetz won low gross with a 74, one stroke under George O'Shea. Sixty members and guests played. The prize winners:

Low gross—Gus Fetz, 74; George O'Shea, 75.

Low gross, four long holes—Fred Emich, 20.

Low gross, four short holes—Herbert Klein, 14.

High gross—Paul Armstrong, 132.

CUYLER TIES FOR SIXTH PLACE IN BATTING RACE

Harvey Hendrick, Cincinnati veteran, lost ground in his effort to wrest the big league batting leadership from Babe Ruth when he connected for only one hit in four times up against Brooklyn yesterday. Ruth, idle for the day, retained his leadership with a mark of .398, compared to Hendrick's .386. Wally Roettger of the Reds and Hazen Cuyler of the Cubs climbed into a tie for sixth place among the regulars as Buzz Arlett, big gun of the Phils, dropped from the select circle.

The leaders:

lack of neighboring competition, and I hope to see the time when the Cardinal pennant goes flaming through the dusk to win a race at Poughkeepsie because the school has been so game and because the stowaway rooters are so irrepressible.

Some one will be having a flask and some one else a square face bottle of stuff that would be bad enough under the best conditions but which becomes liquid fire when taken in the glare of sun and the still heat of the valley, and by the third hour of waiting and cracking the whip up and down the bank, some of the boys will be wearing their girls' hats and vice versa and every one will be well acquainted as the passengers on a thirty day cruise.

Of the entire experience of watching a boat race from a flat car, the last minute, I think, is best, the relief of hopping down, the unkinking, and the thought of those cool places on the other bank only half an hour away now—that is a pleasure to live for.

Letts Not to Compete in Coast A. A. U. Meet

The report that Dale Letts, national collegiate champion in the half mile, will compete in the Southern Pacific A. A. U. meet June 19 at Los Angeles was declared erroneous yesterday by Letts. As student head marshal at the University of Chicago he will be in charge of the university's graduation ceremony on June 16, and is therefore unable to accept the invitation.

MAUREEN ORCUTT BEATEN, 4 AND 3, IN BRITISH GOLF

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland, June 10.—(AP)—The women's golf championship, the only one of Great Britain's major golf titles never won by an American, was made safe for the king's subjects again today as Elsie Corlett, former Lancashire champion, eliminated Miss Maureen Orcutt in the third round of play, 4 and 3.

The tradition that a champion seldom repeats also was kept safe as Miss Fishwick, the English girl who handed Glenna Collett, champion of the United States, a surprising defeat in the finals last year, fell before the fine stroking of Miss D. Pimm, 1 up in 19 holes.

TILDEN DOWNS PARKER, 10-6, IN SEMI-FINALS

Soucek Hits Home Run with One On.

Tilden Tech of the central section of the Chicago Public High School league defeated Parker of the south division yesterday in its first semi-final game, 10 to 6. Joe Soucek led the Tilden attack, hitting a home run in the fourth inning with Eddie Hulata on base. Score:

CLOSING PRICES SLIGHTLY BETTER IN TRADING HERE

Little News to Affect Chicago Stocks.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

When trading suspended at 2 o'clock on the Chicago exchange yesterday stocks were commanding slightly better prices than at the end of the preceding day. The actual improvement in quotations was slight, however, the main feature being that a stronger tone evidenced itself as the day progressed.

The news of the day which might be counted as having an influence on the market action continued of a mixed character. The declaration of the New York Central dividend, over which there had been considerable question, was received favorably by the trading community.

Gardner Denver Steady.

Little news directly affecting Chicago stocks to any appreciable market influence could be traced. Gardner Denver company shares were steady around 20 on the announcement that the stock had been placed on an 80 cents annual dividend basis through the declaration of a quarterly dividend of 20 cents. In the past the stock has paid 40 cents quarterly or $1.60 annually. No trades appeared in John R. Thompson following the reduction in the dividend.

The utility shares responded with moderate advances to the improved tone shown the utility issues on the big board. Edison held around its previous quotations and the other Insull stocks were bid up fractionally. The action of the utilities was typical of the remainder of the list.

Segal Interest Wanes.

Interest in Segal Lock declined despite the spreading of the report that the company is dickering for a contract with the United Cigar Stores for outlets for the products of its subsidiary, the Segal Safety Razor company. The rumor gained ground because of the recent break between United and Gillette. If such a deal would be consummated, it would provide 3,200 retail outlets for the Segal company. That the company is desirous of making such an alliance was seen in the remarks of Louis Segal, president, who stated that the company is seeking outlets. He refused to confirm the report, however.

Trading in Associated Telephone Utilities A stock was quiet, as the company issued its quarterly earnings statement. Earnings for the first quarter ended March 31 were reported to be $824,687 after taxes and interest, but before depreciation. This compared with $823,710 on a comparable basis in the corresponding period last year. Gross for the period totaled $4,146,049, against $3,722,037 last year.

BARRETT CO. TO BUILD 4 STORY FACTORY ANNEX

BY AL CHASE.

To care for the continued expansion of its business the Barrett Bindery company, manufacturer of all kinds of loose leaf binders, has had plans drawn for a four story addition to its large four story plant at 1328 West Monroe street. Nimmons, Carr & Wright are the architects. They are now taking bids and expect to let contracts next week with the expectation of starting work immediately thereafter.

The addition will cost in the neighborhood of $90,000 and will be of mill construction. It will occupy a site 95x150. A one and two story addition, now on the property, will be torn down at once to make way for the new improvement. The Barrett Bindery company is one of Chicago's oldest industries, having been established in 1867.

Buys Adjoining Land.

Last week Arthur M. Barrett, president and treasurer of the Barrett Bindery company, who is now on his way to Europe, purchased a parcel of land 157½x236 adjoining the present plant on the east from Harry L. Troy. This property was bought to provide for the new extension and for future expansion.

Contracts have been let to the R. C. Wiebolt company for the erection of a two story store building, 55x116, at 618 Davis street, to replace a structure which burned. The land is owned by Northwestern university.

Makes $135,000 Loan.

The Chicago Trust company has negotiated a $135,000 loan through the Metropolitan Life Insurance company for Harry W. and Estelle W. Eisenberg on the store building at the north west corner of Lincoln and Fullerton avenues. The term is ten years and the rate 6 per cent until Sept. 1, 1936, and then 5 per cent thereafter. The loan is partly to care for the erection of an addition to the building on the Lincoln avenue side, which has been leased to Woolworth.

The thirteen apartment building at the northeast corner of Laflin and 83d streets, lot 42x126, was sold by David McMullan to Sarah C. Hughes for a reported $75,000, subject to $50,000. Thomas W. Moore & Co. were brokers.

Norge Corp. Gets Large Order for Refrigerators

Norge corporation division of Borg-Warner corporation has received two orders which total seventy carloads of electric refrigerators for immediate delivery. Shipments of complete assemblies for May were 338 per cent over the same month in 1930.

BANK TROUBLES ARE OUTLINED AT CONVENTION

F. B. Bernard Points Out Problems.

...olis, Ind., June 10.—[Spe...]—Ability of the American people to meet their problems in a high ...ided way will result in gradual ...ergence from the business lethargy ...ough which we are passing "and ...n will have the next quarter of a ...ntury the busiest program of busi... operations in our history," ac...ding to the belief of Frank B. ...ard, president of the Merchants ...tional bank, Muncie, and president ...e Indiana Bankers' association, ...o delivered his presidential address ...ore more than 500 Hoosier bankers ...embled here today in annual con...ion.

...C. F. Schwenker, Wisconsin bank... commissioner, told the convention ...t "poor management, no matter ...ether it is described as 'frozen ...ets' or not, is the cause of at least ...9 per cent of bank failures."

No "Moses" in Sight.

...In the city of the entire business world ...ed is for effective leadership, but ...o Moses has yet appeared, Mr. Bern... declared.

..."After Time, with such more or ...s effective assistance as each of us ...n give constructive economic rôles can ...ay in working assiduously and ap...ly ourselves with our best intelli... to our particular tasks, holds ...t the only corrective antidote," he said. ..."Of course, our stock observation ...s that this economic debacle is just ...other phenomenon which always ...anifests itself in a post-war period—...mmediate further inflation and ...e corresponding deflation with ...s economic pains and hardships. ...e seemed ourselves that it followed ...e Napoleonic wars, our own civil ...r—finding its climax in the panic of ...73—the Franco-Prussian war in Eu...e, and now we find ourselves ten ...rs after the world war in the fiasco ...f 1929 and 1931."

Discusses Banking "Sins."

...Discussing "banking sins in particu...lar," Mr. Bernard pointed out that ...o one has passed has been par...icularly turbulent in banking circles, as ...s always the case in periods of defla...

..."I think we should remember this," ...e continued, "banks don't fail! Bank... do not fail. Banks are inanimate. We, ...e human factor, who have the de...rmination of the policies of our re...pective institutions, are the ones who ...ed success or failure for them. ...Which, then, have we failed? In ...ost cases it is a well known fact ...at practically everything in banking ...as been subordinated largely to the ...ea of getting new business without ...ny adequate regard for its costs. ...his policy has led quite naturally to ...certain degree of generosity on the part ...f banks which has resulted in the ...ublic becoming imbued with the no... of expecting from the banker ...ractically every service under the ...un—and free, at that. The public, ...ot only the banking public, has a ...ay of clinging for dear life to any ...ew boulevard, and it does not take ...long to regard any concessions once ...granted not as a favor conferred, but ...as a right established."

Refers to Bulletin.

...The speaker referred here to a re...ent bulletin of the bank management ...ommission of the American Bankers ...ssociation listing the major causes ...or these extraneous services as: ...[1] the vigorous campaign for new ac...counts, which attained its peak during ...that part of the post-war period char...acterized by ill-advised enthusiasm, ...uncommonly thinking and abrupt de...partures from sound banking practices ...and traditions; [2] too ready a will...ingness to make service promises with...out adequate knowledge of the cost ...of performance; [3] misapprehension ...regarding the future value of current... ...y valuation banking accounts—each ...item of business should be on a self...supporting basis; [4] unwonted en...dorsement among banks for large num...bers of depositors and mounting to...tals as contrasted with the traditional ...faith in quality of business; [5] faulty ...reasoning regarding the necessity of ...furnishing whatever service competi...tor banks offer.

..."The foregoing," he said, "supple...mented by a brief reference to our ...lack of adequate regard for proper di...versification of our assets and a prop...er degree of liquidity, seem to me to ...summarize fairly well the scope of our ...talking also."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 10.—A decrease of 277,277 tons in unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation was reported today as of May 31. This was in line with outside estimates which placed the decrease at between 250,000 and 300,000 tons.

The total as of May 31 was 3,620,452 tons, compared with 3,897,729 as of April 30 and 4,059,227 tons last year. In April the decrease from the preceding month was only 97,601.

May has universally been a month of sharp reductions in steel tonnage, the average for the last seven years having been between 250,000 and 300,000 tons, so that the report this month was not considered in market circles as particularly bearish.

Auto Orders Decline.

"The automobile industry is chiefly resonspible for a further decline in raw steel from 42 to 40 per cent of capacity, and it will strongly influence the course of ingot output in the next two months," the Iron Age will say tomorrow.

"Demand for iron and steel from other sources is holding fairly constant, suggesting that the irreducible minimum of requirements has been reached, but motor car manufacture has been receding steadily since the premature contraction of retail sales in May and seems to be headed for a very low operating rate in July with suspensions such as occurred a year ago a possibility.

"These expectations, however, fail to take into account the sensitivity of motor car demand to changes in general business sentiment. If the automobile trade is justified in the belief that the recent stock market decline checked its retail sales, the later recovery of securities prices should have the opposite effect.

Eye Coal Strike.

"But regardless of automotive developments the steel industry sees nothing that will bring about a revival of activity in the next two months unless it be the coal strike. So far the strike is limited to relatively few mines in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia and is not regarded seriously. It is interesting to recall, however, that a coal strike in the same region came at the turning point of our last severe depression nine years ago, driving up prices of coke, pig iron and finished steel. For example, furnace coke which was quoted at $3.25, Connellsville, at the beginning of April rose to $7.50 before midyear was reached.

"Aside from possibly some narrowing of variations in beehive coke prices, the present disturbance has had no visible effect in any of the markets. Meanwhile, iron and steel producers are preparing for a dull summer by making every possible effort to cut operating expenses. Reductions in salaries, operating expenses, and personnels have been made by some companies, and a number of the larger interests which had previously attempted to prorate work among their various plants have finally shut down at certain points and are concentrating at their low cost centers.

Prices Hold Steady.

"Prices of finished steel are being given little test, since mills are not pushing forward contracting. Makers of sheets and strips will accept second quarter specifications until June 30 for shipment until the last day of July, as this means that many users will have enough steel to carry them well into August. There is little interest in third quarter contracts. Spot orders are still bringing out concessions on some products. Notably in cold rolled strip and galvanized sheets. The present quotation on tin plate will be carried over into the second half of the year.

"Steel works operations this week are on the verge of breaking through the 40 per cent rate which many leaders of the steel industry believed would represent the summer low," Steel will say tomorrow, "while building, pipe line and general manufacturing needs for steel appear to be reduced to a minimum, no important gains may be expected from them over the near future. But automotive and railroad demand continues to ebb, hence it is not illogical to expect moderate further recession. In general, neither producers nor cousumers manifest noteworthy interest in third quarter contracts or prices."

FRENCH LINE IS HIT BY SLUMP IN WORLD TRADE

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, June 10.—[Special.]—A plan for emergency financial relief by the government and immediate reorganization of the French line was discussed at great length this evening by the financial commission of the chamber of deputies sitting in conference with Premier Pierre Laval, Minister of Minance Flandin, Minister of Budget Pietri and Minister of Merchant Marine Chappedelaine.

It was pointed out at the conference that steamship companies have suffered greatly from the world-wide economic crisis in common with other transport agencies such as railroads and commercial air lines. Laval revealed that the French line recently was compelled to suspend operation of thirty of its cargo and passenger vessels and has been obliged severely to curtail its building program, which includes construction work already started on a new 70,000 ton liner at the Saint Nazaire shipyards.

Construction work on this huge passenger steamer destined for the Havre-New York passenger service must not be held up, the premier argued, because rival British, American and German lines have built or are building bigger and faster ships for north Atlantic traffic, where competition is extremely keen.

Emergency relief appealed for by the cabinet ministers on behalf of the French line will take the form, it is believed, of a postal subsidy or mail contract advance, possibly to the extent of around $11,000,000.

Western Electric Awards $160,000 Sewer Contract

Award of a $160,000 sewer construction contract to the D. J. Donovan company, 20 North Wacker drive, by the Western Electric company was announced yesterday. The contract is for work on the Western Electric company's plant at 22d street and Cicero avenue. Work will be started within ten or fifteen days, according to William McNichols of the Donovan company, and between 300 and 400 men will be employed.

Chicago Title & Trust Declares Extra Dividend

The Chicago Title and Trust company has declared an extra dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 1, to stockholders of record June 10. The board of directors appointed Melvin A. Traylor a member of the finance committee.

Ten Years Ago in Finance

Unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation at 5,480,481 are the lowest since March of 1919 and represent the tenth consecutive monthly decrease. They are nearly 100 per cent lower than in June, 1920. The corporation is operating at about 37 per cent capacity and the average for the entire steel industry is around 30 per cent of capacity. Pig iron output for May, 1921, reaches a thirteen year low figure.

Great Britain's exports for May at £50,310,000 are the smallest since December, 1918.

Founder Retires; Cut Made in Dividends.

New York, June 10.—(AP)—Reorganization of the Fox Film corporation, begun a year ago when William Fox relinquished control after financial difficulties, was completed today with the election of eight new directors representing important banking interests.

The infusion of new blood into the directorate of one of the large units of the motion picture industry marked the passing from the scene of Fox, who retired from the board of the company he created and headed for a quarter of a century. A year ago he yielded the presidency to Harley L. Clarke, powerful figure of the utility and motion picture equipment industries.

List of Directors.

The new members are Albert H. Wiggin, chairman of the governing board of the Chase National bank, which succeeded Halsey Stuart & Co. as bankers for the film corporation; Cornelius Vanderbilt, capitalist and a director in Chase bank, Illinois Central railway and other large corporations; Frank O. Watts, chairman of the board of the First National bank of St. Louis; George M. Moffett, newly elected president of the Corn Products Refining company, New York; Philip R. Clarke, president Central Trust Company of Illinois, Chicago; David K. E. Bruce, New York, son-in-law of Secretary Mellon; Edward R. Tinker, president Interstate Equities corporation, New York; and Samuel W. Fordyce, an attorney of St. Louis.

The old directors who were reelected are Mr. Clarke, the president; Matthew C. Brush, president American International corporation, New York; Winfield Sheehan, Los Angeles, vice president and general manager Fox Film corporation; and Charles W. Higley, president Hanover Fire Insurance company, Chicago.

Close More Sales Contracts.

At a meeting prior to the stockholders' session directors placed the class A and class B stocks on a $2.50 basis by the declaration of 62½c dividends. Mr. Clarke said it was hoped the company would be able to return to the $4 basis in the third quarter.

Although the motion picture industry has not been immune from the effects of the business depression, Mr. Clarke said in a statement, that it suffered less than almost any other business.

He said sales contracts for the new 1931-'32 season already closed with domestic exhibitors are far in excess of similar sales made up to this date a year ago and exceptional demand is found for our bookings.

THE SERVICE WE RENDER

FACTS that fit

Furnishing facts without pointing out their significance to the investor is like selling a new product without printing directions for use on the package.

The investor wants more than just facts and figures. He wants to know how he can profitably use this information. He wants to know how it affects not only the investment market, but his own investment problem.

For this reason, Moody's Investors Service is not content to be just a fact-finding agency. Thirty years of guiding investors have taught this organization that facts, to be really helpful, must be applied to the individual investor's needs.

Today some eighteen thousand banking institutions and conservative investors are proving the validity of this contention. Aided by this complete service, they are finding sound appraisal of true investment values, protection against capital losses, and an opportunity to share in the legitimate growth of business and industry.

Discusses Merits of Two Northeast Water Routes

BY SCRUTATOR.

The territory included in a rough triangle drawn from Buffalo to Portland, Me., thence to Washington, D. C., and back to Buffalo, contains approximately one-third of the population of the United States.

Here are concentrated nearly one-half of the nation's industrial workers. It is essentially a manufacturing district. It raises, for instance, only a little more than one-twentieth of the national production of wheat and beef cattle.

For farm products, and also for many of the raw materials which supply its factories, this area draws heavily upon another important region—the central west. A dozen of these central states contain nearly another third of the nation's inhabitants.

The importance of the commerce between these two regions can best be grasped by comparing them with nations of Europe. It will be seen that in population, wealth, and volume of business they rank with England, Italy, or France. And they have the great advantage of being under one flag, with a common language, and no tariff walls between.

Trade with Northeast.

Proponents of the St. Lawrence seaway project are inclined to overlook the fact that the most important part of the central west's commerce is with the northeastern states. A water route from the great lakes through the Welland canal and the St. Lawrence river hardly serves to advantage this main stem of freight traffic.

A deeper St. Lawrence might facilitate shipments of American farm products to north European countries. But the bulk of these products are consumed in the northeastern section of the United States, their natural market.

Most of the tonnage on the Canadian route travels eastward. Of the total freight carried on it 40 per cent is grain for export. With little grain being exported in 1929 tonnage on the St. Lawrence dropped 32 per cent.

In Line of Traffic.

The New York state barge canal, on the other hand, is directly in the line of greatest traffic between east and central west. In 1929 its tonnage dropped only 6.92 per cent, and in 1930 it increased 25.36 per cent. It carries as much freight west bound as east bound, and its business has been steadily increasing since the war.

This showing is being made in the face of large handicaps. Engineers state that some of the locks were not properly constructed. The channel is not uniform in depth or width. And it is crossed by 300 bridges with a clearance of about 15 feet.

The increasing traffic on the barge canal in spite of its physical drawbacks can only be attributed to its location along the busiest trade route. It would seem to indicate that there is some foundation for the contentions of such men as President L. F. Loree of the Delaware and Hudson railroad that this route offers a more profitable field for exploitation than does the route through Canada.

REPORT COPPER SOLD AT 8 CENTS, LITTLE OFFERED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 10.—It was rumored in the copper trade today that small quantities changed hands yesterday at 8 cents a pound, equaling the low record price. Inquiry today failed to disclose any one willing to sell at that level. The market was said to be 8¼ cents a pound. Sales were small, with consumers willing to pay 8 cents for a substantial amount, but unable to obtain the metal at that figure. Other nonferrous metals were firm. Zinc rallied to 3.30 cents a pound, compared with 3.25 cents yesterday. Lead was in good demand at 3¾ cents a pound, unchanged.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—They got the "reconditioned" bull movement hitting on all six on the stock exchange once more this afternoon, but it took most of the day to turn the trick. It was not until the last hour of trading, in fact, that the list responded with any show of promise to the constructive efforts in its behalf. These efforts reputedly were backed by strong banking interests, out to see that the run of liquidation, which brought things to such a discouraging pass last week, does not again make unrestrained headway. The upturn, when it did come, however, gained momentum rapidly and many issues closed showing advances of from 2 to 5 points from their lows of the day.

Pluggers on the bull side had some encouraging news to bolster their endeavors for the first time in a long while. Chief among several developments of a constructive nature was the declaration of the regular dividend by the board of directors of the New York Central railroad in the face of widespread rumors circulated for the last week or more that the rate was to be cut. There was some nourishment for the uplifters, too, in the size of the decline in unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation as of May 30 and then, too, the weekly carloading figures made a moderate favorable impression after allowance for the holiday interruption.

Some Utilities Benefit.

Furthermore, some of the utilities were able to benefit materially from the weekly figures on electric power output during the week ended June 6, showing an increase in the total for the Atlantic seaboard division of about 4½ per cent over the same week of 1930. Lastly the resumed

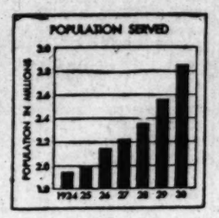
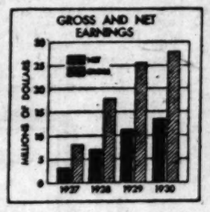
AMERICAN COMMONWEALTHS POWER SYSTEM

Advantages of Diversification

THESE charts — so sharply contrasting the chart of general business during this period of recession and readjustment—testify eloquently to the advantages of widely diversified operations in an essential field of industry.



Moreover, they show how the position of the American Commonwealths Power System has been protected by the strategic location of the properties in economically stabilized areas which have been less subject to drastic deflation than that of the country as a whole.



The annual report of the American Commonwealths Power System, just issued, is in general a record of impressive gains. In particular, the following may be noted:

Increased Sales: Sales of electricity in the System during the fiscal year ended December 31, 1930, were 161,861,018 k.w.h. as against 148,377,475 k.w.h. for the previous year. Sales of manufactured gas were 12,969,868,000 cubic feet as against 12,844,166,000 cubic feet for a corresponding period a year ago. This gain appears all the more impressive in view of curtailed industrial consumption.

Increased Revenues: Gross Revenues were greater by $2,404,383.41 and Net Earnings (excluding those from its Canadian properties) revealed the more than proportionate increase of $2,095,846.07, reflecting greatly enhanced operating efficiency.

More Customers: The number of customers—domestic and industrial—served by the System at the close of the fiscal year numbered 460,371.

New Construction: During the year over $7,600,000 was expended for new electric and gas facilities to keep pace with the growing demand for both gas and electricity in the territories served.

New Investors: As of the end of the fiscal year the stockholders of the American Commonwealths Power Corporation and affiliated companies exceeded 36,000, representative of every State of the Union and many foreign countries.

American Commonwealths Power System has, in four years, grown into one of the important utility systems of the North American continent. The System now serves a population of over 2,850,000 in 522 communities in 26 American states and in 3 rapidly growing provinces of Canada. At the close of 1930 total assets exceeded $200,000,000.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today: Cattle, 6,000; hogs, 21,000; sheep, 12,000.

Hogs strengthened up after a steady to 10c lower opening yesterday and finished a shade above the general selling the previous day and at the highest point in 15 days. Fat lambs met better demand and some sales were stronger, but quotations are still $1.25@1.50 under the best time last week. Cattle ruled steady to 25c lower when supplies exceeded immediate requirements of the trade.

There was a scramble for hogs soon after the start and only occasional loads showed the early decline. The general average for the whole day was unchanged at $6.20, while the extreme top showed 5c advance at $6.60. Prevailing hog quotations are 40@55c above the low day, May 28, when the top was $6.20 and the general average only $5.75.

Few of the 4,000 left at the close yesterday were being offered for sale. Small packers and city butchers bought freely at the late strength and some orders arriving on the market a little before noon had to go over unfilled due to the late shortage.

September Hogs Advance.

Light weight hogs for September delivery advanced to $7.25 on yesterday's futures market. They were contracted for delivery during the first half of that month. This is the highest price paid for September contracts in three weeks. Bids for mediums for September delivery were raised to $7.30, but $7.25 was the lowest offer, July and August hogs were bid $6.40@6.50. On the "to arrive" market, light weights for today's delivery were bid $6.50.

Considerable haggling over prices slowed down trading in the cattle yards yesterday and many loads went into the afternoon session with buyers and sellers apart in their views as to the value of many of the medium and weighty beeves late in the day. Fat baby beef steers were not plentiful and showed the least weakness.

Most top kinds cleared during the first few rounds under fair eastern competition. Fancy 960@1,125 lb averages topped the list at $8.75, while best 1,400 lb cattle stopped at $8.25. Cows and heifers were slow and weak to 25c lower. Calves remained steady. Stockers and feeders were scarce and unchanged.

Idaho Lambs Reach $9.10.

Idaho range lambs sold at $9.00@9.10 on yesterday's session, while strong weight natives were sorted at $9.00 and below, packers taking many of the best around $8.75, with buck lambs rejected at the usual $1.00 discount. Sheep receipts continued to drop off, but are holding fully up to normal for this season and some of the leading centers report larger totals than a year ago. Aged sheep and yearlings held almost steady yesterday, but they are slow sellers when lacking a little in quality.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 6,000 cattle, 21,000 hogs and 12,000 sheep, against 7,201 cattle, 22,656 hogs and 15,978 sheep, the previous Thursday and 6,249 cattle, 18,867 hogs and 11,647 sheep a year ago.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was unchanged today, but there was a moderate inquiry at the 3.95c duty paid level, and the day's business reached fairly large proportions.

Despite the steadiness of the wet market, raw futures were easier, closing at a net loss of 3 to 5 points. Approximate sales, 50,000 tons. Prices follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Net chge.
July	1.24	1.24	1.21	1.21	1.21
September	1.32	1.32	1.28	1.28	1.28

Refined was unchanged at 4.65c for fine granulated.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Bleachable closed unchanged to 2 points higher today. The only business was an exchange of 300 July for 300 September at 25 points difference. The market was nominally steady with the demand of cotton and the bullish private crop estimate. Lard was featureless, while the big receipts of grain was offset by the cessation of stocks. Prime crude, f.o.b. mills, nominal. Prime summer yellow, nominal. Oleo oil, nominal. Cottonseed oils closed as follows: Spot, 8.75c; July and Sept., 8.35c; Dec., 8.35c; Jan., 8.30c. Prime Summer yellow contracts were perfected, close as follows: Spot, July, 4.70c; Sept., 5.05c; Dec., 6.35c; and Jan., 6.30c.

WHEAT DECLINES DESPITE REPORTS OF CROP DAMAGE

Prices Drop Back After Early Advance.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

No more practical demonstration of the lack of speculative interest in the wheat market was possible than that given yesterday when, prices dropped back after an early bulge of around 1½c as the result of the most sensational official confirmation of crop damage at this season of the year in the history of the trade. With the exception of the opening, when overnight shorts and sellers of offers were on the buying side, the trade was light, and toward the last a selling movement was under way on reports of scattered showers in Saskatchewan which has been without relief heretofore.

Prices dropped 1⅝@2c from the early top, with the December leading and the finish was unchanged to ⅛c lower, with the July closing at 57½c to 57⅝c; September, 57⅛c, and December, 60¼c to 61c. June wheat, in which there is little interest, soared early to 73c, or 5¾c over Tuesday's close, but reacted to 70c at the last, gaining 2¾c for the day.

Winnipeg Closes Easy.

The Winnipeg market reflected the action of Chicago and closed unchanged to ⅛c lower, with July at 65¾c. Liverpool failed to enthuse over the possible small spring wheat crop in North America and was up only ⅛@⅝d for the day, with July finishing at 63¾c.

Crop reports from Saskatchewan were probably the most sensational ever received so early in the season, and came from both trade and other sources. Crop observers Geo. M. Le Count and H. C. Donovan, who were in the southern part of the province, wired they had never seen such a situation. In the Regina territory fully 50 per cent of the acreage was reported by Donovan as beyond recovery even with rains, and he estimated around 10,000,000 acres in the prairie provinces were in bad shape. Le Count wire fields were practically bare between Portal and Regina.

A leading Canadian financial interest with 80 branches estimated that there were 12,000,000 acres in wheat in Saskatchewan and only half a crop was possible on about 50 per cent of the total. Official reports showed that the rainfall up to 7 a. m. Wednesday had been confined largely to Alberta, but during the day there were showers in Saskatchewan. A period of fair weather, however, is expected to follow, and messages late in the day claimed the big producing area in the latter province did not receive any moisture of consequence.

Southwest Hedges Wheat.

A fair run of hedging sales in the September and December deliveries of wheat was reported, with the government weekly crop report claiming that harvesting was under way in southern Oklahoma and would probably start in Kansas within a few days. A bullish construction was placed on the detailed Kansas government report, but it failed to bring in any buying of consequence. Export demand at the seaboard was fair, with sales of 800,000 bu estimated in all positions, including a good business in old crop hard winters to the United Kingdom. Omaha reported exporters were bidding freely for new crop winters there.

Corn prices held within a range of ¾c, and advanced early with wheat, only to weaken with that grain later and close unchanged to ¼c lower. July finished at 55¾c to 56c; September, 52½c, and December, 45⅝c to 46c. Trade was mainly of a local character, with the pit element disposed to keep close to shore. Shipping sales aggregated 79,000 bu, with the basis in the sample market little changed.

Expect Small Rye Crop.

Selling of rye against purchases of wheat to close spreads had a little effect on the market early, but the aggregate trade was small. The close was ⅛@⅝c higher with July, 36¾c; September, 38¼c, and December, 41½c. The Minneapolis trade is looking for a small rye crop in North Dakota this year, with reports claiming that many fields in the Devils Lake area were being plowed up or cut for hay, and the same condition was said to exist at numerous other sections of the state. There was some disposition to regard the government estimate as too high.

Hedging sales were in evidence in oats while cash interests bought, but the finish was ⅛@⅜c lower in sympathy with corn. July closed at 26¼c; September, 26¼c, and December, 29c.

IOWA CORN CROP MIXED

"Despite the heavy rains over most of Iowa during the last ten days, northwest Iowa counties still remain in serious need of moisture," says the Iowa weekly weather crop report. "Northwest counties have had barely sufficient moisture to keep crops alive and late corn, not yet well established, is suffering for rain. Generous and timely rains are seriously needed.

BUTTER PRICES STEADY

Heavier receipts at the two principal markets resulted in reduced butter prices at the opening on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, the lower prices attracting some support toward the close. Despite heavier receipts in the east, eggs opened unchanged, later selling off when larger arrivals appeared in the local market, but prices firmed up somewhat on more favorable storage news. Potato trading was slow with prices unchanged. Butter closed unchanged, and eggs ½c lower. June butter closed ½c lower. Sales: Butter, 59 cars; eggs, 81 cars; potatoes, 4 cars. Deliveries: Butter, 7 cars; eggs, 1 car. Prices follow:

AS CABIN OF PICCARD'S BALLOON APPEARED ON GLACIER AFTER LANDING FROM RECORD FLIGHT. The sphere in which Prof. Auguste Piccard and his companion, Dr. Charles Kipfer, mounted ten miles to the stratosphere, being dismantled on the big Gurgl Ferner glacier in the Austrian Tyrol. It is constructed of an alloy of aluminum and the air being renewed by two filters.
